DATE NOT YET FILLED.

Thanksgiving Game Next Year Will Probably be Played With Northwestern — Tomorrow's Game.

Manager Cowgill returned from Chicago yesterday. While the game with Northwestern has not yet been definitely scheduled, it is likely that it will be this week. Three of the Northwestern board have given their consent and if one of the remaining four is willing the contest will come off. Coach Hollister, who is very conservative said that undoubtedly Northwestern would play their Thanksgiving game next year on Nebraska field.

Manager Cowgill deserves great praise for his bit of scheming which will probably end in the scheduling of the game. Northwestern recognizes Nebraska in the middle west class today and the only quibbling was on the price. And now it is the only thing that possibly can mar the contract. Nebraska at the present price will pay the Easterners $1500 for the game. Besides the mere pleasure of having Northwestern in Nebraska territory it means much to the Scarlet and Cream. It says that Nebraska has successfully broken into the Big Nine; it says that Iowa can no longer refuse recognition and especially when it looks decidedly like Nebraska could wallop the earth with them this year.

Iowa would not schedule the Thanksgiving Day game. But things are better. Manager Cowgill has already booked Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern and Kansas, which means four hard games for next season.

Wisconsin has made an offer to Coach Booth whom they want to fill King's place. But the good, the much admired Coach has consented to stay by Nebraska if he coaches at all next season. Wisconsin wants him for a period of several years.

The game tomorrow will be the climax of a successful season. Everyone must go. Nebraska spirit must be there in startling quantities. The Indians will hardly win but Nebraska must take no chances. Let there be on the field thousands of pennants and streamers and pandemonium of noise and Thanksgiving.

Play will commence at 2:30 o'clock sharp. The line up for Nebraska will be:

L E Shedd.
L T Kingsbury, Stringer.
L G Maloney, Hickle.
C Koehler.
R G Brew.
R T Westover.
R E Cortelyou, Johnson.
Q Drain.
L H Bell, Crandall, Cuff.
R H Bender, Eager.
F Kingsbury.

This means that Nebraska will have the strongest team she has put out since the Wisconsin game. Cortelyou who sustained a fractured ligament at practice Monday night, will be able to don the candy-striped suit and get in the game. It was feared that Cort could not play Thursday's engagement. Johnson will sub him at end as it is not probable Cort can go the whole game.

Beh will fill left half for the first time this season, giving Nebraska a trio of fast, kicking backs.

Light work was the order of the day on Nebraska field last evening. Signal practice and a few runs around the fence completed the practice. One thing is plain to any spectator. Nebraska's men are happy, jolly, frisky, like so many colts. They are not tired nor over worked. The team is as a whole in the pink of condition. Cort being the only one alling in the slightest respect.

The grand stand has been painted and the seats numbered, thus making seating quick and satisfactory. The reserved seat tickets are going very fast. They may be had at the Library, University Book Store, Co-Op, Westerman's office, Wilson and Hall's and Harley's Drug store.

The Indians will arrive in Lincoln tonight over the Burlington. They are in fine shape and ready for the game of their life. No game was played last Saturday in order that they might save their strength and battle royally. The personnel of Haskell includes several ex-Carlisle Indians. They are palyng the fastest kind of ball but Nebraska will play just a little faster.

NO THANKSGIVING RATE.

There will be no reduced railroad rates for students out of Lincoln for the Thanksgiving vacation. The only reduction that has been made is the special rate into Lincoln for the Haskell game.

The rates announced in the city papers yesterday, related to the Christmas holidays.

CHANCELLOR ANDREWS TO ADDRESS STUDENTS.

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock Chancellor Andrews will address the young men of the University in Memorial Hall, on the subject, "The Claims of the Christian Religion." The students are always glad to hear the Chancellor talk and every young man ought to hear him Sunday afternoon. It is not often that he can be secured for a Sunday meeting in Lincoln as he is busy in other places and he ought to be greeted by a large crowd. Remember the day and the hour and the place.

PRE-MEDICS MEET.

Dr. B. F. Bailey of Lincoln addressed a meeting of the Pre-medical society last night. He took as his theme the history of the development of the medical profession. He traced the rise of the science from the age of superstition through the reform period to modern methods of reform.

After the lecture the society held an election. R. W. Graybill was chosen President; E. F. Fricke, Vice President; Miss Clara Fowler, Secretary; E. B. Long, Treasurer.

The meeting was opened by a selection redereed by the Pre-medical quartet composed of Messrs Doane, Buck, Harter and Lindeman.

