

Relieves Backache Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.
"I had my back hurt in the War and in San Francisco two years ago. I was in a street car in the same place. I tried all kinds of drugs without success. Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application caused instant relief, and now I can do a little station work. I am almost well."

The Sparrow—It looks very nice, but I've only taken a bird's-eye view of it.

The Universal Franchise.
A small number of men sympathetic took part in the suffrage parade in New York city, among them several members of the Faculty of Teachers' college. One of these professors had the honor of leading the male contingent and of carrying a banner.

"Did you notice," he asked a friend afterward, "what the inscription was on that banner they gave me to carry?"

"No," replied his friend, "you carried it as if you were afraid of one word deeper it."

"I read," chuckled the professor, "The men vote—say not we!"—Success Magazine.

Aerial Scout Work.
As an example of what German military airmen are already able to do, the performance of Lieutenant Mackenthin recently is cited. In a space of 35 minutes Lieutenant Mackenthin, who was acting for the Red force, rose and flew along the enemy's front and was back on the ground at his headquarters ready to report. To obtain the same results would have taken a strong force of cavalry four hours.

Where It Belonged.
"Where are you going?"
"To fetch some water, sort."
"What, in those disreputable trousers?"
"No, sort, in this 'ere pail."—London Opinion.

Glad to Get Rid of Her.
"Did she get her divorce?"
"Oh, yes, but she was terribly disappointed in a way. You know he didn't cost her it."

FROM TEXAS
Some Coffee Facts from the Lone Star State.

From a beautiful farm down in Texas, where gushing springs unite to form babbling brooks that wind their sparkling way through dainty meads, comes a note of gratitude for delivery from the coffee habit.

"When my baby boy came to me five years ago, I began to drink Postum, having a feeling that it would be better for him and me than the old kind of drug-laden coffee. I was not disappointed in it, for it enabled me, a small, delicate woman, to nurse a bounding, healthy baby 14 months."

"I have since continued the use of Postum for I have grown fond of it, and have discovered to my joy that it has entirely relieved me of a bilious habit which used to prostrate me two or three times a year, causing much discomfort to my family and suffering to myself."

"My brother-in-law was cured of chronic constipation by leaving off coffee and using Postum. He has become even more fond of it than he was of the old coffee."

"In fact, the entire family, from the latest arrival to a 7-year-old who always calls for his 'pote' first thing in the morning, up to the head of the house, think there is no drink so good or so wholesome as Postum. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The late corn crop is turning out much better than was expected, according to Sidney Smith, head of the agricultural department of Union college. On the college farm of a hundred acres, thirty acres were planted to corn. The early crop did not do well and is being cut up for silo but that which was planted late is turning out well. Fifteen acres of it will yield fifty bushels to the acre.

The farmers generally in this part of the state, says a Lexington dispatch, are slated over the conditions prevailing. Numerous rains have fallen in July, August and September, and between three and four inches have fallen so far in October. About the first of July when the heat waves struck the country, many farmers were wondering where they would find enough food for their stock the coming winter. Since then, miller, cane fodder, etc., was planted and the crops are enormous.

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Look out for roup.

Give the cows salt.

Mules are easily raised.

Take care of your surplus garden crops.

A small fat sheep will pay better than a large poor one.

One pound hay and one pound grain per day per hundred weight.

Legumes should be included in every well planned rotation.

Sometimes the best, live stock in the bunch are none too good.

When two years old the male should be used at light work.

Remember that a blow in the eye is very liable to blind the horse.

Corn fodder, either shredded or whole, is a splendid feed for horses.

The corn shredder is quite as valuable as the corn binder for the stockman.

Storing cauliflower is not feasible for growers at least, except in cold weather.

Second-crop alfalfa is fine for the pigs, but if pastured too closely it will soon run out.

The time of watering celery, with any kind of a sprinkling device, is an important matter.

New corn should be fed carefully, as fed in large quantities, it is apt to scour the birds.

Government whitewash will preserve the wood of old buildings more cheaply than paint.

According to conservative reports the Union Setback is much shorter this year than last year.

The foal will soon learn to drink from a pail, if allowed to suck the attendant's fingers at first.

If farm manure is used judiciously it will effect a permanent improvement in the yield of wheat.

Onions should be stored in a dry, cool, building where the air will circulate freely amongst them.

If the foreign demand is as great this year for apples as last the better grades will bring as much.

Cutting corn at so much per shock is nearly a hind of the past, since the advent of the corn binder.

