GENERAL REVIEW

Present Condition of The Daily Nebraskan and Review of the Year.—

Prospects for the Future.

In another place in this issue is an announcement of the financial situation of the Daily Nebraskan as shown by the books of the Hesperian Publishing company, publishers of the paper. The balance shown by this statement is $220.04, which represents the earnings of the paper this year, provided collections of accounts now on the books are made as they may reasonably be expected to be.

In this connection it may be well to make a brief statement of the affairs of the paper at the close of its first year. Some time ago it was found that owing to poor collections and a lack of proper support on the part of the business of the town, it was advisable to discontinue the publication of the paper every day and put it out but three times a week. This was done in order to prevent the piling up of bills, which could not be readily met at the close of the year. This expedient was intended to be temporary and the publication of a daily paper will be resumed at the opening of the next school year.

With the ice broken it is thought that the daily will have little difficulty hereafter. If proper student support is given it there is no reason why Nebraska should not have a good daily paper. This support should be both financial and in the shape of aid in the gathering of news. While the paper has had a better subscription list than any of its predecessors, it has not been as large as it should have been. There has been a tendency among a large class of students to evade the payment of subscription bills after receiving the paper for the larger part of the year. Several hundred dollars have been lost in this way.

The support of many advertisers which was withheld during the early part of the year has been given during the last few months. The support that is usually given college publications in the way of subscriptions and advertising has not been given the paper beyond a possible $40 for subscriptions. The daily paper at Wisconsin receives for the same number of subscriptions from the university $350. The difficulty of maintaining a paper here is thus apparent.

The paper will start out next year with prospects good for a successful year. With proper student support there is no doubt but Nebraska can get out a paper which will compare favorably with that of any institution in the west. Students who will be in school next year and who desire to go on the staff of the Nebraskan, should consult one of the members of the staff at once.

CHANCELLOR ANDREWS TO REMAIN.

The chancellor's announcement Saturday morning that he would stand by the University of Nebraska "for a number of years" has quieted a general fear which every student had that he would accept the offer made to him by Wisconsin. That the move taken by the chancellor was due largely to the feeling among the students and professors as shown at the recent mass meeting, is seen by the paragraph of the chancellor's announcement which says: "The many kindly expressions which have recently reached me from students, colleagues, regents and neighbors touch and influence me and are profoundly appreciated."

The announcement was received with joy by every student, for it was generally believed that Chancellor Andrews would leave. Not that this conclusion was based upon any statement made by the chancellor, but because of the numerous rumors which continued to float about the campus. At one time during the latter part of the week it was reported that the regents of the University of Wisconsin had met and elected Dr. Andrews, and that in all probability he would go. The announcement of the chancellor was therefore received with considerable warmth, not only by the students and faculty, but by the citizens of Lincoln. To show their appreciation of the chancellor's action the students will hold a demonstration this evening on the university campus.

The public statement made by Chancellor Andrews is as follows:

1. Save upon intimation that the regents wish it, or upon the failure of my health, or that of those near me, it is not my intention to quit the service of the Nebraska university for a number of years.

2. The considerations which have led me to fear of late that such a change might possibly be imminent have not been salary or position, as many seem to suppose, but others of a purely personal and domestic nature.

3. The many kindly expressions which have recently reached me from students, colleagues, regents and neighbors touch and influence me, and are profoundly appreciated. Yours,

E. BENJ. ANDREWS.

THE FINAL TRIUMPH

Baseball Season Closes With Victory.—

Review of the Year's Work.—

A Winning Team for Next Year.

Nebraska closed the most successful baseball season in the history of the university, by defeating the famed Havelock team on the home grounds last Friday by a score of 11 to 3. Fully two thousand people attended the game, Havelock sending one-half the number. It is a part worthy of regret that the varsity received its support from town people, rather than from a university representation.

The Havelock aggregation is made up of part professional players, and although they were clearly outclassed by the varsity, the game was one of the most exciting of the season. In the first inning, Rhodes and Townsend won the plaudits of the multitude by knocking two home runs after the second out had been made, and started the excitement by placing the score 4-0 at the end of the inning. Letheby did his usual good work in the box, and Bender played his customary swift game behind the bat.

