Falling a victim of a paralytic stroke while attending the ceremony of unveiling monuments to the memory of six of his late brethren in the Woodmen of the World, was the fate which befell Edwin Hake last Sunday afternoon. He was stricken while on the march to the cemetery and almost within a stone's throw of his own home, and was taken home by his brethren, who assisted in caring for him until his death, which came at four o'clock Tuesday morning. Mr. Hake was born in Grosseckent, Oldenburg, Germany, March 29, 1856, and came to America in 1874, settling in this county. Eight years ago he moved to Columbus with his family. He was married March 15, 1889, and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Dora, aged twelve years. During his life in Columbus he has been employed as a section hand on the Union Pacific. For several months his health had been failing, but no alarm was felt for his condition. Sunday, just before starting to attend the exercises, he had eaten a very hearty dinner, but complained that he was not feeling well as he should. In addition to his wife and daughter, he leaves three brothers, Henry, Herman and Willis Hake, all of this county. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, at 1:30 from the home, with services at the German Reform church at two o'clock. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World, and also of the Sons of Herman.

At a business and social meeting of the Epworth League last Wednesday evening, it was voted to accept the offer of J. E. Erskine of the use of three acres of land until such time as they shall be able to pay for a pipe organ from the products of the land. The president was empowered to appoint a committee of five, to be known as the pipe organ farm committee, to handle the business of the undertaking. The land is now in wheat, and the committee proposes to sow alfalfa next fall. This assures to the young people a steady income, which would in a few years pay for an organ. In addition to this enterprise, however, the young people propose to supplement to this income by lectures, socials and suppers, for this they appeal to the public for a liberal patronage for the laudable purpose undertaken.

The Tribune-Journal wishes to correct a mistake occurring in the Ford advertisement for Max Gotberg in last week's issue. Through an oversight we quoted the price of the Model touring car as $740, Model T roadster $640 and the town car $950, all F. O. B. Detroit. These prices are correct but the advertisement should have read F. O. B. Columbus instead of Detroit. This reduces the price $50 on each car, from what was represented in the advertisement.

The Woodmen of the World formally unveiled monuments over the graves of six of their deceased members last Sunday. The ceremony had been scheduled to take place two weeks previously, but owing to inclement weather it was twice postponed. A sad feature of the exercises was that Edwin Hake, one of the members, was stricken with a fatal attack of paralysis while the members were marching to the cemetery. The principal address of the day was made by Edgar Howard, who with C. J. Garlow as Consul Commander, had charge of the exercises. The services at the cemetery were held at the grave of the late Adolph Jaeggli. A good sized crowd attended the services, which were beautiful and impressive.

From the present outlook it would seem that Columbus is going to have a bowling league for the coming season that will far surpass anything of the kind even before attempted in this or any of the neighboring cities. Five teams have been picked, the schedule for local games arranged, and every day one can see the members of the different teams practicing up in order to be in trim when the season opens on November 3. Beside the local games, arrangements are being made for several matches with picked teams from Omaha, Fremont and other cities. The players representing this city will be picked from the highest rollers in the five local teams. In addition to painting and entirely redecorating the alleys, Manager Whitcomb has made several material improvements in the condition of the equipment. The alleys have all been scraped down, polished and revarnished. New pins and balls have been purchased and nothing left undone to make the alleys the very finest in the state. The teams comprising the league follow: Novell's Tramps; F. Novell, Fred Hutzler, Ed Branigan, A. Drake, M. S. Binney; Palmer's Colots; R. S. Palmer, G. J. Hagel, E. Bergman, T. Kaufmann, Ed. Graf; Nichols' Bird Dogs; Jap Nichols, Fred Sawyer, T. Burrows, W. Boettcher.

—Eaton; Kavanaugh's Giants; Ed Kavanaugh, Jos. Gutzmer, Christy Gass, E. Williams, F. Scott; Porter's Kids; Cliff Galley, Jap Whaley, Henry Porter, C. Hagel, R. Hall.

The Plymouth
BRIGHT FINISH
THIS attractive design has been specially prepared to meet the insistent demands for a flatware pattern to be used with the Gorham Plymouth Line of Dinner and Tea Ware, which has proved so popular.

The rich effect of the square edge, the simplicity of outline and refinement of decoration have been so successfully combined that the result is a pattern which not only harmonizes perfectly with the Plymouth Line of Dinner Ware, but is appropriate for use with any other Colonial or Old English bright finish ware.

A radical departure has been made in the bowls of the fancy pieces which, while in accord with the general spirit of the design, affords a most attractive novelty in construction and appearance.

In addition to the spoons and forks a complete assortment of fancy pieces is included.
