The Week's Convocations.

The following is the program for convocation hour for the ensuing week. Dean Ward leads religious exercises:

Friday, 24—Prof. Stout.

Monday, 27—Gov. Savage.

Forecast for Friday:—Fair.

The Minneapolis Journal in commenting on last Saturday's game, has the following to say concerning the captain of Nebraska's eleven:

"Captain Westover was a tower of strength on the right side of Nebraska's line, breaking through repeatedly and stopping plays directed at the tackle or end. He is one of the strongest, if not the strongest, tackle in the west."

It has been announced by those in charge of the National Live Stock association exhibit to be held sometime late this fall in Chicago that they will test the practical value of a college agricultural education.

The judging of stock will be performed by young men from farms, not having a college course, as well as students and professors in animal culture. When the decisions are all in it will be decided by experts who have the most practical and actual knowledge of farm animals.

Experiments of this kind are those which will solve the question of the value of education. If students in agriculture have a reputation to establish they should look to their laurels, for the farmer without science knows what he is about also. The decisions of the board on this question will be looked forward to with considerable interest by educators and the general public. Since the establishment of schools of agriculture there has also been a certain amount of skepticism among practical farmers as to its worth. The new movement is pleasing to them.

YESTERDAY'S MUSICALS.

Music was the order of the day at convocation yesterday. The following excellent program was rendered:

Organ Solo—Prayer from "Lohengrin," Mr. Kimball.

Solo—"Oh, Dry These Tears," Del Rigo; Miss Fiske.

Duet—"L'Addio," Miss Burruss, Mr. Johnston.

Quartet—"Slumber Song," Lohr; Misses Burruss and Fiske, Messrs. Starr and Johnston.

MINNEAPOLIS ESTIMATE.

The Minnesota Daily gives Nebraska credit for having a strong team and sees no reason why the latter can not be classed with the best of them. While "sore" over the result of the game, they congratulate Nebraska on showing her strength.

"Why shouldn't Nebraska break into the first rank? With 2,500 students to pick from and all the coaches and trainers that money can buy they should stay there.

"We can stand a defeat in football from Nebraska and we congratulate our sister institution on her success; but it is the sporting critics on the Minneapolis papers that we can not endure.

"Asked for an interview, Coach Booth said, 'The best team won, but Nebraska played very poorly.' Then he winked at the Cornhuskers with him and said: 'We might as well rub it in a trifle.'"

The souvenir album of the University is near completion. It will contain photographs of all the buildings and many campus scenes. It promises to be the most unique and valuable souvenir of the University yet put out.

The Historical society has just received from the Philippines a splendid consignment of specimens, consisting of two sets of bracelets, two swords, a turban and a bolo knife. They were all consigned and presented to the society by N. C. Abbott, a teacher at Cottabato, P. I. Another consignment had previously been received from Mr. Abbott, which included articles of apparel, some silk goods, musical instruments and a large urn.

EQUIPOISE WAISTS

Are the corsets ordered by gymnasium directors for their girls. These waists embody the hygienic principal of support from the shoulders. The pull of all the garments attached is distributed equally so that there is a "state of being balanced" as the name equipoise implies. The bones are run into cases from which they can easily be slipped for laundering.

White coutil, $2.25 and $2.50

Drab coutil, $2.50 and $2.75.

Black jean, $3.00 and $3.25.

Extra low neck with embroideries around armholes, light weight, $3.00.

Misses' white coutil, $1.75.

Bead Chains

Are new and beautiful though they make frank confession of one's liking for the purely ornamental. Thrown once or twice about the neck and hanging below the waist they are vaguely suggestive of the ropes of beads on which medieval women supported their draperies.

Ebonized beads are of wood and as large as Concord grapes. They are quite the proper thing worn over an outside wrap and very nobby looking. Price, 1.25.

Then we have coral strands, real coral, though not of the cut kind, for 50c and $1.00.

Black jet beads about as large as the ebonized beads, but strung in different sizes; a chain for $1.25.

Pearl head chains for 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25.
