THREE CENTS

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET

One Hundred Men Feast on Good Things.
--Affair Thoroughly Enjoyed by All.--Strong List of Toasts.

The Y. M. C. A. gave its annual banquet last night to the members of that association in the university armory. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a large and representative crowd was present, plates for one hundred having been laid. The banquet was pronounced by those present to have been the most successful one which has been given for some time. The fact that it was held in the armory seemed to make it a still more university like affair than it would otherwise have been.

About 7 o'clock the members seated themselves to the long tables, which had been tastily decorated and arranged in the armory. The persons present were a thoroughly representative crowd of university people. The banqueters were all in a happy mood, singing together a number of familiar songs and giving the university yell at no distant intervals. The Y. M. C. A. glee club favored the crowd with a number of its best selections, which were well received.

A. Ross Hill as toastmaster called for a number of toasts. Chancellor Andrews spoke on the "Relation of God to Man and the Secret of Future Success." Secretary Bailey of Omaha gave an interesting talk on the place which the association holds in the university. The other speakers of the evening were D. E. Thomas, H. B. Ward and J. D. Ringer. All took up different phases of the Y. M. C. A. and its relation to the university.

The following menu was served by downtown caterers.

Escaloped Oysters.
Cold Boiled Tongue. Cold Boiled Beef.
Escaloped Potatoes. Hot Slaw.
Pickles. Celery.
Cranberry Sauce.
Hot Rolls and Butter.
White and Graham Bread.
Assorted Layer Cake.
Vanilla Ice Cream.
Coffee and Chocolate.

REGISTER SATURDAY.

The obtaining of certificates for the primary election did not take the place of registration. Therefore, all persons not registered last fall must register Saturday or they will have to get certificates on election day.

There were a number of university students that voted at the primary on certificates that are not now registered and should attend to it Saturday and save themselves trouble on election day, which is next Tuesday.

PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB.

The Philosophical club will meet on Thursday evening in the department lecture room to hear a talk by Professor Powers of Doane college on "Lotze's Ideal of the Soul."

SOPHOMORES.

The sophomore class will meet Wednesday, April 2, at 10 a. m. in University hall. Important business.

C. O. WHEDON SPEAKS ON ANARCHISM.

Chapel exercises Tuesday morning were conducted by Rev. W. C. Williams, after which Chancellor Andrews introduced Hon. C. O. Whedon of this city, who spoke on "Needed Anarchistic Legislation."

In introducing his subject Mr. Whedon mentioned the fact that during recent years anarchists from all parts of the world have taken advantage of prevailing circumstances and have made a city of the United States their headquarters. Anarchy is antipathetic, and the opposite of all government on the part of the state.

Mr. Whedon spent most of the short time allotted him in discussing the principles of the most prominent anarchists of the time. Right, they believe to be the power of might, and laws are not to be obeyed unless they appeal to the anarchist in the way in which he believes to be right.

PRACTICE IN DUST

Baseball Team Puts up Snappy Work, in Spite of the Bad Weather.--New Man for the Box Shows Up Well.

In spite of the wind and dust which prevailed yesterday afternoon, the baseball men put up a snappy and vigorous practice. Under the direction of Koehler, captain of the scrubs, the men who meet at 1:30 went through practically the same practice that the first team undergoes.

The number of scrubs who practice regularly has dwindled down to about twenty, but there has been a great improvement in their work during the last few days. From present prospects it is quite probable that Captain Koehler will be able to put out a team that

THREE ISSUES A WEEK ONLY.

The Nebraskan announces that temporarily issues will be published only three days in the week. This course is made necessary because of lack of support on the part of advertisers, principally. The large firms, whose patronage of college publications heretofore has been generous, have this year been represented among the advertisers either not at all or very little. The subscription patronage has been, on the whole, good. However, nearly one-half of those who have been receiving the paper regularly have failed as yet to pay their subscription bills. These facts have determined the board of directors upon the course here announced. It is possible that daily issues will be soon resumed. Such issues will be resumed as soon as the support received from advertisers and subscribers will justify it. For the present there will be issues on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

THE HESPERIAN PUBLISHING CO.

