University Calendar.

Oct. 3.—University Club Dance.
Oct. 4.—Boulder College vs. Nebraska, at Boulder, Colo.

Students who work hard enough at Brown can now graduate in three years and possibly get a master's degree in four years. The following item appears concerning the changes:

"The one hundred and thirty-ninth year of Brown University was ushered in on September 17th. According to the annual address of President Faunce, Brown follows Harvard and Pennsylvania in allowing students to take twenty hours of work a week and to graduate in three years. Provision is also made that those who are able to graduate early in their fourth year may be able to gain the master's degree by the end of that year."

College politics have become worse and worse within the last few days and the campus is a hot-bed of conspiracies. It has been stated by those who know that class affairs have never before been so exciting.

They have, moreover, not remained alone with the male students, but also the young ladies show remarkable signs of interest. Politics have been so much in the public view of late for the reason of the reorganization of the classes and a good deal which concerns them during the year. There has been more than usual interest shown by the upper classmen in the affairs of the under classes and some have attempted to run the newer men. This has raised more or less protest from the younger students.

The regents have started to pave the way for better days for the university. It is time that some room to take care of the professors and students should be provided for upon the campus. Every department is crowded half to death. Classes are cut up and divided into minute sections to get into class rooms. Scientific departments are forced to store valuable apparatus and materials in attic and cellar. Official officers and professors find office room where they can. Students are sometimes forced to stand up in class room for lack of room and chairs. It is about time there was some more accommodations made. And on the other hand, if the new buildings are placed on the campus where will the campus be? The whole situation summed up is that the university needs more ground, more buildings and more money.

Aims of College Life.

At convocation Tuesday Chancellor Andrews said he took it for granted that all students were here to get the most out of their college course. He discussed methods of obtaining this result.

The Chancellor said that if he had his college life to live over again he would pay attention, first: To character building. He was of the opinion that character was a matter of cultivation. "One should aim to be better each night than he was in the morning." Second:—the student should aim at good scholarship, especially in the department of specialization. A different idea prevails now than formerly in regard to education. Thirty years ago it was thought that a student should apply himself equally to all of his studies. At present a man must specialize in some branch in order to make a success. "Know everything of something and something of everything."

Third: Master a good English style. The Chancellor thought it was a disgrace that some college graduates could not write a correct letter.

Fourth: Read a little literature, especially read the Bible.

Fifth: Be an independent thinker.

Before closing Chancellor Andrews announced that he hoped to have Governor Savage conduct the exercises one day this week.

Lincoln Academy Doings.

The Academy is rejoicing over the gain in attendance. There are one hundred and forty students registered—a marked increase over any previous year. The most gratifying gain is in the number taking all their work in the Academy.

Tuesday afternoon there were enthusiastic football and basket-ball rallies. Over twenty men came out and seventeen joined the football squad. The first practice will be Thursday afternoon. The suits have been decided upon, but the momentous question of a yell is still unsettled. The girls' basket-ball team will be under the direction of Miss Nellie Dean, assisted by Miss Louise Pound, who will generously give the girls advice and training. Mr. J. D. Dasenbrock will coach the football men.

Next Monday will see the school at home in its new quarters, 414 North Twelfth street.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hodgman will be at home to the teachers and students at their home, 700 North Sixteenth street.

A change in the arrangement of laboratories in the chemical department has just been completed. The large first floor laboratory has been fitted up for "organic" students. The prep. students have the old organic laboratory. The freshmen occupy the former prep. laboratory.

The classes in English are unusually large this year. Tuesday one of the recitation rooms was so crowded that students were forced to stand during the entire hour. However, the instructors are doing their best to divide the classes in order to make the number in each more even.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Nelson M. Davidson and Miss Garnet Sullivan of Tecumseh, which is to occur October 8. Mr. Davidson graduated from the university with the class of '99 and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Miss Sullivan attended the university in 1900. They will make their home in Tecumseh, where Mr. Davidson is assistant cashier of the Tecumseh National bank.

O. T. Reedy, '98, was in town Tuesday. Mr. Reedy returned from Mexico the first of the week, where he has been employed in civil engineering work for the Mexican Central Railroad company. Before going to Mexico he was engaged as draftsman for the United States government in its surveys and reconstructions in Manila and Cuba, but, when the Cubans assumed control of the island last May, they discontinued that work. Mr. Reedy returns to accept a position in the states. Several places are open to him, but he has not yet decided which he will accept.
