THREE CENTS

SCORES WITH EASE.

Team in Excellent Shape After the Kansas Game—Cross the Field in Three Downs. Every Man Out.

Although the scrimmage practice was short last night it was snappy and fast.

The scrubs were given the ball on the Varsity's five yard line and after a series of line plunges and attempted end runs they gave the ball to their superiors who proceeded to show the Scrubs that they, too, knew a few things about foot-ball. Cortel-you was called upon and when he was downed he was about fifty yards from the line of scrimmage. Then it was Shedd's time and he was not downed until he had planted the pig skin on the Scrub's fifteen yard line. On the next lineup the mighty Pillsbury tucked the ball tightly under his arm and plunging squarely through the center set the ball behind the goal posts.

All of the Varsity were in their moleskins last night. Captain West-over was kept out of practice by a lame foot. Koehler and Kingsbury were also kept out of the scrimmage. Coaches Booth and Mellord each took their turn at center in the scrimmage practice and Eager and Bell were in at half back.

A long signal practice was held before the scrimmage, in which both sets of backs were used. The men were all in the finest of spirits and played with a dash and vigor such as is seldom seen immediately after a game. With practices such as last night's proved to be, the chances for the Haskell Indians adding another seal to their belt will be driven out of the minds of even the most skeptical. They will surely be the saddest tribe of red men that ever returned to their tepees after an unsuccessful trip on the war path.

The weather is getting too cold for the more faint hearted ones to go to foot-ball practices but a few of the more enthusiastic "profs" and students are still to be seen wrapped warmly in their overcoats ready to applaud every good play.

CADETS MUST PERSENT EX-CUSES.

An announcement to the effect that those students who are registered for drill and who wish to drop it, having served the two years required, shall report the fact to the office together with a request for permission to do so was made at drill last night.

This announcement was the only reference, direct or indirect that was made to the recent defection of cadets from the battalion. The announcement continued to the effect that those who did not so report would be placed on the records of the department as dismissed without an honorable discharge and as having unsatisfactory records. There is little change in the situation. One or two of the dissatisfied men will probably go back to their places. The majority of them, however, remain firm and declare that they are out for good.

Some of the sergeants held a conference with the Commandant yesterday.

day. He explained what was meant by the phrase "unbecoming to an officer of that rank" as used in the orders. He stated that it was meant to refer to only in a military way and it was only a military censure and not intended to refer to the character of the men.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER STATES

Some interesting statistics have just been prepared at the University Recorder's office relative to the attendance of students from other states at the University.

The statistics as far as completed refer only to new students in the college of literature, science and the arts and the industrial college. They do not include old students nor those registered in any of the special schools nor irregular students.

According to the figures South Dakota furnished 3; Virginia, 3; Colorado, 3; Illinois, 10; Indiana, 2; Iowa, 19; Kansas, 5; Michigan, 1; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 3; Montana, 2; New York, 1; Ohio, 1; Pennsylvania, 1. Of these, 25 were either college graduates or had attended college before coming to the University.

The statistics also show that Nebraska colleges and academies sent 33 regular students to the University this year. One third of this number came from the State Normal School.

PEDAGOGICAL CLUB.

The candidates for the University teachers diploma in June are considering the advisability of forming a pedagogical club.

A meeting of the candidates has been held at which the project was discussed at some length. Final action will probably be taken before long. The purpose is to increase the opportunities of the members for getting acquainted and to promote sociability among them. The members will also study the main problems which naturally present themselves.

The number of graduates who will take the teachers diploma is larger than usual, being close to forty. All the departments of the University offering subjects given in the high schools are represented by the candidates. The class is an unusually strong one, many of the members having had considerable experience in teaching.

CONVOCATION ADDRESSES.

Chancellor Andrews will address the University convocation today on the subject "Palgarism." On tomorrow he will speak on "The Election in New York." The Chancellor was present in New York City during the campaign and he will give some thoughts deduced from his experience there.

As compared with other schools, the University of California has very large Bible Study classes. The enrollment exceeds 150. The membership of the Y. M. C. A. in the institution is about 400.

