PLAYED IN HARD LUCK

Basket Ball Team Returns From Kansas After an Unsatisfactory Trip—Misfortunes at Every Turn.

After a somewhat unsuccessful trip though one not entirely lacking in pleasant features, the basketball team returned from Topeka, Kansas, last night. Of the three games played the match with Kansas was the only successful one. Had the team not labored under serious handicaps in each of these games, it is very probable that the results would have been quite different.

The team was unfortunate in failing to carry enough substitutes along. For this reason the business manager was obliged to play on one of the games though he was entirely out of practice. Mr. Raymond who was unable to accompany the team when it left, failed to report later as was expected. These facts together with the inability of Cortelyou, the best man on the team, to play in the last game placed the team in poor condition to play basketball.

The game with the Indians was swift and hard. The Haskell men played fast ball and were constantly in the game. Their playing was, however, characterized by roughness. The field was not as good as might be desired for such a game, there being six posts on the floor which made it very hard for those unaccustomed to it to play as swift as usual.

In the game with Kansas, Hewitt was unable to play and was therefore substituted by Manager Morrell who has played but twice during the year. Handicapped as it was in this game, the team succeeded in defeating the Jay Hawkers by a large score.

The match with Topeka resulted in a victory for that team by the score of 52 to 36. In this game, Cortelyou was compelled to retire on account of sickness. The loss of the best man on the team was a serious one for Nebraska and was without the least doubt the cause of the defeat. Cortelyou attempted to play in the first half, going into the game after having been ill all day, but was soon forced to retire. As no substitute had been taken along, time was called in order to give Mr. Morrell a chance to adorn himself with a suit and enter the game. The absence of two of the best men on the team made it a final victim to the Topekans.

Aside from the defeats and the illness of two of the players the trip was a very pleasant one. The men are free in their praise for their treatment while visiting the Indians.

They enjoyed their hospitality from Friday evening until Monday morning. On Saturday night after the game with Kansas, the Indians gave a banquet. The Nebraska and Kansas teams as well as the latter's rooters were present. The Indians had an excellent band of thirty pieces which furnished music during the banquet. A very enjoyable time was had and the trip will long be remembered.

If satisfactory arrangements can be made, Topeka will play in Lincoln in about two weeks. If a game can be arranged with the city Y M C A and the Haskell Indians, the latter team will also come in the near future.

SOPHOMORES TO PLAY HIGH SCHOOL.

One of the most interesting games of basketball that will be held among the class teams this year will be played tonight in the armory, at eight o'clock, between the sophomore and Lincoln high school teams. The sophomores have been very fortunate in their games thus far and do not intend to fall behind their record of not being beaten.

The team will be somewhat handicapped this time, however, on account of the absence of Captain McCutcheon and the lack of an opportunity to use the gymnasium for practice for the past few days. The sophomores are, nevertheless, confident that they can win from the Lincoln high school boys.

The line up of the two teams is as follows: Sophomores, Forwards, Myers, Elliot; Guards, McCutcheon, Capt., Anderson; Center Newton and Manning. High school, Forwards, Raymond, Walsh; Guards, Bell, Matson; center, Field, Captain. Manager Myers of the sophomore team is now trying to schedule some games with teams out in the state in order that the team may take a trip. It is hoped that games may be arranged with some of the following: Omaha second Y M C A, Omaha High School, Fremont Y M C A and York College. Doane College has already declined to accept a challenge.

THE ENGINEERING ANNUAL.

The Engineering Annual is on the road to success. Two very fine articles have just been received—one from D. C. Yates of the Homestake Mining Co., of South Dakota and the other from Jos. Sargent of the U. S. Engineering Corps in Cuba. Mr. Yates' article is on mining and as he has been intimately connected with this kind of work, his articles will be of great value. It is technical and deals with some of the problems encountered by the mining engineer. The article written by Mr. Sargent is not so technical as the other, but is of vital interest at this time, as it is on the sugar beet industry in Cuba.

