KANSAS MEETS DEFEAT

Jayhawkers Work Hard Against Nebraska—Big Crowd of Rooters Come With Them.

The Jayhawkers met defeat on Nebraska field Saturday before a crowd of about 1,800 people. The day was an ideal one for football, but the spectators were few, owing, perhaps, to the fact that supporters of the Nebraska team expected a walk away and had no desire to see such a game. As a matter of fact, the Cornhuskers were compelled to play a hard game and frequently had their line smashed for long gains. Nebraska's goal was never in danger, however, and although the rooters had another scare, when Etchen, the courageous right tackle, stole the ball and made a spectacular run of 108 yards. The umpire's decision settled matters satisfactorily, however. In the second half Kansas took a brace and made rapid progress down the field but an unlucky fumble stopped the work and the rest of the playing was done by Nebraska.

Supporters from Kansas to the number of 300 came on a special train Saturday and with their band aided materially by good rooting. It must be confessed that in this particular Nebraska was excelled by her rival.

Nebraska hardly played her game, and although there is no cause to regret the work done, the style of ball put up was not equal to that of a week before.

THE GAME.

Kansas kicked off to Benedict, who fumbled, but managed to return 5 yards. The first down failed to gain, but Englehard on the next play bucked the line for 5 yards and Cortelyou followed with a small gain. Englehard made 3 yards and Benedict punted with no return. Kansas started with gains of 3 and 10 yards, but were forced to punt on the third down, with 3 yards to gain. Benedict caught the ball and made a small return and Englehard made the desired 5 yards in two yards, followed by a 7 yard line buck. Bell went around the end for 5 yards and added 4 yards more. Bender made 10 yards, Cortelyou 3, Englehard 2, Mason 1, Englehard 5 and Bell 11 until the ball reached the 15 yard line. Swift plays carried it still further until Etchen made a steal and ran the length of the field with Thorpe hard after him. The umpire was "on" and the Jayhawkers had the pleasure of seeing Englehard go over the line on the second play. Benedict kicked goal.

Kansas kicked off to Benedict on the 5 yard line and he returned 10 yards. Thorpe and Cortelyou failed to gain and Benedict kicked 35 yards to Pooler, who returned 3 yards. Kansas made 5 yards on the third down, but Nebraska held them and Love kicked to Benedict on the 15 yard line. The Cornhuskers carried the pigskin 15 yards, but were forced to kick. Kansas made here 5 yards, but punted again with no return. A series of successful plays carried the ball to the 22 yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. Kansas punted to Bender, who returned 20 yards and time was called.

Second Half.

Benedict kicked off to Kansas to the 20 yard line. A 3 yard return was made, but the visitors were forced to kick again. Bender returned 10 yards, but Nebraska failed to gain and Benedict punted. Cortelyou sped down the field, downing the Jayhawkers in his tracks. Kansas made 10 yards, and changed fullbacks, Mosher going in to succeed Love. Englehard was hurt and Mickel went in for Nebraska. Kansas continued her gains and made 25 yards more before the ball was fumbled and fell into the hands of Mickel, who began his hurdling, making 10 yards. Bell, Cortelyou and Thorpe followed with good gains, but Kansas secured the ball on downs on the 25 yard line. Five yards around the end followed. Here Mickles went in at left half for Kansas. Nebraska secured the ball on a fumble again, and on a fake place kick Bender went through the line and down the field for a touchdown before the crowd realized what was happening. Goal was missed.

Kansas kicked to Westover, and without any losses the ball was pushed down the field to the 15 yards line. On the third down, with 3 yards to gain, Benedict kicked goal from the field, making the score 16 to 0. Only a few seconds of play remained, before time was called.

GRADUATE CLUB MEETS

Auspicious Opening for Collegiate Year—Interesting Talks by Several Prominent Men.

The Graduate club held its first meeting at the home of Professor Fossler last Saturday evening. About one hundred were present and this is considered unusually auspicious for the work of the year. Miss Charlotte Hullhorst opened the program by singing a selection from Van de Water. The president, Professor Grummann, spoke briefly on the aims of the club, emphasizing that it attempted to broaden the intellectual interest of the post-graduate students of the university as well as guard them from social isolation. The plans for the year were briefly outlined. The programs are to consist of papers on special lines of research intended for those who are not specializing in the branch considered, and of the discussion of questions of interest to post-graduate circles generally.

Dean Davis gave a most interesting talk on "A Century of Mathematics." He reviewed the various changes which have come about in mathematical reasoning during the last century, and made a very abstract subject strikingly interesting by his ingenious presentation.

Chancellor Andrews opened the discussion on "The Influence of the Three Years' College Course upon Post-graduate Work." The Chancellor declared that he was inclined to favor the change, believing that both the undergraduate and graduate departments would be benefited. He said he believed a large number of able men and women would become college students who are at present deterred on account of the expenses of a four years' course. Many students who have hitherto been forced to close their college course when they have obtained their A. B., would under the new arrangement find it possible to undertake graduate work. Whether more would actually take advanced degrees or not did not, according to the speaker, seem to affect the question, since the effectiveness of instruction can not be gauged by the degree granted.

Professor A. Ross Hill called attention to the fact that under the new system there might be a large number of able students from whom to choose post-graduate students and that this would probably counteract the apparent disadvantage of having a shorter period of preparation.

Professor Ward spoke briefly also on the subject and pointed out some of the dangers involved in the change.

After the transaction of routine business, college songs were sung. Professor Kimball played the accompaniments, and succeeded in stirring the members to that pitch of enthusiasm necessary to the singing of college songs.

After refreshments were served an hour was spent in renewing and forming acquaintances. This part of the evening was especially enjoyed because a number of the professors from the University of Kansas were present.

Young Women's Convention.

The convention of the Young Woman's Christian association which has been in session since Friday closed last night. It was the seventeenth annual convention of the state association, and was representative of twelve affiliated organizations. About sixty delegates attended.

The opening meeting was held in Palladian hall Friday morning when the organization was completed and officers elected as follows: President, Mrs. J. E. Tuttle; first vice president, Miss Harford; second vice president, Miss Price; third vice president, Miss Vance; recording secretaries, Misses Craig and Venum.

After cordial greetings were extended to the visitors, the secretary's report was heard. It showed that two new organizations have been formed in the state, one at Cotner and one at Chadron.

The Friday evening session was held in the university chapel. Mr. J. B. Bailey, state secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, addressed the convention on "Opportunity."

At the Saturday morning session the budget for the coming year was presented by Mrs. F. M. Hall. It asked for about $400 to meet expenses of the association. Subscriptions by local organizations were liberal and the amount was nearly raised.

Chancellor Andrews addressed the afternoon meeting on "Importance of Christian Training in a Student's Life."

The Saturday evening recreation in the armory was a pleasing feature of the program. The delegates met for a social hour, and enjoyed themselves by playing games. Light refreshments were served and a general good time is reported.

Yesterday's meetings were held at the First Baptist church, and were led by Miss Weldy, Mrs. E. F. Byers, and Dr. H. O. Rowlands.

The closing address was made by Miss Ruth Paxton, student secretary for the American committee. Miss Hays, of the National committee, also assisted in the meetings. She gave a very interesting report of the world's assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, which she attended.

Ed Reagan, formerly of the university and a graduate of the Kirksville Medical College, is practicing medicine at Indianapolis, Ind.

The approach of early evening darkness is bringing forth appreciated improvements in the lighting of various department rooms. Pedagogy has attached three new mantel burners to the old ghostly-light gas jets in U. 201, and the State Historical society has added two ornamental and useful gas lamps to its office equipment.