President W. A. Clark of the State Normal School made a short address before the class on the History of Education yesterday.

DEBATERS MEET.

Attempt to Declare Constitution Illegal Fails No Change Made Members Must Pay Their Dues.

An attempt to reopen the fight over the membership clause of the recently adopted constitution of the debating association was promptly quelled at the meeting of the association last night.

The attempt came in the form of an appeal from the decision of the chair on the question of the legality of the action taken at the last meeting when the constitution was adopted. The point was raised that it requires two-thirds of all those present to adopt the constitution. At the last meeting the constitution was adopted by a vote of about five to two. There were a large number present who did not vote. It was claimed by the opponents of the restriction clause that the adoption was not legal. This point was raised last night but the chair ruled that the action was legal. An appeal was then taken and the decision of the chair was sustained by a vote of eleven to eleven.

This action is thought to be final by the members who have been supporting the restriction clause. A number of the opponents of the clause as it now stands also express the opinion that the decision ought to be taken as the judgment of the association and that the matter should be dropped at present at least.

There is still a chance for another fight however. One of the leaders of the anti-restriction element announced in very positive terms that at the next meeting of the association an amendment to strike out the word "male" from the membership clause would be introduced. A motion was passed last night restricting the right to vote in future meetings to those who had paid the regular membership fee. The introduction of the amendment will at least have the effect of forcing the members to pay up.

The meeting last night also chose S. C. Hawthorn representative to the University council.

McKINLEY MEMORIAL ARCH.

The following is taken from a communication received by Chancellor Andrews from Wm. T. Harris of the William McKinley National Memorial Arch Association:

"I beg to enclose herewith circulars relative to The William McKinley National Memorial Arch Association. This association has for its object the erection of a national memorial arch in honor of the late President McKinley, in the city of Washington, by national popular subscription. A list of officers and the membership of the Executive Committee will be found in the circular.

"I am requested by the Executive Committee to lay the matter before you with the hope that if the same meets your approval you will find it possible to further the cause by your personal influence and possibly by permitting the formation of a committee of students or professors who will take charge of any subscriptions or contributions that may be made. The Executive Committee think that if the purposes and conditions of this subscription are made known in your institution, many persons will be glad to contribute. Should this be the case and meet with your approval the names of all who pay something towards the cause should be carefully preserved and the list forwarded with the amount paid so that there may be preserved a complete record in Washington of all those subscribing to the cause, whether the amounts are large or small. Receipts will be sent by proper officers for the amounts in bulk."

"President McKinley's memory is enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen. But their unexampled affection demands expression in a material memorial, national in character, to be erected at the National Capital, the scene of his greatest labors and achievements. The William McKinley National Memorial Arch Association has been incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia to meet this desire by the erection of a national memorial arch in honor of President McKinley in the City of Washington, by national popular subscription."

"It is proposed to place the memorial arch preferably at the Washington approach to the Memorial Bridge across the Potomac connecting Washington with Arlington, which President McKinley earnestly desired and recommended to Congress as "a monument to American patriotism."

The above was read by Chancellor Andrews at Convocation Hour yesterday morning, and he earnestly urged the students and faculty to give to it their hearty support.

He announced that lists would be opened today giving the faculty and students the opportunity to aid in this most patriotic and worthy enterprise. He urged that when the opportunity was given every one should take it upon themselves to contribute, though the amount be ever so small. Sums amounting all the way from five cents to any larger amount will be accepted. The heartiness with which the movement is taken up in the University will be a measure of its patriotism and its love for one who has never been excelled in this world among mortals for goodness, honor, patriotism and note.

There will be no solicitation for funds but they will only be raised by popular subscription. Separate faculty and student lists will be open, and special members from the faculty and from each class will be appointed to look after the gathering together of gifts.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE BAND.

At the last band practice Prof. Wilson took steps toward perfecting the instrumentation of the band. A few men were discontinued from playing in the band because of their inability to take the part assigned them. They will be given private instruction for a time and then reinstated. Others were taken out of the section to which they belonged because of its overcrowded condition. They will probably be transferred to another section as soon as instruments can be secured.
