DOANE DIES EASY.

Varsity Piles up a Big Score in Two Short Halves—Team Shows up Well—Encouraging Outlook.

Nebraska won from Doane College at football on Nebraska field Saturday. Two halves of 20 and 15 minutes each were played. The final reckoning was 29 to 0, which, considering the shortness of play, was ominously gratifying. It augurs success in the Minnesota game of next Saturday.

The largest crowd ever accommodated, excepting the Thanksgiving game of last season, saw the Varsity tear through the lighter Tigers from Crete. Pennants and yells added local color, and stirred the wearers of scarlet and cream to their best. It was an enthusiastic multitude that supported the home team. It helped the play.

The team work of the Varsity was by far the best exhibited this year. The men found alarmingly strong interference, never stopping for anything. Every man was in a play. If a player tumbled he was picked up and pulled on. Many times several yards were made this way when it seemed the ball was down. In short, Nebraska played with vim and science. The men seemed to enjoy being where they were. The line punching was wonderful. The man carrying the ball always found support from behind which makes line-bucking a success. Great breaches were opened through which Nebraska halves plunged again and again for yards. Doane did not expect to win. They came up to do the best they could. The Collegians were much younger and lighter, some being mere boys. They played good ball, but mostly on the defensive. Fuller at full made several fine punts. He, Captain Fuhrer and Houston were easily the stars for Doane. Only once during the game did Doane make yards. Several times through miserable fumbles by Nebraska they got the ball, but each time were forced to kick. Never was the Varsity goal in danger. Cortelyou played a famous end. He was in every play and the way he ran punts would bring joy to a Diogenes.

Pillsbury bucked the line in "ye olden time" style, never failing to plunge on through scattering players here and there. Shedd put up a good half, but seemed a little light on his legs. By Saturday he will have gained his old form completely. Kingsbury at half surprised everybody. He played the finest game of his life. Drain at quarter handled the ball with sure aim, but mixed signals once or twice. He caught punts fine. Voss at center played steady and sure. Brew put up his usual sure game at guard, while Tobin played a veteran guard on the other side. Captain Westover and Stringer are the fastest tackles in the west and lived up to their record in Saturday's game.

Shedd at left end played well. Shedd was hurt in the first half and Bender replaced him. Benny made some startling runs and never failed to gain through line or around end.

In the second half Crandall and Bell

Completed the three light backs and things were doing. Bell went through the line like a snow plow, making yards at every plunge. Stubby made some nice runs. Nebraska need only feel the greatest encouragement at Saturday's game.

THE GAME.

Captain Westover won the toss and chose the north goal with a slight wind at his back. Stringer kicked off for twenty-five yards. Doane soon fumbled and Nebraska began a march down the field, making yards on every play. The heavy back plugged away at the line for yards every time. In five minutes Kingsbury was shoved over the line for the first touch-down. Stringer kicked an easy goal. Score, 6-0.

Doane kicked off to Nebraska's 25-yard line. The Varsity returned the ball ten yards. Down the field Nebraska started again. Shedd and Kingsbury making ten yards apiece. Then Doane took a brace and held the Varsity for downs. This was the only time during the game. Stringer punted for 25 yards and Cortelyou tackled his man so hard he dropped the ball. Cortelyou started for the goal, but was headed off. Nebraska began another march and Shedd was sent over for a touch-down. Stringer missed goal.

Doane kicked off for 35 yards and Drain returned five yards. Shedd hurt a nerve in his right arm and Bender replaced him at half. Kingsbury lost the ball to Doane on a fumble. A place kick was tried on the third down, but Stringer blocked the ball and fell on it. The march began again. Pillsbury was shoved over for the third touch-down. Stringer kicked goal. Score, 17-0. The two teams lined up and the half was ended.

In the second half Bell and Crandall were put in and two touch-downs were made. Stringer kicked both goals. Score 29-0. The half was called with the ball in Nebraska's possession on her 25-yard line.

FOOTBALL SONG.

Minnesota Game Brings out a New Production—Number of Excursionists Increasing—New Yell.

As the time for the Minnesota game approaches little else is talked of on the campus. The results of the week's work among the students has convinced those in charge that the number who will go to the game will reach close to 600. Interest around town is still at a high pitch. It was reported Saturday at the Nebraskan office that twelve street car men had announced their intention of going and that number will probably be largely increased when the time comes.

