THREE CENTS

FOOTBALL SQUAD RETURNS.

Varsity Team takes a Short Rest
Second Team Developing New Men—A Training Table
an Assured Fact.

The football team arrived home today about 1:00 o'clock over the north-western. The Varsity spent yesterday at Lake Minnetonka, sailing, fishing, hunting and boating. Professor Wyer entertained the boys at his father's home on the lake shore.

There was no practice for the first team last night. Only one team of scrubs was out but they put up a fast practice. For a new man that has never played any football Myers is putting up a very fast game at half back. The men worked steady and fast. Only a few fumbles were made and the practice was generally satisfactory to Assistant Coach Melford. Hickie is making a good showing at center. In case Koehler should be injured he will make a strong substitute. While he is inexperienced he is rapidly developing and with a year's work would uphold the average of Nebraska's centers. The practice closed with a long run of several times around the field.

Captain Westover's tackling dummy will be rigged up for practice in tackling. After a day or two's rest the men will be out again for regular practice.

No one was seriously hurt in the Minnesota game but all were more or less bruised. On account of the softness of the grounds fast play was impossible. The result was the complete turning out of the men and disheartening them generally. Kingsbury is the only one who is hurt but he will recover in time for the Omaha game next Saturday.

It is reported that the amount cleared by the athletic board from the Minnesota game was near $1,200. This will put the board in good shape financially and will insure the training table which will probably be started before the end of the week.

HOW THE NEWS OF THE GAME WAS RECEIVED.

The Daily bulletins were the only ones that pretended to keep up with the game Saturday. From three o'clock on they came in at intervals of from five to six minutes. From the office a corps of messengers hurried the bulletins to the waiting crowds in front of the Ewing Clothing Co's. windows. No time was lost. The Daily's telephone kept one man busy all the time up to six o'clock when the calls became less frequent.

From three o'clock on, eager crowds watched Ewing Bros.' show window as the bulletins came in. At times the showers would drive some to shelter but the main body shivered and watched through it all.

At the same time a crowd nearly filling the old chapel watched another bulletin from the Daily office. As soon as the footsteps of the messenger were heard on the steps a dozen men would rush for the door eager to hear the news.

For a time all were hopeful. At the end of the first half there was still enthusiasm enough to make the old chapel ring as the yells went up. But as the score mounted higher and higher and still Nebraska made no points the cheers failed to come.

When the last bulletin came in the crowd filed silently out and some one started to toll the chapel bell.

PRINCIPALS AND SUPERINTENDENTS MEETING.

The principals and superintendents of the high schools of the state will hold a meeting in Lincoln October 17 and 18. During the continuance of the session they will have the entire liberty of the University grounds. The program, as arranged, is as follows:

Thursday evening, October 17.—Lecture by Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews, "Some Points on Grading."

Friday morning, October 18.—Paper by C. G. Pearse, "How may the Superintendent Secure the Best Possible Results From His Teachers?" Discussion led by J. G. McHugh and W. M. Kern.

Paper by W. K. Fowler, "How May the Principal in a small School Best Perform the Work of Supervision?" Discussion led by J. T. McKinnon and S. E. Clark.

Paper by G. W. A. Luckey, "The Place of Normal Schools and Departments of Education in Colleges in the Professional training of Teachers."

Friday afternoon.—Paper by W. A. Clark, "The Development of a Professional Spirit among Teachers." Discussion led by A. C. Fling and C. S. Wilson.

Paper by S. H. Martin, "Justice in Work." Discussion led by Anna Tibbets and A. McMurray.

Saturday morning, October 19.—Paper by Lucy Williams, "The Mechanics of Reading."

Paper by Geo. H. Thomas, "The Intellectual Elements in Reading."

Friday evening.—Lecture by Supt. J. A. Fulmer.

Paper by H. E. Funk, "Considerations in the Adoption of Text Books." Discussion led by J. T. Latrel and C. M. Greenwood, "How much does he stand for."

Paper by L. A. Sherman, "The Emotional Elements in Reading."

The Sophomores a short time ago issued a proclamation to the Freshman, the main contents of which were that any Freshman should refrain from smoking pipes and wearing golf trousers on the campus.

Copies of the proclamation were placed on all the sidewalks leading to the University. The faculty, on seeing them, disapproved greatly because the sentiment seemed to be introductory to hazing and the language was offensive. Several prominent Sophomores were called before the disciplinary committee. On being questioned they said they were not alone to blame, that the proclamation was an action of the class. The committee decided that if these few could obtain the signatures of thirty of the class to an apology, they would be allowed to go without further punishment.—K. U. Weekly.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Annual Geneva Meeting Next Wednesday—Miss Sophia Lyons Wanted for General Secretary—The New Calendar.

