The Week's Convocations.

The following is the program for convocation hour for the ensuing week:

Friday, Oct. 10—Musical.

Monday, Oct. 13—Hon. J. H. Mickey, republican candidate for governor.

The editor of the Sobrero is in communication with Mr. Dempster, president of the Junior medics of Omaha, in regard to space in the annual. Mr. Root of the Junior medics, and a member of Phi Rho Sigma fraternity, has asked for space for the fraternity.

One much interested in football said last evening at practice, "I believe that by the end of the season Nebraska will have a better team than she had last year."

Almost everyone is beginning to see that there is hope of a brilliant future before the team. Because some of the old players did not return is no reason that the team will not be a winning one. Good men are being trained for every position and Minnesota will find she has no easy thing when she meets Nebraska on the 18th.

The manager of the Ohio State University football team discovered a fellow carefully taking notes on the signals and tactics during practice one day last week. The man was ordered to clear out, but he refused, and produced credentials to prove that he was a freshman in the O. S. U. However, it was not believed by the manager that he could have any good purpose in view and so he was unceremoniously escorted from the field, with a warning that it would be dangerous for him to return.

The following item was cut from yesterday's Star. Concerning the football talk at Minneapolis:

Minneapolis, Oct. 9.—Minnesota takes more immediate interest in the Nebraska team than in any other, since the Gophers met the Cornhuskers just eleven days from today. Booth's men have not yet displayed their form. Colorado University is an unknown quantity, rarely playing any of the middle western elevens, and consequently, little can be gleaned from Nebraska's score of ten points Saturday. So far, nothing has transpired to contradict the theory that Nebraska has finally as strong a team as last year.

Supt. of Buildings Lee complains of the large number of students who disregard the signs to "keep off the grass," and cut across the campus. This fall he had long fences placed along the walks, but students, instead of following the walks, climb over the fences and make paths across the grass. He is thinking seriously of stationing bull dogs along the fence. The fact that the university is a free institution does not mean that the campus is a public highway. University students ought to take enough pride in the appearance of the buildings and grounds to aid in keeping them as neat as possible. Although the campus is entirely too small, it can be kept in a way that would do credit to any institution, if each student would only do his part.

Coach King is still much dissatisfied with the work of the Wisconsin eleven, the game with Hyde Park being very unsatisfactory. The varsity show an utter lack of team work. Players carrying the ball fail to follow their interference, and are slow in starting on the offensive. Hard and steady work will be required from now on to prepare the team for the coming championship games.

The Badgers will have a mascot this year, so says the Daily Cardinal:

"Wisconsin's football team will have a badger for a mascot against this year. Billie so ably filled the place last year that Manager Kilpatrick gladly accepted the tender of another badger for this year.

"George B. Nelson, '98, found him early in the summer and has been coaching him for the place ever since. The badger is christened "Ikey" after the famous player of former days. Kilpatrick expects him some day this week."

One of the yells used by Colorado might be changed enough to make it useful to Nebraska. Two rooting squads on different sides of the field are required, one repeating one line the other the next and so on until the last line, when the whole force joins in and make the air scream:

Say!

What?

That's What!

What's What?

That's what they all say!

What do they all say?

Nebraska, Nebraska, Nebraska!

The class rivalry between the Freshmen and Sophomores at Lawrence University came to a climax a week ago, when the Sophs broke up a Freshman party and captured one of the enemy. They carried their prisoner to a safe retreat and, after painting his face and body with a solution of iodine, they turned him loose. The Freshie is badly blistered as a result of the application of oxalic acid to remove the color.

While the Sophomore were busy with their prisoner, his classmates repaired to the college campus and bedaubed the steps and entrances to all college buildings with red paint. Several students were not permitted to enter the class rooms the following morning, and a wholesale expulsion is anticipated.

A great interest is being manifested in the coming game with Knox College. There all the students make a trial for the football team. He who does not get out and show whether or not he has the stuff in him is completely ignored by the others, and as a result everybody gets out at least once.

The names of Cartelyou, Tobin and Borg have been added to the training table list.

Official Bulletin.

This column is devoted mainly to notices of the university. All departments and student organizations having notices to publish should leave them either at the executive office, at the office of the paper, or hand them to anyone connected with the paper. All announcements should be in by 6 p. m.

ROOTERS ATTENTION!

The rooting squad should meet on the field early before the game tomorrow.

GEO. SHIDEL,
CHAS. LEACH.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Young Women's Christian association will be held in Union hall, Sunday, November 12th at 4 p. m. The delegates to the summer conference at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, will give their reports at that time. Miss Vera Upton will sing two of the favorite conference hymns. All young women are cordially invited to attend.

Following is the Union program for Friday evening, Oct. 10th.

Instrumental Music, Miss Essex.

Sketches, Miss Mier.

Recitation, Mr. Strayer.

Vocal Solo, Miss Boomer.

Ein Paar Worter, Mr. Spafford.

Music, Selected.

Everyone is welcome and new students especially are invited to attend.

Mr. Hartly Burr Alexander, '97, Fellow in the department of philosophy, had a story published in the October number of the Cosmopolitan.

Enthusiastic Meeting. from Page I.

Idea concerning the number. The railroads would probably give those who took advantage of the trip the opportunity to remain longer in Minneapolis. If the students would give all the information possible, and push the matter great results would be accomplished.

The meeting then came to a close, after singing college songs. The feeling of those present was that football had been given a good send off.

University Pins

stand for the general good-fellowship of the University and for your pride in the high rank of the institution. No matter what other Pins you wear, they help you fly the colors of the University itself. Of course you have one and will be glad later to have such a memento in your possession.

NEAT STERLING SILVER pennants enameled in scarlet and cream, 50 cents.

We have lately received a large new line of novelties in Stick Pins, Cuff Links, Shirt Studs, Bracelets, Locketts, etc.

Soft Ruffs

are so becoming that they continue to be exceedingly popular.

There are black with white, all white, or all black. Some of the nicest are made of yards and yards of Chiffon and to get the soft edges, are finished with the Juby trimming or with Lace. Some have cape shapes flaring out to the shoulder beyond the ruff.

A HANDSOME RUFF is of sheepest liberty silk with a sprawling leaf figure of black. The long tabs are tucked at the end and caught at intervals with white Liberty Silk Ribbon edged with black
