DATE OF ART POSTER CONTEST CHANGED TO MAY 17.

Owing to the late entry of several contestants, it has been deemed advisable to change the date of the art poster contest which was inaugurated by the Lincoln Academy, to May 17. This will give one week longer to the contestants to work on their posters.

As soon as the posters are passed upon by the judges they will be hung in the art rooms and the exhibit will be thrown open to the public. Miss Hayden will have charge of the hanging of the work. The exhibition will give the contestants and their friends an opportunity to pass upon all the work handed in. It will also show to the public what can be done in the line of poster designing by the students of the university. These contests are popular features in the past, but this is the first one ever projected in the University of Nebraska. Announcements of the date of the exhibit will be made later in the papers.