By the Board of Directors,

J. W. CRABTREE,
President.

GEO. L. TOWNE,
Secretary.

J. I. WYER,
T. J. HEWITT.

Anarchism is an egotistical right, and help can only come to the masses through egotism. It is one of the most essential facts that the poor will always wish to have more, and it is not money that does the harm, but lack of power to take it.

A prevailing system of anarchy, says Mr. Whedon, means the complete abolition of classes. The liberty of man consists in that he obeys the laws of nature, and a change in our present system of government could only end in a civil war.

The anarchists of today do not oppose organized society, but society as now organized, and believe in (1) the liberation of the producer, (2) the freedom of the government, and (3) liberation from religion. They act on the principle of Do what pleases you, and act as you think best.

Human experience, said Mr. Whedon, teaches that those who commit crime are those who have thrown off the fetters of custom.

The hopeful side of the situation is that moral degenerates are the exception and not the rule. Under the teachings of Christ humanity has advanced. Everything belongs to all, and anyone can take what he can.

will prove a formidable antagonist to the first team.

Another new man was added to the first squad yesterday. Leatherby, a pitcher of some reputation, will try for honors in the box. The practice yesterday gave him no opportunity to show his ability, as the men did nothing but catch the ball.

Fifteen men now meet for regular practice at 3:30. Hood did not show up yesterday, but his place on third was very creditably filled by Bender.

There will be only two more days of practice before the Easter holidays, but active work will be again begun next Tuesday.

PHI BETA KAPPA SOCIETY MEETING.

The Phi Beta Kappa society will hold an open meeting tonight in the library building for the purpose of hearing addresses by two of its members. Professor Taylor of the department of political economy will speak upon "Dynamic Thought in Political Economy."

Professor Davis of the mathematics department will discuss some popular conceptions of certain mathematical ideas. The addresses coming from these two able men will be given in such a way as to interest not only those who have given particular thought to these subjects, but also to those who have but a superficial knowledge of them.

The plan of holding these meetings for the scientific and literary discussions is a new one and was recently decided upon by the society. Heretofore the only program of importance which has been given by the society has been the annual address at commencement. Under the new arrangement there will be at least three meetings during the year of this character. The object of the plan is to make the society more active than it has heretofore been by interesting its members in these discussions.

The meeting tonight is open to all who desire to attend. Members of the Phi Beta Kappa society are, however, urged to be present. The program will be given in Professor Sherman's lecture room in the library building and will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. In case the meeting is not too large the questions will be given over for discussion.

LAW NOTES.

The new schedule of the trials in the university district court have been posted. A number of interesting cases will be tried and promise to give the law students ample opportunity to display their ability. T. H. Hatfield of the city will act as district judge in the trials.

Editor Matson of the law department of the senior class book is now collecting material which the law students will place in the annual and will doubtless turn it over to the committee tonight. The regular committee from the senior class will meet tomorrow to report on all the work which has been done by the various members. It is expected that from now on the work will be hastened and the copy will soon be given to the printers.

For the past few days the senior law students have been living almost entirely on fish, the recognized brain food, preparatory to the examination in criminal procedure which they must take early next week.

Phi Delta Phi (law) fraternity will hold initiation tonight at the state capitol.

W. W. Jones, who graduated from both the academic and law colleges last year, was visiting among the students yesterday, after having served on the federal jury at Omaha for some time. Mr. Jones found at Omaha a number of the graduates of last year's law class who are in different offices in the city. Among those who are there are Mansfield, Hogan, Saxton and Myers. Pancoast is enjoying a very lucrative practice at South Omaha. Mr. Jones expects to return in a short while to enter some law firm in Omaha. Mr. Finson, president of last year's law class, is now located at Decatur, Ill., where he is reported to be doing well in the practice of law.
