NEBASKANS AT WASHINGTON.

Professor W. G. Langworthy Taylor who recently returned from Washington, D. C. where he attended the annual meeting of the American Economic Association, reports a very interesting and enjoyable trip. While in Washington he was given very gratifying reports of former Nebraska students who are now in the government service. Ray P. Teele, A. M. is now in Cheyenne, Wyoming, where he has charge of the statistical work for the department of irrigation. Mr. Teele, it was reported, would soon be given a promotion to some office in Washington.

W. B. Hunter, A. M., is at present in charge of a group of men doing work in Ithica, New York, for the Census Department. Mr. Hunter, like Mr. Teele, is doing highly satisfactory work and will, in the near future, be called to higher work in Washington.

Mr. W. P. Stearns, A. M. W. of N. is still in the employ of the Treasury Department. Professor Taylor was informed that the department was contemplating the publication of an abstract of foreign statistics and that in all probability, Dr. Stearns would be placed in charge of this important work.

Professor Taylor was highly pleased to get such favorable reports from former students of his department in the University. Numerous inquiries were made regarding Professor Caldwell Dr. Fling and Dr. Ross by national educators at the recent meeting making it apparent that they are well known among the leading educators of the United States.

The University class of the First Congregational church, under the leadership of Professor Wilson, is studying in the last twenty-seven chapters of Isaiah, the chapters which have to do with the period of the Exile. The Material is studied historically and critically and in the light which the inscription throws upon the period in question. The analysis of the Material is followed by the discussion of suggested topics. Next Sunday the subject will be—"Cyrus—His Policy and Character." In the discussion of the topic, there will be taken into consideration not only the Old Testament material, but also that furnished by the clay cylinder inscription of Cyrus and by the Nabonidos-Cyrus Chronicle.