Under the direction of Captain Bell, Nebraska has developed a phenomenal team, the champions of Kansas, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota. With excellent judgment in the selection and placing of his men, Mr. Bell has made a notable record for himself and team, and his work is deserving of the highest praise. In the quality of his material he has been most fortunate. Rhodes, Bender, Gaines, Letheby, Townsend, Raymond, Hood, DePutron, Doane and Cortelyou, tried and trusted men all have, by the excellence and efficiency of their work aided their captain in making the team what it is.

Under the control of Manager Shidler, the financial interests of the team have been unusually well looked after, and most successful arrangements were perfected in the making out of a schedule. The members of the team have all been supplied with new suits, and permanent improvements have been made on the athletic field. The following is a list of the college games played:

Nebraska 18, Wesleyan 1; Nebraska 13, Nebraska Indians 5; Nebraska 0, Cedar Rapids 0; Nebraska 5, Decorah 0; Nebraska 4, Minnesota 3; Nebraska 25, Kansas 8; Nebraska 15, Kansas 14; Nebraska 7, Washburn 2; Nebraska 6, Highland Park 1; Nebraska 7, Iowa 2; Nebraska 10, Knox 0; Nebraska 3, Northwestern 11; Nebraska 0, Notre Dame 2; Nebraska 8, Purdue 5; Nebraska 5, Missouri 1; Nebraska 3, Kansas 5; Nebraska 6, Kansas 0; Nebraska 13, Washburn 3; Nebraska 7, St. Mary's 2; Nebraska 15, Manhattan 6; Nebraska 9, Creighton 3; Nebraska 10, Drake 6. Nebraska total 189; opponents 80.

The prospects for baseball in the University of Nebraska is unusually bright for next year. Most of the old players will be back, besides many new ones who have announced their intention of coming to Nebraska.

At the last meeting of the athletic board Murray E. Townsend was elected captain and Clark Bell manager. Townsend needs no introduction to baseball enthusiasts. For two years a member of the varsity team he has played a winning game, and has an enviable record. Under his control we may expect great things from the team next year. Mr. Bell was assistant manager of the team this year, and will no doubt make an able and efficient manager. With the record made by the team this year, there is a great opportunity to further still more the interests of the university, and Mr. Bell may be relied upon to do his part.

BATTALION RETURNS.

Foot-sore, weary and sunburned, the cadets arrived at the Armory after a forty minutes' run, and the cadets were glad to get back, notwithstanding the fact that they have had a good time and have had plenty of work to keep them healthy. In fact this is one of the most severe and in all respects, one of the most instructive and pleasant camps held for some years.

Captain Smoke does not waste any words in his praise of the behavior of the men, and compliments them highly on their general deportment and general manly bearing. He has won the deep respect of every cadet, and remarks about his leaving the university are frowned down. This year he offered five medals, one gold and four silver for the best drilled men in the battalion, and those best drilled in the companies. Corporal Kanzler took the gold medal, and Sergeants Brown and Walton, Corporal Beers and Private Pollard won silver medals.

Two sham battles were held during camp, one Saturday afternoon and the other at midnight. The sun made it pretty warm for the soldiers, but they went ahead and had their excitement. In the afternoon Company B was the attacking party, and won by strategy and a misunderstanding of commands. At night the attacking party was changed and Company C had the honor of capturing the camp. In the afternoon Private Anderson was hurt in the leg with a bayonet. At night there were no casualties. A dance was given at the camp on Saturday night, and the cadets enjoyed themselves getting acquainted with the Seward young ladies. During the day the latter had sent a load of pies to the camp.

Church services were held at camp yesterday morning and Captain Smoke presented an appreciated short sermon. The tents were down by two o'clock in the afternoon. The final gun was fired, the bugle was blown, the flag lowered and camp of this year was a thing of the past.

This will be the last issue of the Daily Nebraskan until the opening of school next fall.
