

developed administrative abilities of the very highest order. He labored unceasingly among the people, and record which he made there is one of which he and the nation may well be proud.

His death was, undoubtedly, hastened not only by the exposure and hardships of his army life and the wounds he received in many battles in which he participated, but by the strain upon his system in bringing order out of chaos in Porto Rico.

Mrs. Henry rendered noble service in that island in establishing schools and laying the foundation for charitable work which has been successfully continued since she left the island, and it was largely through her efforts that the country was aroused to the needs of the people there.

Mrs. Henry is entitled, by law, to a pension of $30.00 a month. Many of the friends of the General have thought that the most fitting testimonial to his memory would be a fund to provide a modest income for his widow, which would place her beyond all need or want for the rest of her life.

The facts of his life are known to a large number of gentlemen who have formed themselves into a committee for the purpose of taking charge of the work incident to raising and investing a fund, from which an income may be derived for Mrs. Henry's benefit.

The officers of that committee are Hon. Cornelius N. Bliss, Chairman; Major A. W. Conover, of the Seventh Regiment, Vice-Chairman; A. S. Frissell, President of the Fifth Avenue Bank, Treasurer; William R. Corwine, of the Merchants' Association, Secretary.
