Miss Katherine Thomas, '02, and a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority, has gone to Omaha, where she will occupy a responsible position this year at Brownell Hall.

The old two hour courses in astronomy have been increased one hour and numbered 7. The extra hour will be occupied by field work under the direction of Professor Swezey.

Room 311 library building will be fitted up and used as a reading room and seminar for the students and faculty of the college of medicine. All the current medical periodicals, all reference books and a selection of general books in this subject will be kept here.

Official Notices.

Chancellor Andrews will deliver the university opening address in Memorial hall, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

During registration week information in regard to rooms and board can not be obtained in the registrar's office, but in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. A public telephone is stationed there.

A student not registered by 6 o'clock Monday, Sept. 22, is charged an additional fee of $3.

College Men.

The annual reception of the Young Men's Christian Association of the university will be held Saturday evening, September 20th, in the armory, from 8 to 10 o'clock. All students are invited to attend. Coach Booth and his giants will be present. Prof. Starr will sing and college songs will be in order. Refreshments are to be served during the evening. A feature of the reception will be a game of ping-pong by Prof. Caldwell and Coach Booth. This is an opportunity for the new men to get acquainted and they are especially invited.

Greek Art.

The course in Greek art given by Assistant Professor Dann is increased this semester to three hours credit. It is offered as an introduction to the study of the life and thought of the ancient Greeks as reflected in their art and religion. The course will begin with a brief survey of the art of Egypt and Assyria, and the characteristics of Greek art are contrasted with those of oriental art on the one hand and of early Christian art on the other. The study of Greek myths is also taken up, at least so far as they can form an essential factor in the development of the art of Greece.

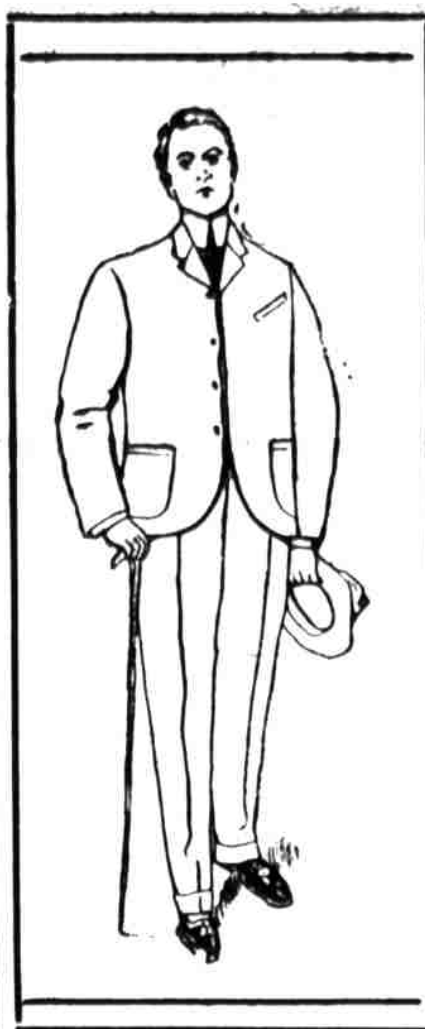

The course is designed to make clear the fundamental and lasting principles of aesthetic form so marvelously wrought out and refined by the Greeks. It is hoped that the course may serve to promote a just appreciation of the great works of the past, and contribute to the formation of a sound and intelligent taste in art in general.

Football Players

Any and every football man who was ever in a game of football in the university or elsewhere should not fail to show up on the gridiron every afternoon. Bring your own suits or obtain them at the gymnasium. At all events, be out ready for work. Every man will have an equal opportunity for a place on the team. All new men in the university should make their appearance on the football field if they have ambitions for the sport.—John Westover, Captain.

Everyone who wishes to take up some special line of Bible or mission study work should investigate the course offered by the Y. M. C. A. All information necessary can be obtained at any time at the association rooms.
