Football Notes.

Minnesota objects to the standing given its team by Walter Camp in Spaulding's football guide for '02. The teams are ranked as follows: Harvard, Yale, Michigan, Wisconsin, West Point, Princeton, Cornell, Lafayette, Annapolis, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Dartmouth, Williams, Northwestern, Illinois, Chicago, Iowa, Tennessee. Among the teams with whom Nebraska has to deal this year Wisconsin ranks first, Minnesota second and Northwestern third. According to Camp's estimate Wisconsin receives fourth place, while Minnesota must be satisfied with thirteenth and Northwestern with sixteenth.

right end; Knowlton, quarter; Davis, left half; Bidlake, right half; Liggett, fullback. As will be seen there is very little change in the team since last season.

Nebraska will have her old opponents to work against, and she knows what that means. Good hard work and plenty of men must be had if the gophers are to be defeated this year.

Koehler at Chicago.

The many friends of John Koehler, who did such creditable work as Nebraska's center, will be pleased to learn of his success at Chicago. He has been playing football and from present indications he will "make" the team. He was given a trial in the game with Lombard, on Sept. 20, and both Coach Stagg and Captain Sheldon spoke in the highest terms of his ability. His showing was more noticeable than that of any of the other new men and there were several of them. It seems that Stagg is of the opinion that Koehler would make a good tackle. In the game with Monmouth, on Saturday he played left tackle. He is a strong, steady player and will do good work at all times and under all conditions.

Foot Ball Admission Tickets.

Hereafter general admission tickets and grandstand tickets to the football games will be on sale at Rector's or at Mr. Lindsey's cigar store. Persons going to the game will be encouraged to buy their tickets at these places and for that reason the best seats in sections B and C, the middle sections, will be placed on sale there. This is done in order to try and relieve the congestion at the ground's ticket office just before each game.

Season tickets will be exchanged at these places for reserved seat tickets on paying the extra charge to grandstand.

The following item appeared in the "Clarion" of the University of Denver. While we do not take exactly the same view as this, still the sentiment is correct:

"University of Nebraska is all ready in good shape for their game with Boulder the 4th of next month. The slaughter that will occur on that day will be something terrible to the friends of the State University."

A large number of students, mostly gentlemen, owing to the inclement weather, were present at the reception tendered the students at St. Paul's church Friday evening. One of the most enjoyable and valuable features of the evening's entertainment was the talk by Dr. Wharton, in which he warned the student against allowing himself to become so engrossed in his books that he seclude himself from the rest of the world. Music was furnished for the occasion by some of the best talent of the city.

Harry Garrett, '02, who is superintendent of the schools at Roca, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city with university friends.

REGISTRATION FIGURES

Number of Students Surpasses That of Previous Years—Incidentals Mount High.

Registration did not stop with last Monday evening and there are a number more students enrolled at the university than when last recorded. Up to date there are 1,444 registrations by count of the incidental fees paid. These figures are exclusive of those in the law school, which number 147, who have paid the tuition fees. In addition to this there are sixteen medical students in college who did not pay the incidental fee. Those paying the incidental fee since September 22d, number thirty-seven.

These figures do not include either those students registered in the Conservatory or in the school of fine arts. The total enrollment then, meaning those paying the incidental and the tuition fees, and excluding the medical school in Omaha, and those in the art school, reaches 1,602. There are about eighty matriculations in the school of medicine not counted.

The total number paying incidental fees last year up to October 1st was 1,349. The figures first quoted, in comparison with those of last year will show the correct relative increase over the registration of 1901. This shows an increase in total incidentals of not quite one hundred. The relative figures are given by means of consultation with the incidental fee statistics only.

This report on the whole is as good as was expected from the first, and seems to be both an indication of the bettered financial condition of the state and the increasing popularity of the university.

Kansas Debater Here.

Mr. Martin, one of the three Kansans whom C. M. Bracelen, J. C. Doubt and S. H. Hawthorne defeated in the debate on reciprocity last April, arrived at the university yesterday to study law and debate. He spoke warmly of the good fellowship existing between Kansas and Nebraska as a result of last year's debate, and says that Nebraska will receive a cordial welcome at Lawrence this year. Mr. Martin, who formerly attended the University of Texas, and who graduated from Kansas a year ago, will enter the senior law class and take Nebraska training in debate. Mr. Martin brings word that the work in debate is being reorganized at both Kansas and Missouri this year, on account of Nebraska's decisive victories.

C. W. McMichael, '97, has been made superintendent of the Arapahoe public schools. Mr. McMichael took post-graduate work last year in the department of education.

Rules Against Hazing.

The new rules against hazing in Princeton are being published in the different college papers. Eastern colleges have gone through long periods of this custom and have evolved different ideas in the way of student government. The undergraduates of Princeton have finally taken a decided stand and published a statement declaring their position.

"Whereas, the custom of hazing, in all of its forms, is a demoralizing practice involving an unreasonable and intolerable interference on the part of one student in the rights and privileges of his fellow student, and

Whereas, this practice has been carried to an unwarranted and baneful extreme, endangering thereby the position and standing of certain men who are already members of the university and exerting a most damaging influence on the university's interests and reputation in the outside world, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the undergraduates of Princeton University in mass meeting assembled, do abolish entirely all such forms of hazing and do declare ourselves in full sympathy with this movement and promise our cooperation and moral support in enforcing these resolutions.

In carrying out this purpose the following methods shall be pursued:

1. At the first meeting of the freshman class, the chairman of the committee hereinafter provided for, shall announce that while the sentiment of the college is opposed to hazing, yet the members of the freshman class will be expected to observe the following college customs:

1. Freshmen are prohibited from wearing Princeton colors in town.

2. Freshmen shall not wear golf trousers, fedoras, horse hats or monogram caps; nor shall they wear straw hats before the third Saturday in May.

3. No duck trousers shall be worn by freshmen until the day of the first Georgetown baseball game.

4. Freshmen are not allowed to smoke pipes outside of their rooms.

5. Freshmen are not allowed to enter the grandstand at the varsity field unless accompanied by visitors.

6. Freshmen must not be in the streets after 9 o'clock at night until after Washington's birthday.

7. Freshmen are not allowed to enter any saloon or pool room except the Nassau.

8. Freshmen are not allowed to play ball or loaf on the campus unless accompanied by a member or members of one of the three upper classes.

9. No Freshman shall carry a cane in town.

10. The highest class has the right of way on all sidewalks.

II. It shall be understood that aside from an insistence of the above specified college customs, by the processes hereinafter provided for, any molestation or intimidation or dictation to the members of the freshman class on the part of the sophomores shall be considered hazing.

III. Members of all classes shall
