 Not Easily Deceived.
 A young married couple are always interesting, chiefly because they try to conceal the fact that they are young and married. Generally they fool their men acquaintances, but they seldom deceive a clever woman.
 A bride and groom tried the old trick recently at a summer resort, but they met a woman who was wiser than they.
 This woman and the bride were chatting on the hotel veranda, when the former suddenly asked:
 "How long have you been married?"
 "Three years," promptly replied the bride.
 The clever woman looked at the bride's hand.
 "How is it, then," she said, "that you wear a ring the design of which is barely a year old?"
 Of course, that settled it, and the next day everybody congratulated the young couple on their recent marriage. —New York Mail and Express.
