The Delian, Union and Palladian Literary Societies will give their annual Joint Party at Wash Hall tonight. The hall will be decorated with the university and society colors.

The annual party is the most important event of the year among the literary society circles, and it is expected about seventy couples will be present. Many resident alumni and friends have been invited. Dancing, cards, crokinole and other forms of amusement will be provided in order that there will be entertainment for all. There will also be music by the orchestra.

Mr. C. E. Teach, as chairman of the committee has given every attention to details in order to make the event enjoyable for all.

Mr. Fred Morrell will act as master of ceremonies.

Y.M.C.A. CONVENTION.

The state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Nebraska opened its sessions last night at York and will continue until Sunday night. This by far is the most important event in the Association state interests and is always largely attended.

As it includes both city and college associations the latter are represented by delegates from the colleges in Nebraska. These men prove, as a rule a good percentage of those in attendance. Special college subjects are dealt with which are always of extreme interest to those whose lives are engaged in study. By this means also, the different institutions of learning in the state are brought closer together and come in contact more, with their varying interests.

Owing to pressure of school work it is rather difficult for the students to take advantage of such opportunities. The fare to York has been made a one and one-third rate and entertainment is extended to all delegates attending. About six will leave this morning, and this evening at last sixteen more. The university's representation will not fall, probably, below twenty.

Dr. H. B. Ward who is the chairman of the state association will preside at the sessions. Papers will be presented by C. M. Mayne of the city association, and by Howard Hubbel the University association secretary. The major part of the university delegates will return early Monday morning in time to be on hand early for classes.

Besides the various clubs and student societies, there are now at Pennsylvania thirty-three Greek letter fraternities. In these are included several Medical and Dental "frats," and one Law. Four of the chapters own large and beautiful club houses opposite the campus, while a great many of the others have leased buildings in the vicinity. Most of the leased quarters, however, are not suited to club purposes. Several of the fraternities may build as soon as the terms of present leases expire. It is expected that it will not be long before the street bordering on the University campus will be lined with handsome fraternity buildings.

There are many features of fraternity life that exist at the homes of these societies at Pennsylvania which are not found elsewhere. The Chapter Houses are practically nothing more than students' club houses, where friends are welcomed and made to feel at home as such as members, and the element of secrecy and mystery usually surrounding college fraternities has become a secondary matter.

This is the time of the year to indulge yourself in the luxury of having your face treated for whatever it may need. Mrs. Davis proprietor of Palace Beautiful, 121 No. 13th, makes a specialty of face bleaching, removal of facial blemishes, and all kinds of massage treatment. These clear up and freshen the skin wonderfully. In order to have your face in good condition for the Easter hat and gown to show off, the treatments must begin immediately. You will feel nothing but regrets if you put this off or fail to have it done, you will always receive the best of treatment from Mrs. Davis.
