There is a movement on foot among the students of the University of South Dakota to protest to the faculty against having lectures, concerts, etc., in the chapel on Saturday evenings. All the societies meet on Saturday evening and last year their work was almost a failure on account of the numerous university entertainments which were held on their night of meeting.

The change which has taken place in the city within the last three years is noticeable. Lincoln people are beginning to awaken to the fact that they have something in their very midst to be proud of. The decorations the university colors in store windows and on store fronts indicates a greater appreciation by the merchants of the importance of the college life.

There is a growing idea in the university that the Haskell games should be cancelled for the future. They always play the roughest kind of a game and the university does not gain much honor in defeating the Indians. Instead of playing with such teams it would be well to play games with more prominent schools and more worthy collegiate rivals.

The small boy still continues to be a nuisance. It would be a good thing to take some strong means of suppressing him. The spectators on the lower seats of the grandstand were disgusted with them coming in in front of them in droves. They laid on the ground, stood up or climbed on the fence, according to their fancy. At times they climbed over the fence. Something ought to be done to keep them out, and especially from in front of grandstand and bleachers.

The game was an eye-opener to Nebraska supporters, as well as to others. What the team really can do was displayed unstintingly. Nebraska now has reason to feel ready to take a place with the best of them. In fact Chicago papers have already made statements concerning the admission of the university into the "Big Nine." When the time comes for this, Nebraska will probably be ready for it. A few games like the one on Saturday are necessary to keep the confidence of scarlet and cream supporters.

REDSKINS' HAIR LIFTED.

aded the grounds with the scarlet and cream banner at its head, and the crowd cheered, while the Indians tried to tell each other how it happened.

The second half was much easier than the first. The Indians became disheartened and did not play as in the first half. Haskell returned the kickoff 10 yards and punted. Nebraska made steady returns, but lost on downs. Haskell made 20 yards, but lost the ball. Punts were exchanged and the Cornhuskers advanced until Bell made 25 yards for a touchdown. Benedict kicked goal.

The Indians kicked to Benedict who made a good return. Bender made 9 yards and Mickel hurdled for a gain, but was injured, and Englehard went in and made 5 yards on the first play. Bell, Bender and Shedd proved good ground gainers, and Bender made a pretty run of 20 yards for the third touchdown. Benedict kicked goal.

Nebraska made rapid advances from the kickoff. Haskell secured the ball, but lost immediately on downs. Redwater had enough of the game and gave up his place to Allis. Mason went out and Wilson played his tackle. Bell made another long run and a touchdown, but the goal was missed. Three or four minutes was enough time for the next score, and the goal. Westover gave up his place to Briggs. The game soon ended and the game stood 28 to 0.

Sophs' Athletic Meeting.

The Sophomores met in the old chapel last week and held a very enthusiastic meeting. The time was largely devoted to the subject of athletics. Football and basket ball were thoroughly discussed and a captain and manager of the class basket ball team was appointed. Will H. Hoar was appointed captain, and Burdette Lewis manager.

President Sweeley also appointed an athletic committee consisting of Messrs. Bruce, Lundin, Lewis and Hoar.

A collection was taken for the purpose of defraying athletic expenses.

University Classification.

The statement was made Thursday that the university was ranked as second class by the government. The impression given that this referred to the institution as a whole was erroneous.

The government classifies otherwise, as the following explanation will state:

The war department order does not classify the university as a school of the second rank as an institution of learning. The classification is made for the purpose of deciding upon the minimum number of hours of military work at the various institutions of the country.

Institutions of class 1 have a minimum of four hours per week; of class 2, five hours per week; of class 3, six hours per week. The university is of either class 2 or class 3, so that the war department's order ranks it among the first of the country in importance. The University of Nebraska is a great institution of learning, and its students and friends should keep this in mind.
