NOTICE.
Mittens, gloves, fountain pens, caps, hats, are often left and lost in reading room of the library. Students can frequently find their lost belongings by calling at the reference desk.

Some merchants pretend to be benefactors of mankind, because they sell their goods at "below cost" prices. We aim to give you a full dollar's worth of shoes for a dollar. No one can do better than that. Sanderson's.

Mr. Gibson of the Fremont high school has taken a set of Professor Swezey's instruments, for beginners in astronomy to use as models for the construction of a similar set.

The classes in General Astronomy have been plotting the form of the moon's orbit. They obtain it from observations of the moon's position and varying diameter from night to night during each month.

For Christmas Gifts

We have an especially good line of toilet sets, consisting of comb, brush and mirror. These make suitable gifts for almost any one. A line in sterling silver, at five dollars per set, we consider an excellent bargain. But a few of these are left.

You will also find the framed pictures which we are showing to be not only attractive and substantial but also extremely low in price.

Let us show you what we have for Christmas gifts.
