The Daily Nebraskan is being sent to all subscribers on the old Nebraskan-Hesperian list. Those subscribers to the Nebraskan-Hesperian who do not desire the Daily will please notify the manager by card as soon as possible. Where no notification is received it is understood that the subscriber wishes the paper to continue.

The effect of a little judicious rooting on a team was noticeable in yesterday's game with the Medics. Although nothing but a practice game, the encouragement offered by the crowd at one or two points caused the team to "brace up" wonderfully. A little more of the same thing is all that is needed.

The rapid progress of the band during the last few days is of hopeful portent. Nebraska ought to be able to take a purely University band with her on the Minnesota trip. It looks now as though she would be able to do this. Some provision ought to be made for paying the expenses of the players. A popular subscription among the students ought to be taken if no other provision can be made. It has been said that the game without the band would be like a battle without guns. Nebraska must make a good showing.

In a recent letter, O. P. McElmeel, a former Lincoln boy who is at present manager of the Minnesota Daily, says:

"Allow me to congratulate the managers and directors of the Daily Nebraskan upon the first appearance of a daily newspaper in the University of Nebraska. It was my good fortune at a former time to live in Lincoln and to know much of Nebraska University and I came very warmly to admire the progressive spirit characteristic of the faculty and students of that really great institution. The fact of the establishment of a daily paper is proof that the same spirit still exists. We most heartily welcome the Nebraskan to our exchange table and shall be pleased to welcome the entire University of Nebraska, faculty, alumni and students, to Minneapolis on October 12."

The attendance at the rooting rally last night is encouraging, but it might easily be improved on. If Nebraska is to win a week from Saturday the side lines must do their share. Minnesota will have thousands of partisans on the bleachers all ready and willing to cheer their team on to victory. Nebraska must counteract the effect this will have on the outcome of the game. In this one point Nebraska may win or lose the game. Students should realize that this is an important matter. Nebraska's position in western athletics will depend on her showing at Minneapolis. Her showing there will depend to a great extent on the work done by her rooters. This fact ought to be indelibly impressed on the mind of every student.

If you have any college spirit, if you have any interest in the outcome of the game, if the position your University is to occupy among the universities of the west, get out this afternoon and do what you honestly owe your alma mater to do, help win the Minnesota game.

COACH YOST'S RECORD.

Michigan is evidently pleased with the work done by Coach Yost. Mr. Yost's year at the University was one of the most successful years of Nebraska football. The Michigan Daily News speaks as follows of Mr. Yost's record:

"It is a significant fact that the teams coached by Mr. Yost have scored in all 1,284 points upon opposing teams, and have had 89 points scored against them, and that of the last thirty-four games played, teams under his coaching have lost but one. This must not lead Michigan to expect too much of him. The element of material upon which to work must be considered. The element of the fighting qualities of the men is also important. If the men who are out for the team combine weight and willingness there is every reason to expect that Mr. Yost's record will not suffer during the Michigan football season."

HARVARD CANE RUSH.

The cane rush between the freshmen and sophomore classes took place the other day at Harvard. The following graphic description was sent to one of the Chicago papers:

"Bloody noses, swollen eyes, and white faces were all seen at Harvard tonight.

"It was 'bloody Monday' and the 1,000 or more students who took part in it were careful to make it one of the bloodiest that have occurred in the history of Harvard. For two hours under the elms of Hollis and Stoughton the waving, seething, boiling mass of men staggered to and fro, fighting it out along the lines their fathers fought, and bearing blow and shock without a whimper or a groan.

"White faces were seen in the front ranks, where the two forces came together like two solid walls of rock. Arms and legs and feet were all tangled in a confused mass at the bottom, while cries of anger, cries for help, and cries for the two classes helped to add to the wildness of the scene.

"The sophomores were fewer in number than the freshmen, but they used their heads to better advantage."

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR FRESHMEN.

Sophomores at Columbia University posted the following ten commandments for the incoming freshman class:

1. No pipes.
 2. No canes.
 3. No girls.
 4. No golf trousers.
 5. No prep-school insignia.
 6. Keep off the grass.
 7. Keep off the library steps.
 8. General respects to sophomores.
 9. Loud-mouthed freshmen not tolerated.
 10. No nurses allowed on the campus.
- No freshmen were on hand to resent the insults, but trouble is expected later.—Wisconsin Cardinal.

STOP DAT A PUSHIN' DAR BEHINE!
Ah in a moke from Louisiana,
An' mah skin's as black as crow's;
Mah honey's Mary Ann,
An' ah doan' care who knows,
'S'ay, yeh ought' tuh see us gittin',
An' a gittin', an' a gittin',
As upon our bikes a ridin',
Yeh, a ridin', both a ridin',
We jes' give dem ropes de sack,
When thuh wh' 's at our back,
O stop dat a pushin' dar behine!
CHORUS.—To the tune of the notes in the border
O stop dat a pushin' dar behine!
O stop dat a pushin' dar behine!
An' ef anybody knows,
Happy niggahs I beez are doze!
