THE Y. M. C. A. LECTURE COURSE.
The city Y. M. C. A. is offering this fall an exceedingly good entertainment course.
It will embrace the best talent that is obtainable. Among the attractions will be the Whitney Mockeridge Grand Concert Co., who are well and favorably known all over the country. This concert will take place October 25. Other features will be:
Nov. 5, Prof. John B. De Motte, A. M., Ph. D., M. D., a wonderful illustrated lecture on "The Harp of the Senses."
Nov. 22, Mr. George Kennan, the noted traveler-writer, in "The Siberian Convict Mines."
Dec. 16, Leland T. Powers, the great impersonator, in "David Garrick."
Jan. 18, Chicago Symphony Orchestra 48 members, 4 soloists, the strongest organization of its kind that travels, matinee and evening.
Jan. 30, F. Hopkinson Smith, artist, author, reader, lecturer, story teller; "Old Plantation Days."
Feb. 10, President Russell H. Conwell, pastor of the largest Baptist church on this continent, in "Acres of Diamonds."
Mar. 6, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton university; "Relation of Life and Literature in the 19th Century."
Mar. 21, The Katharine Ridgeway Concert Company, high grade, but popular.
Apr. 1, The Listemann String Quartette, assisted by Mr. Henry P. Eames, pianist, of Lincoln, and Miss Helen Buckley, prima donna, soprano; a superb musical program.
With such an array of talent the price of the course ticket, one dollar for all, is ridiculously small. The holder of each and every ticket will have a seat. The course will be given in the Oliver theatre and the sale of tickets is absolutely limited to its actual seating capacity. Bear this in mind.
For an additional payment of 10, 15 or 20 cents per entertainment seats can be reserved in the best part of the house, the price varying with the location. Seats for the whole course may be reserved at one time, viz, October 15, beginning at 9 a. m., at the Oliver box office.
This is something every student should take advantage of. The course is the best ever offered by the Y. M. C. A. and their courses have always been of the highest class.