A number of students are at work on new yells and songs. The following suggestion comes from an alumni:

"Why not revive the old Harvard yell—eight quick staccato "rahs" substituting Nebraska for Harvard at the end:"

Rah-Rah!
Rah-Rah!
Rah-Rah!
Rah-Rah!
Rah-Rah!
Nebraska!

From the same source comes this song. Students would do well to practice it. Tune: Ship-ahoy.

Ne-e-bra-ska
Ne-bra-ska
Ne-e-bra-ska
Ne-bra-ska

And away goes the football team,
Up and down the football field;
You will find them where there's need,
And they're ready when the ball's in play.

Ne-e-bra-ska
Ne-bra-ska
Ne-e-bra-ska
Ne-bra-ska

To the goal goes the football team.

CHAPEL ADDRESS.

Beginning this morning Chancellor Andrews will deliver a series of four lectures on the general topic, "The Successes and Failures in the University." The lectures will be practical and on a topic which is of vital interest to all students. They should induce a much larger attendance on the part of both students and faculty.

This series is a part of the new system of chapel exercises which has been inaugurated this year. It is the intention to present some new and interesting feature each morning. From now on, the musical part of the exercises will be led by a double quartet.

JUNIOR LAWS ELECT.

At the meeting of the Junior law class held Friday morning E. M. Swain was chosen president. The class completed its organization on Thursday morning, by the adoption of a constitution. Mr. Veith was chairman of the committee reporting the document.

At none of the meetings was there the usual amount of parliamentary scrapping. Everything passed off with comparative smoothness.

The other officers elected Friday were: Miss Anstine, secretary; Frank Majors, treasurer; Mr. Smith, representative to the University senate, and Chas. E. Potts sergeant-at-arms.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL.

A game of basket ball between the young ladies of the University of Nebraska and Missouri has been arranged for. The contest will be held in the University gymnasium on the evening of November 9, after the football game with Missouri.

This game is the one of the results of a long attempt to interest the young ladies of western institutions in intercollegiate contests.

ZOOLOGICAL CLUB MEETING.

The Zoological club will meet at 8 p. m., Tuesday evening, October 8, 1901, in the Zoological library. Program: Investigations in the laboratory during the year 1900-1901.

Caroline E. Stringer—Observations on some flatworms of Nebraska.

Robert H. Wolcott—Some new data on water mites.

David C. Hilton—The development of the liver in the pig.

Visitors cordially welcome to the meetings of the club.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Inaugural and officers' programs were given at the three literary societies Friday evening.

THE UNIONS.

The Unions met for their first program since their hall was refitted and papered. Their program was as follows:

Vocal solo—Mr. Boostrom.
Inaugural—Mr. Thomas.
Story—"Walks by Night," Miss Wilkinson.

Music—Selected.
Peculiarities—Mr. Hawthorne.
Reading—Mr. Maxwell.

Vocal solo—Miss Prey.

THE PALLADIANS.

Palladian society met Friday night and enjoyed an "officers' program," the chief feature of which was an inaugural address by President L. B. Sturtevant. Geneva Bullock addressed the meeting on the subject of enthusiasm, the seeming object of her remarks being to induce the boys to scratch the slate promptly. Kipling's latest poem was read by Miss Nola Butler. The society was favored by vocal solos by Miss Grace Mussetter and Sam Anderson, and an instrumental solo by Miss Lowrie. After the program a social hour was passed in getting acquainted with visitors.

THE DELIANS.

The Delian literary society gave its inaugural program last Friday evening. The opening number, a piano solo by Miss Susie Doane, was very well received. H. M. Garrett, the newly elected president, reviewed the past year's work and outlined his plans for the present term. He spoke very encouragingly of the prospects for a strong society this year. The vocal solo by Miss Esther Prey was rendered in her pleasing style and deserved much praise. V. C. Battle expounded prophetically on Variations of Vacation and their significant signs and omens for the present year. The closing number was a vocal solo by Miss Edholm. She responded to an encore.

Chancellor Andrews returned the latter part of the week from South Dakota. While gone he delivered an address before the state university at Vermillion and one before the Farmers' Congress which was in session at Sioux Falls.
