

HIDEOUS OUTRAGE.

William Jennings Bryan has bought the National Watchman for $5. Oh, friends, how long shall we stand supinely up or sit supinely down while the greedy money oligarchy of the country buys up and combines our enterprises, cripples and paralyzes our industries and drives men and women to starvation by investing large accumulations of ill-gotten wealth in plants for the mere privilege of gratifying their devilish hatred to humanity by shutting them up and making them non-productive? When men with capital buy a plant they shut it up, and throw its operatives gnashing their teeth out onto a cold and comfortless world. Let us arise in the majesty of an outraged people and put a stop to this. Let us see to it that men who have no capital buy the plants, project the railroads, capitalize the enterprises. Don't you see how simple this is, and how nicely it will work? Then there will be no conflicts between labor and capital, then will come the millennial rest to overstrained jaws and overworked wind jammers.—York Republican.

THE CONSERVATIVE.

FARM, STOCK AND HOME is not a cheaply gotten up, catch-penny affair. It is an old established journal with a reputation for reliability and value second to none, with a circulation of nearly 60,000. Should be in the hands of every farmer, and we make it easy to get it there. Do your part and you will not regret it. Farming to-day is a learned profession, and the best informed man is the one whose crops are most bountiful in years of plenty, and fair in years of general failure.
