The musical program which will be rendered at convocation today will mark the close of a series of exercises of unusual interest. During the past two weeks practically the whole field covered by the President's message has been reviewed by someone who has made a special study of the questions dealt with. The student body has in this way been brought into touch with the most mature thought of the day. These are privileges that those in attendance at the University ought not to miss. They should be made as much a part of the daily mental exercises of students as class attendance.

This is the last issue of the Daily before vacation. Publication will be resumed on Monday, January 6 the day of the opening of school.

A number of the Y. M. C. A. boys will do some association work at their respective homes during the coming vacation. The work will be of the nature of special talks on topics of interest in their home churches.

SONG OF REVOLUTION.
If on the ocean tempest tossed
My shattered bark be wrecked and lost,
Amid the wild and raging sea,
All hope shall not depart from me:
With all my power, with steadfast will,
I'll wage a swimmer's battle still,
And, cleaving mighty waves that roar,
I'll urge my pathway toward the shore.
And if in the unequal strife
My powers succumb and fail my life,—
If whirling waves that foam and hiss
Shall whelm me in the deep abyss,—
One great, sweet thought shall serve to fill.
My heart with consolation still;
That hero-like my spirit passed,
Contending bravely to the last.
K. K. Krikorian—(Gregory.)

NEW LIGHT ON THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The Department of American History of the University of Pennsylvania has just published a book on "The Revolutionary Movement in Pennsylvania 1760-76," which was written by Charles H. Lincoln while a Senior Fellow at that University. Dr. Lincoln is now in the Library of Congress.
