What's the Use

Of going to a tailor to be measured for clothes and then waiting to try on the garments and have them fitted several times and taking the chance that they'll be right.

FAR BETTER to come here, where you can be fitted properly in a few minutes and try on as many garments as you will; "that's the only way" to see how the different styles look on you.

BESIDES, there's a great difference in price, entirely aside from the fact that in every other respect we give you the same satisfaction that you get from your tailor's goods.

MILLER & PAINE

are just the thing for youthful supple figures. In them a touch of Greek or Japanese grace is achieved. They hang from the supporting shoulders in folds that half fit the figures leaving sufficient air spaces to retain the warmth of the body.

There are all sorts of ways of getting this fullness. Some have two inverted pleats in front and one behind. Some are fitted across the shoulders and have only the natural fullness hanging about the waist.

There are handsome crocheted fastenings, which can be supplied for a plain garment. These form sufficient trimming, though individuality is gained by purchasing a plain cloak and supplying softly colored Persian bands or any other fancy to suit the wearer.

The illustration is of a 32-inch Monte Carlo, of the finest quality Kersey, light castor shade, white embroidered bands on collars and sleeves, fine satin lining, for $27.50, others from $10 to $30.
