The way some of young America runs loose on the campus is getting to be a tiresome thing and ideas have been repeatedly expressed looking to the prevention of so much freedom on the part of the innumerable host of children of all ages who infest the confines of the campus fences. At times they are a real nuisance, especially on dress parade and at times of athletic sports. They are irrepressible and seem to fairly spring from the ground when a person turns around. They seem to have no ideas of recognition of elders and apparently think that all which is in sight is their rightful property.

The State Historical society recently received a very valuable collection, the property of Benjamin Hemplee of Plattsmouth. In January he died and his collection of relics and curios were left in the county court house of Plattsmouth. The desire of the county officials was to remove the collection, and by consent of the heirs of Mr. Hemplee the historical society obtained possession of them. They will be preserved intact and placed in the library as one collection.

The articles include valuables collected from all over the country, including Indian curios, G. A. R. relics, rare coins and other historical articles of interest and value. It is one of the most valuable collections of its kind and one of the most valuable acquisitions of the historical society.

Miss Alice von Mansfeld has been pledged to Delta Gamma.

The Delian society will give an alumni program next Friday evening.

The employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. wishes to announce that there is now a good demand for student help. A number of very desirable positions are open, especially to students intending to remain during summer school.

SECOND TEAM WINS OUT.

A game of five innings was played between the second team and the city Y. M. C. A. boys last evening on the diamond from half past six o'clock until dark, which netted the university another victory by the score of 2 to 1. The playing throughout was characterized by snappy ball and but few errors. But few hits were made off the pitchers and only one fell outside of the diamond.

Messrs. Chase, Acres and Mudra acted as battery for the Y. M. C. A. team. The city team scored in the last half of the second inning and the university made scores in the second and fourth innings.

The line-up of the second team was as follows:

Reynolds, c.
Stringer, p.
Koehler, 1st.
Roth, 3d.
Wright, ss.
Mulliken, c. f.
Peters, r. f.
Thomson, 2d.
Burg, l. f.

DEAN DAVIS AT CONVOCATION.

The ideal of the mathematician was the theme upon which Dean Davis spoke at convocation Monday morning. The ideal of the mathematician, said the speaker, is the square of the minus quantity. This is always made by giving it a geometrical representation. Searching for reality, which all do, is only realizing one's ideals.

Dean Davis took up and threw some light upon many of the problems, abstract discussions and mathematical theorems which now are of interest to the mathematician.

His definition of mathematics "as the science in which we don't know what we are talking about, nor whether what we are saying is true" was readily accepted by all his hearers.

There will be a regular meeting of Y. M. C. A. cabinet tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold a union meeting with the city association next Sunday at the city association rooms.

Wednesday noon, May 28, until Saturday night, June 1, has been set aside as the time in which the battalion will be at encampment.

It is reported that Morris Liebman, '00, of New York city, will visit with university friends at the time of the pan-Hellenic dance.
