The University can congratulate itself on the success of the past season of football, on its most efficient athletic board, on its coach, on its manager, and on its most worthy team.

It appears that we have finally reached the sought for place among representative colleges of the country and particularly the middle west. What is more surprising, is that this has been accomplished in two years. We look back with shame to two years ago when the athletic board found it necessary to call special chapel meetings, and there beg the students for their co-operation and incidentally some cash.

Within two years this is changed and there is money and more money left with the athletic board. Two years ago there was scarcely any enthusiasm, if any at all, while today though there is far from a super abundance of it, yet it is far from lacking.

These new conditions are good for the University, first in that the students are beginning to be more patriotic and stand up for their Alma Mater; second, it brings the faculty and student body together more closely; third, it gives us a higher standing in our own state and in addition raised the University in the estimation of our rivals to the East and West.

Now that we have come to the first realization of our hopes. It is not for us to lay back and say "we have done it now, and there is no more to do," but with an enthusiasm which shall mount still higher and a love for the University more increased, there is still something to add and something to be gained.

Manager Cowgill deserves to be commended for the masterful way in which he has handled the finances of the present football season. Especial credit should be given him for the splendid diplomacy which secured for the student body the exceedingly low rates to the Minnesota and Omaha games. The rate which he succeeded in getting in the former case has probably never been equaled in football circles. This season has been the most successful one Nebraska has ever experienced and a great part of this success is due directly to Mr. Cowgill.

The lack of enthusiasm at the football rally last Wednesday was decidedly noticeable. The fact that there was no regular chairman was the cause of most of it. The squad leaders were not all in their places and the band had little backing when it struck up the songs. The Daily would suggest that hereafter a regular chairman be selected before hand by those who call the rallies. Professor Caldwell deserves praise for the manner in which he conducted things for he had nothing to start with but an audience and the band.

than it used to be. The teachings of the master were disagreed to in some cases by the Disciples, but they lived and acted as far as they could, according to what they did understand and have thus strengthened his teachings. When Jesus lived the world was morally and spiritually dead. Jesus was an innovator. He came after a period of darkness and he stands out as a rising sun after the darkest night.

"Every one should read the Bible and study it for themselves before they come to final conclusions about it. The new version should be especially read. There is nothing in science, philosophy or in literature to warrant the hypothesis that one should not believe in Christianity or believe in God and in the Christian religion."

JOE BOOMER APPOINTED TO PHILIPPINE SCHOOLS.

The many friends of J. E. Boomer will be glad to know that he has been appointed to a position as instructor in English in the department of public instruction of the Philippine Islands at a salary of $1,200 a year. Both the department and Mr. Boomer are to be congratulated.

PROFESSIONALISM BARRED FROM COLLEGES.

At the conference of faculty representatives of inter-collegiate colleges last Friday in Chicago, a step was made toward the abolishing of professionalism in college athletics. The following rule was passed:

"No student is eligible to compete on a college team who plays in so-called amateur, semi-professional or professional baseball games where gate money is charged, or where prizes, premiums or purses are offered."

The use of the word "play," the members of the committee thought would be taken to mean that the rule covered only such affairs as might happen and did not refer to any action that might have been taken by any student in the past.

It was voted to discourage as far as possible prologed absences from colleges on tours, it being the opinion of the members of the committee that it would not be advisable for teams to be gone a long time from their colleges.

Professor Waldo of Purdue college was reelected arbiter for the ensuing year.

The bicycle event was dropped from all the programs of college athletic meets in the future.

A rule was passed that the limit of four years in college athletics beyond which a student is not eligible to contest, means four years in the aggregate, and not four years on any one team.

The Juniors of Michigan recently held a big smoker.

Now that the football season with its attendant excitement has passed, the students have the opportunity of settling down into a more even and exacting course of action for the remainder of the year. It cannot but be admitted that the fall season has a tendency to make one a trifle neglectful of his or her studies. But the ending of the season will cause more personal application on the student's part and more attention to studies and class affairs.

Will Reed Dunrov, now with the Sioux City Tribune, spent Sunday visiting friends in the city. Mr Dunrov is an old University man and once wrote poetry and other things for the Nebraskan. His new book "Tumble Weeds," is just out. The first 500 copies were numbered and autographed by him while in the city.

SPEAKING OF FINE CLOTHES!

It's time for you to be looking up your heavy suit or overcoat. If you are stylish dresser, last year's overcoat or suit will not do at all. The latest thing in overcoats is the broad shoulders, long and full in the back. The coat we turn out is the noblest thing you ever saw—Oxfords, blacks, golden, brown and blues. While in suits we show the swell eastern creations in fancy Chevio's, Vicunas, etc. You have to see them. Come right along.
Suits, $7.50 to $25.00. Overcoats, $7.50 to $30.00.
