ANNOUNCEMENTS.

CONVOCAION.

The convocation hours of the week will be taken up as follows:
Wednesday—J. L. McBrien, "The Anecdotal Side of Great Men."
Thursday—L. P. Ludden, "Individuality."
Friday—College Music.

TENNIS PLAYERS.

Drawing for places in the tennis tournament will be held on the courts at 1 o'clock Wednesday. All members expecting to participate in the tournament must be present in person.
G. M. PETERS, Manager.

Spring football practice began last Saturday and the men appeared on the gridiron yesterday for the second time. The practice will consist mainly in kicking and catching the ball. As yet only a few have signified their intention of engaging in the practice work, and Coach Booth expresses his disappointment in having so few candidates appear. Captain Westover, Eager, Fuller and Tobin were out yesterday afternoon and practiced punting.

A silver cup has been offered as a prize by a firm in the city to the man making the best record this spring in long distance kicking, and the men are all after it. More interest will probably be taken in the work later on, and more men will show up for practice. One of the principal features will be the working out of a new center and a quarter-back. Koehler is not sure of being in school next year, and Drain, also, will not be back. Eager, one of last season's halves, is trying for the position left vacant by Drain. There is an abundance of good football material in school and those who have football tendencies should come out and have Coach Booth and Captain Westover develop them. Plenty of good material is what makes the team, and Nebraska must maintain her reputation next fall. Minnesota and Wisconsin must be trounced and early and hard practice is what it takes to do it.

Miss Harriet Cook, a graduate of 1900, is in San Juan, Porto Rico, teaching school. Miss Smith received a very interesting letter from her, in which she states her progress in that place. There are men there from eastern universities who all speak very highly of the University of Nebraska. Miss Cook teaches the English and rhetoric classes and says the natives learn very quickly. The Danish West Indies far excel the Spanish West Indies in well kept government schools. The people in the former are under compulsory education and possess such a fair, practical form of island government that they are making the best of themselves and doing the best for their islands.