Mr. Sargent in his connection with the United States engineers, has had occasion to travel over the island, extensively, and has observed closely the methods employed in the manufacture of sugar. The article will be profusely illustrated with views taken by Mr. Sargent himself and will probably be the most "popular" article in the annual.

J. S. MOORE COMING

Former Secretary of University Y. M. C. A. Will Visit The Association—Will Address the Students.

Many of the friends of John Moore will be glad to know that he has consented to spend Saturday and Sunday at the University. There are few men that have gone out from the University with as large a circle of friends as has he. During his three years connection with the Young Men's Christian Association of the University, he came into contact with nearly the whole student body in such a way as to win an endearing place in their memories. Mr. Moore has been engaged as student secretary of Missouri this year and reports from that state show a remarkably efficient work in the different colleges under his supervision. During his stay at the university Mr. Moore was seldom heard in public speaking, confining his work more particularly to organization and supervision. On this visit however an opportunity will be given all young men to hear him. Preparations are being made for a large meeting on Sunday afternoon. It will afford an opportunity for many of his old friends to meet him and renew a pleasant acquaintance.

DELEGATES RETURN.

The delegates to the convention which was held at Toronto last week returned last night after having been in attendance at one of the greatest student gatherings of this nature which has ever been held in North America.

Very little time was given by the delegates to sight seeing in as much as the sessions of the convention were such as to demand most of their time. Most of the delegates however took advantage of the opportunity which was offered to them of returning by way of the Niagara Falls, and of seeing the beautiful sights at that point.

The delegates leaving Lincoln a week ago last Monday evening arrived in Toronto on the following morning. Began session of the great meeting being that afternoon and continued until Sunday evening. One of the delegates speaking of the convention last night said it was, in many respects, one of the greatest student gatherings ever held. In point of numbers it was, the largest gathering of college people ever held in North America. Twenty-two countries were represented in this student meeting. Four hundred and sixty-five colleges were represented by 2296 delegates; there were 212 professors present and 82 representatives of missionary boards and 107 missionaries. The convention was therefore one of the greatest of its kind ever held.

The primary object of the meeting was the consideration of missionary activity in the colleges of the country. To assist in the discussion of these questions there were present such great leaders as John R. Mott, Robert Speer, Dr. Ament, Bishop Thoburn of India and many other leaders of student activities. There were among them leaders of missionary and other religious work in colleges of North America. Much can be expected as a result of this convention, said the delegate. The student volunteer movement is a comparatively young organization but the fruits of its work have been marked. Acting as the recruiting force for the missionary boards of all denominations, it has, in the fifteen years of its existence, supplied 16 per cent of the missionary force of Christendom. Besides acting as such a recruiting agency it is directly concerned in engaging the interest and co-operation of students in foreign missionary enterprise.

The convention which just closed its fourth and most highly representative session in the history of the movement, showed the great interest which is being taken in this work. Especially so was it seen on the last night of the convention 150 delegates arose and stated they had definite arrangements made for going into the foreign field during the coming year.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CONVOCATION.

The convocation period yesterday was given over to a musical program in order to lend variety to these very successful meetings. The exercises were under the direction of Professor Kimball and opened with a song by the double quartette composed of Misses Burruss, Redford, Robinson and Talcott; and Messrs Swartz, Cuscaden, Frollich and Johnson.

Mr. Geo. Johnson then entertained the audience with a tenor solo. His efforts were so well received that he was obliged to respond to an encore repeating the last verse of the first song entitled "Eyes of Irish Blue." Miss Lillian Eiche then followed with a cello solo rendering Walthers Prize Song from "Meistersinger" by Wagner. Professor Kimball played the organ accompaniment which gave good orchestral effect. Miss Eiche also responded to a hearty encore with "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Owing to the lack of time a selection which was to have been given by the ladies quartette had to be omitted. It was announced, however, that the students would be permitted to hear it very soon.

Chancellor Andrews, who delivered an address at Colorado Springs last Monday at the dedication of the new mining building, will speak before a farmers institute at Broken Bow this evening. On Thursday afternoon he will address a similar meeting at Mason City, a small town near that place. He will return to Lincoln Thursday evening.