The University of Minnesota has a fund of $50,000 known as the Gillfillan fund, the gift of John B. Gillfillan of Minneapolis. The income of the fund will be used for the assistance of needy students.

CHAMPIONS BY DEFAULT.

Senior Football Team Claims Class Championship — Sophomores Refuse to Play Without Contested Men.

The senior football class claims the class championship for 1901 by default. This is the result of a protest made by Manager Carter of the senior team, against three players on the sophomore team on the ground that they were classed as freshmen. His action was recommended by the Registrar. The sophomores declined to play the regular game without the three "protested men."

Umpire Brew after consultation with the officials of each team awarded the class championship of 1901 to the seniors.

This action allows the seniors to retain the championship honors which they have held for four years. The seniors have never been scored against in the four years that they have held the championship.

A practice game was arranged after the class contest was called off, in which the sophomores were allowed to play the three men who were protested. Neither side scored in two fifteen minute halves. The game was hotly contested at all points. The playing was mostly done in the under-classmen's territory and twice their goal was in danger. At the end of the second half with the ball on the Sophomore's right yard line the seniors were forced because of lack of time to try a place kick which failed.

Some very pretty individual work was done on both teams. Senger, for the seniors, proved a strong ground gainer. Garrett, Nielson, Clinton and Dierks did good work in advancing the ball for the upper classmen. Raymond, Briggs and Walton were the stars for the sophomores in making yards. The line work and defense was exceptionally good on both teams.

Brew and Kingsbury of the Varsity served as umpire and referee respectively.

SENIOR LAWS CHOOSE A BOARD.

President Crawford yesterday waved the olive-branch over the two warring factions of Senior Laws. The probabilities now are that the "Laws" will have a department in the Senior annual.

Saturday the senior academics requested that a list of three fourths of the Senior laws who would support the book be obtained by Thursday. This action was taken because of the division of the law class, which seemed to indicate a continued fight over their board, in order to give the committee a basis on which to work. President Crawford circulated a list and secured the signatures of 46 laws who will support the book. This is over three fourths of the class—the number required by the senior academics.

The meeting yesterday was to elect a new board. Monday the two contesting boards resigned in order that a compromise might be effected. The chair was empowered by a motion to appoint a board of editors to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the contesting boards.

C. B. Hughes, C. E. Matson, W. R.

Heartt, A. E. Gordon and H. E. Clapp were appointed by the chair. These men will select one of their number to act as editor-in-chief of their department.

The impeachment proceedings which threatened a division of the class have been dropped. President Crawford explained his action at the meeting yesterday and the ringleaders of the anti-faction promised to stop all further action.

A committee of three was authorized by the meeting to consult with the Chancellor and Dean Reese regarding an orator for the commencement exercises. It will be announced later.

EUROPEAN FELLOWSHIP FOR WOMEN.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae is desirous of encouraging the pursuit of advanced courses of study among women graduates of colleges. It therefore proposes to devote five hundred dollars every year toward paying the expenses of some young woman who wishes to carry on her studies in a foreign country. Applications for this fellowship will be received by any member of the committee having it in charge. The candidates must be graduates of colleges belonging to the association, and applications for the year 1902-1903, must be handed in before February 1, 1902. The fellowship will be awarded only to candidates who give promise of distinction in the subjects to which they devote themselves. It will be the aim of the committee to appoint the candidate who is best fitted for the position through originality, previous training, energy, power of endurance and health. To this end they will receive applications in writing from eligible candidates, who will present, as clearly as possible, their claims to the fellowship. A competitive examination will not be held, but the bestowal of the fellowship will be based upon evidence of the candidate's ability, and of her prospect of success in her chosen line of study. Such evidence will naturally consist of (a) her college diploma; (b) testimonials as to superior ability and high character from her professors and other qualified judges; (c) satisfactory evidence of thoroughly good health; (d) a statement of the work in which she proposes to engage subsequently; (e) last, and of chief importance, examples of her scientific or literary work in the form of papers or articles, or accounts of scientific investigations which she has carried out. The fellowship will not usually be granted to those who are intending to take up the practice of any of the three learned professions, though such are not formally excluded from the competition; it will rather be bestowed upon those who are looking forward to positions as professors and teachers and to literary and scientific vocations. Preference will be given, other things being equal, to graduates of not more than five years' standing. The fellowship will in general be held for one year; but in an unusually promising case the term may be extended at the discretion of the committee.
