Announcements.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the freshman class Friday January 17th, in the old chapel. Class yell and colors will be selected. Committees will be announced to carry forward work in freshman basket ball. Every member come. B. G. Lewis, president.

A committee composed of Professors Barbour, Fling and Davis have been instructed to draw resolutions voicing the sentiment of the University Senate as to the recent Carnegie gift of $10,000,000 for a National University. The resolutions will be acted upon at a meeting of the Senate next Friday evening.

SENIORS ATTENTION.

Pictures taken after January 19, cannot be put in the Senior Book. Biographical sketches are past due. The members of the class will do the committee a great favor by completing their work without delay. Anyone having desirable material for the Senior Book may hand it to any member of the committee. F. J. KELLY, Editor.

The following notice has been sent to all Professors in the University: "Please report at the Registrar's office on or before Wednesday, January 15. The names of all students who appear to have dropped from your classes or courses without re-registration. Such students will not be registered for another semester until they have satisfied the requirements in this regard for the semester now current."

The Y. M. C. A. announces that the lock boxes will be open for assignment this morning. They are complete in every way, twelve by eight inches in size, and equipped with first class Yale locks. Rent for the semester will be thirty-five cents per box, with the addition of a fifteen cents deposit fee for one key. The deposit will be returned when the keys are returned at the end of the semester. Any parties who wish to double on box rent will have to make special arrangements with those having boxes in charge.

Wind In The Corn.

I love to lie in the prairie grass,
As the sun's noon heat is born,
And list to the lips of the dashing leaves,
As the wind blows through the corn.
For the sound of the wind is soft and sweet,
As the sigh of a child in sleep,
As soothing and calm as the drifting dark
That falls from the bluey deep.
It does not moan as it does in the pines,
Nor wail as it does on the sea,
But sings a song, faint far and low
A marvelous melody.

From Tumble Weeds.
