

CONFEDERATE MONEY IN CUBA.

It has just leaked out that our troopers from the south expended Confederate notes freely in Cuba during the Spanish-American war. This trick was originated by young men of the southern states, in whose homes sundry trunkfuls of "Jeff Davis's money" had been lying idle for some thirty-three years. The Cubans were easy victims.

THE DIGNITY OF THE SENATE.

Senator Pettus solemnly arose as if to address the senate. His tall and venerable form towered above his colleagues. The senate became silent, waiting for the words of wisdom which should fall from his lips. With every eye upon him, Mr. Pettus reached around into the tail pocket of his long frock coat and drew forth a plug of tobacco. Then he took a chew and sat down without saying a word.—Washington Post.

UNCLE SAM IS RELENTLESS.

An illustration of the relentlessness with which the United States government pursues a man who violates its laws is the long chase after Geo. Irons, alleged to be a leader of a gang of western postoffice robbers, by Inspector D. W. Peters, of the Kansas City division of postoffice inspectors.

After trailing his man from the Mississippi to the Pacific coast, and devoting his entire time to it for thirteen months, Peters has captured him and brought him back to Kansas, where he is wanted on the specific charge of robbing a postoffice at Salina, February 18, 1901.—Atchison Globe.
