The baseball team merits an enthusiastic reception as that accorded the victorious debaters. It is too late now to carry out any extensive program, but let everybody turn out Wednesday when the team will meet Highland Park and make the game a genuine reception to the heroes of the diamond.

The excellence of the drill exhibited Friday speaks well for the condition of the battalion. The work of each company was good. Captain Smoke deserves considerable credit for the way he has brought the men up to a military standard. When he took charge of the department these were discord and dissatisfaction which was very detrimental to the battalion. All this has disappeared and the dissatisfied element has been satisfied and all this without lowering the dignity of the department.

GLEE CLUB MEETING.

A new university organization will be perfected tomorrow night. Efforts have been recently made to organize the male voices in school into a permanent glee club and the prospects are excellent.

Tomorrow night at the old chapel the organization will be made complete under the direct leadership of Prof. W. F. Starr, of the school of music, and supervised by Professor Kimball.

The idea is to form as large an organization as possible without sacrificing quality. A number of voices will be acceptable at present if they be capable. An examination of candidates will be begun tomorrow night at 7 o'clock sharp. All those desiring places must be on hand and submit to the required tests of voice and singing capabilities.

Every one is urged to come to this preliminary meeting whether he sings or not. This new organization means much to the university and every one who has any tendency to sing should show himself a willing pusher of the scheme. By organizing this spring the work can be taken up with more purpose and results next fall.

The university has just received a large number of the O. M. C. Pulse, the regular publication of the Omaha Medical School. This number is devoted to the commencement season of the school of medicine. It is now being addressed to all the faculty of the university. The editor and one of the publishers is Bert W. Christie, a graduate of the university.

ALL IN READINESS FOR IVY DAY.

According to the latest report of the Day committee the seniors will plant their ivy at the library building next Wednesday afternoon. Considerable trouble has been had to secure this privilege, inasmuch as the superintendent of the building was at first opposed to the planting of the ivy near the new buildings. It now seems, however, that there will be no objection to this, as the members of the committee having the matter in charge have agreed to certain conditions.

The program will begin promptly at 2 o'clock and will not take up more than an hour and a half of time in order not to interfere with the ball game that afternoon. It has been carefully prepared and promises to be an exceedingly interesting one. This has been done largely to make it a strictly university event and will hereafter be so recognized. Ivy day in many of the large eastern institutions is one of the important college events of the year and it is very probable that from now on it will be the same in this institution.

The program will be that published in the last issue. Every part will be brief in order not to weary the crowd. Probably the most novel feature of the program is the giving of prizes. As to the nature of these nothing will be given out until Wednesday afternoon, yet it is safe to say that seniors have spared no pains to make this as well as the rest of the program one of deep interest to every student. The planting of the ivy will take place at the northeast corner of the library building.

TENNIS MEET.

The Kansas-Nebraska tennis meet will take place Friday and Saturday. Two men will be sent up from Kansas to compete against the Nebraska team. The singles will be played on Friday and the doubles on Saturday. One contestant will be Sharrard, who played here in fine form last year. The name of the other player is not obtainable. The tennis players will come up with the Kansas track team. The men opposed to them here will be Farnsworth and Fallor, recent winners in the local tennis tournament.