If a horse has been accustomed to drinking before eating, then it is well to let the custom be continued.

The cost of harvesting an acre of corn will vary with the locality and amount of help that must be hired.

The farmer who so manages that he has something to sell the year around is never a complaining farmer.

Watch the hired man a bit and see that he is not continually keeping the horses and making their mouths sore.

For making plum puddings, duck eggs are more economical than those of other fowls, being both larger and richer.

Cleanliness should be the motto of every feeder. Sheep, above all other animals, detest filth and unsanitary yards.

If there isn't a good bull in your neighborhood, why not unite with a few good neighbors for the purchase of one?

Sheep quarters should be dry, clean and well kept. Also supplied with straw and litter and changed frequently.

Do you know of anything on the farm that will run into money faster than hogs when around 6 or 7 cents per pound?

Save the timothy fields for a seed crop next year and increase them in size and number while present prices are maintained.

If your ewe aborts, take her at once from the lambing shed, burn litter, bedding, etc., and thoroughly disinfect the premises.

It is important that the ewes be got in good thrifty condition before breeding time, for on this condition largely depends the successful production of the coming crop of lambs.

In order to judge whether an animal is profitable or not, it is necessary to know the amount of milk she gives and the percentage of fat it contains.

The best stock is the stock that is never permitted to stop growing. Feed the calves so that their development will be natural from birth to maturity.

A capon is a castrated male bird. After being castrated the bird becomes more quiet, is more readily fattened, and the plumage becomes heavy and glossy.

Whenever any farm animal shows a disposition to eat wood, earth and other unnatural things, a change in feed is necessary. In most cases too much corn is being fed.

When to pick the peaches is an important question. You must not wait until the fruit is soft and you must not pick the peaches until they are nearly ripe and well colored.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

There are two ways to tell if you have weak kidneys. The first is through pains in the back. The second by examining the kidney secretions. If you suspect your kidneys, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once.

E. R. Wilson, Emmetsburg, Iowa, says: "I was completely laid up with kidney complaint and inflammatory rheumatism. My limbs and feet were terribly swollen and so inflamed I could not walk for days. After doctors had failed to help me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured me so completely that I have not had the slightest trouble since."

PIMPLES ON FACE 3 YEARS

"I was troubled with acne for three long years. My face was the only part affected, but it caused great disfigurement, also suffering and loss of sleep. At first there appeared red, hard pimples which later contained white matter. I suffered a great deal caused by the itching. I was in a state of perplexity when walking the streets or anywhere before the public."

"I used pills and other remedies but they failed completely. I thought of giving up when nothing would help, but something told me to try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a Cuticura Booklet which I read carefully. Then I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and by following the directions I was relieved in a few days. I used Cuticura Soap for washing my face, and applied the Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. This treatment brought marvelous results so I continued with it for a few weeks and was cured completely. I can truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are not only all, but more than they claim to be." (Signed) G. Baumel, 1915 W. 26th Place, Chicago, Ill., May 28, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page booklet, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 28 K, Boston.

To Farm on Copper Lands.
A party of Houghton capitalists have under consideration the establishment at a point on the Copper Range railroad south of Houghton of a 600-acre experimental farm. The lands have already been secured, but are at present heavily timbered.

Steps will be taken during the coming winter to cut the timber, and early next spring the stumps will be removed and the land made ready for cultivation. It is hardly probable that crops will be planted before 1913, but the enterprise when established will prove one of the biggest from an agricultural standpoint in the copper country.—Michigan Manufacturer.

Some Shakespearean Statistics.
A Shakespearean enthusiast with a turn for statistics has discovered that the plays contain 106,007 lines and 114,780 words. The longest part is that of Hamlet. The part with the longest word in it is that of Costard in "Love's Labor Lost," who tells Moth that he is "not so long by the head as honorificabilitudinitatibus."

THE ANGLER'S BAIT.

A well-known angler at Peterborough having obtained a wasp's nest containing a large number of grubs, placed the nest in the kitchen oven to kill the grubs so that he could use them for bait.

The next morning he went to get the grubs, but on opening the oven door a swarm of wasps flew out. The oven was not hot enough to kill the grubs, but was sufficiently warm to hatch them.—London Daily Mail.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING

Escape All Over Baby's Body.
"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema and at sixteen months of age his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a servit nostrum as a substitute for this scientific medicine of known composition, not even though the biggest dealer may thereby make a little higher profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.