The young ladies of the Y. W. C. A. will hold the annual Geneva meeting in their rooms Wednesday afternoon at 1:15. The object of the meeting will be to hear reports from the delegates to the conference at Lake Geneva. The conference was held from July 2 to 13, and the University Y. W. C. A. was represented by five delegates. They were Misses Jensen, Stuart, Clark, Boose and Case.

The programs at the conference were very instructive and valuable to those in the work. They will be reported fully so that those who did not attend may have the benefit of them. In addition to the heavier work, the recreative part of the conference will be reviewed at the meeting tomorrow.

A number of fine views of Lake Geneva and the conference have been placed in the Y. W. C. A. bulletin board. The views are especially good and show in detail the beautiful scenery about the Lake. They have been cautiously placed under cover in order to prevent their being taken by those who would use them to decorate their rooms.

The young ladies are just now in a quandary as to whom to secure for general secretary. They have recently written to Miss Sophia Lyons asking her to accept the place. Miss Lyons was field secretary of the volunteer movement last year and it is thought would be a valuable person to put in charge of the work in the University. She is not a stranger to Nebraskans as she visited the University last fall and spoke of her work in chapel. The young ladies are enthusiastic over her and hope she may be induced to come to Nebraska.

Miss Mary Miller has left the University temporarily and is at the Sanitarium, Union College for her health.

Plans for the new calendar which will be gotten out about the middle of November by the Y. W. C. A. are nearing completion. It is intended to make it a very artistic production and one that every student will want. It will be made up of either posters or of views of the University buildings. The young ladies of the Association are furnishing the drawing for it.

NOTICE TO SOPHOMORES.

All sophomores, who can play football, are requested to report upon the field during chapel, Tuesday, and daily thereafter.

U. G. Cornell, the University photographer, has recently been engaged in securing photographs of forest growths in different parts of the state. These photographs are to be used by Professor Bessy on a report on forestry in Washington.

The following from the Daily Palo Alto shows that Nebraska is not alone in her night shirt celebrations:

Last Saturday evening, to the boom of a drum, the tooting of a horn and the encouraging words of "Bill" Irwin, the annual "la robe de chambre" parade was started at Encina. Marching single file to the hall where the Robie dames were holding revelries the mass of howling, yelling and singing ghosts proceeded. Here various fantastic and awe-inspiring figures were gone through with, the Robie and Varsity yells were given, and then, singing "Good night Ladies," the merry students proceeded to Dr. Jordan's, to visit the faculty reception. After a word of commendation on the devotional appearance by Mrs. Jordan, the fellows proceeded through the quad, making strange and wierd scenes amid the arches, to the residence of Dad Moulton, who as usual, said he could not speak. From here the ghosts lock-stepped to the S. A. E. house, to help in the formal dedication, and then to the postoffice steps, where, amid soul-inspiring yells the banner of the parole was raised aloft on the flag pole.

The department of Botany has been asked by an eastern botanist to supply information in regard to the prevalence of the asparagus rust; a serious disease which has been in the state for several years. Inquiry shows it has not been as abundant this season as heretofore, probably on account of the climatic conditions.

C. E. Berkey, who represented Nebraska on the Nebraska-Missouri debate last year, has just returned to the University of Wisconsin where he has spent his vacation. Mr. Berkey went to Minneapolis to witness the game and returned to Lincoln with the crowd.

Dr. and Mrs. Clements are at present very busy on the large collection of botanical specimens which they brought from Colorado, the result of the summer's work. The total number of specimens is not far from 2,000 and it may reach 2300.

The senior laws held an election last Friday and chose Mr. Crawford president. O. O. Smith was also a candidate but could not muster enough votes. The office of Vice-President was left vacant for the the present.

Courses A and B in Chemistry are no longer offered in the University. Those who have not had the required preparatory Chemistry can take it at the High School or at the Lincoln Academy.

Wu Ting Fang, Chinese ambassador at Washington, is to address the students of the University of Michigan, on November 1, under the auspices of her Good Government Club.

Several new men are reporting for basket-ball practice. The prospects are for a team equal to the invincible quintet of two years ago.

W. C. Green, '00, is principal of the Cozad schools this year.
