HACK RATES RAISED

Proprietors of Carriage Lines Combine on Rates Charged Students—Panhellenic Action.

A member of the Pan-Hellenic Congress expresses himself as follows concerning the recent action of the hack companies:

The proprietors of the barns have seen fit to raise the rental of a carriage, an act thoroughly condemned by all who have occasion to use carriages for the various social functions of the university.

The Pan-Hellenic Congress will take action on the matter, and henceforth all fraternity men will attempt to boycott the hack companies, as far as it is in their power to do so. As all of the barns have gone into a combine it would be useless to patronize one more than another, and so the best way seems to be to do without carriages altogether, except when absolutely necessary. This is a matter in which the Congress has a great deal of influence, and if the fraternities are in unison they can so control matters that the new ruling will not be a source of profit to the said companies.

Under present conditions the barns derive considerable support from university people.

In other universities students receive a special rate. In Boulder, Colo., for instance, a carriage costs just half as much as in Lincoln under the new ruling. If the Congress takes the action proposed, the ladies will perhaps be the ones who will suffer most, but if things work as intended it is hoped that the companies will see fit to restore the former rates.

Chancellor to Address Y. M. C. A.

Chancellor Andrews will address the Y. M. C. A. in their parlors Sunday at 3 p. m. His subject will be announced later.

Since the hour of the regular Y. M. C. A. meetings has been changed from 4 to 3, they have been much better attended. Secretary Ross is pleased with the progress of the association and extends a cordial invitation to all to attend these Sunday afternoon meetings. Students are always welcome at the association parlors.

Academy Art Poster.

The plans for the Lincoln Academy poster have been completed. It will be a purely Nebraska product. Mr. Beans, who was the artist, succeeded in making it a very attractive poster. Miss Hayden submitted the color scheme. The lettering and decorative scroll will be red, the figure of the lady a full cream and the background an olive green. U. G. Cornell will make the zinc plates.

The Academy has contracted for 1,000 copies. The dimensions are 10½ by 18 inches. They will be completed for distribution about the middle of December.

This poster is the result of the art poster competition held last May, at which about eighteen drawings were submitted. Mr. Beans' decorative production took the first prize and the drawing submitted by Miss Branson took the second prize.

The principal intends to send one copy to each family of the students represented in the Academy as holiday greetings, also complimentary to the teachers of the Academy. Several hundred will be sent to principals and superintendents throughout the state. If the posters are as attractive as they now promise to be they will be placed on sale, at cost, in book stores for those who are art lovers.

The law students are wearing a pin of a very nice design.

MEDICS HEAR BOLTON

Professor of Psychology Gives Advice to Future Doctors —Society Colors Chosen.

The Medical society met last evening at the usual hour in M. 301. After a half-hour's quiz under Mr. Sturdevant, the society listened to a talk by Dr. Bolton on "The Relation of Psychology to Medicine."

Dr. Bolton first touched on medicine as a part of religious services in olden times, when the priest had charge of both religion and medicine. Today the doctor shares the duties of the priest at birth, in sickness and in death.

A physician, said the speaker, should know the lives of his patients; he should know their individual characteristics if he would be a success. He should know their peculiarities, and since the peculiarities of men are in a large part mental, it is plain that the practice of medicine rests in part on a practical psychology. Mind is a reality and the physician must deal with it as such.

Dr. Bolton then explained suggestion as the natural method of affecting minds. Hypnotism, he said, has become a prominent factor in medicine. Some of the patients in our asylums can be dealt with only through hypnotism.

Dr. Bolton cautioned young physicians against the free use of drugs, and advised them to let the people know as much of their profession as possible. He stated that physicians are successful in proportion as they are personally attractive to people.

The society then held a short business meeting in which scarlet and cream were selected as the society colors, and arrangements made for the appointment of a committee to get the society together for a picture to be put in the Sombrero.

Palladian Program.

The Palladian Literary society will give its alumni program tonight. All are invited to attend. The numbers are as follows:

- Vocal solo, Theodore Auman, '98.
- "Formation of the Delian Society," Rev. O. W. Fifer, '89.
- Debate—Resolved, that women should be segregated in the University of Nebraska. Affirmative, Howard Caldwell; negative, Lawrence Fossler.
- "Palladian Home Song," Quartette.
- President, Mrs. G. T. Babson.
- Secretary, G. F. Fisher.
- Critic, O. B. Polk.

Miss Louise White has been obliged to temporarily discontinue her studies in the university on account of illness and has gone to her home in Omaha to recuperate.

Y. W. C. A.

The attention of all university women is called to the meetings for women students to be held next Friday, Saturday and Sunday by Miss Ruth Paxson, student secretary for the American committee of Young Woman's Christian associations.

Miss Paxson has had an extended experience in association work, having occupied the position of state secretary of the Iowa Young Woman's Christian association for three years. She has led the conference for students at the Lake Geneva summer conference previous to her call to the secretaryship by the American committee. She is a very attractive and forceful speaker and any woman student interested in this leading woman's movement cannot afford to miss hearing Miss Paxson and take this opportunity to meet her. Miss Paxson will give a Bible reading on Friday at the association room at 1 o'clock; and at 5 o'clock there will be an association rally in Union hall.

On Saturday at 4 o'clock, in the association room.

On Sunday Miss Paxson will speak to young women in the old chapel at 4 o'clock. All women are cordially invited to these meetings.

Mathematical Seminar.

The third meeting of the mathematical seminar takes place on Saturday evening, December 6th, at 7:30 p. m., in room 302, Mechanic Arts building, University of Nebraska.

The program is as follows:

1. Graphic solution of a problem in hydraulics, Prof. O. V. P. Stout.
2. On a weighted course in calculus, Prof. G. R. Chatburn.
3. Discussion by Prof. T. M. Hodgman and others.

R. E. MORITZ, Secretary.

Miss Grace Evans will entertain the D. G. S. club this evening.

Misses Raper and Sterling will entertain the J. U. G. tomorrow evening.

Professor Barbour and Mr. Carriker leave for Seward tonight, where they will exhibit stereopticon views.

The city Y. M. C. A. basket-ball team is trying to arrange a series of games with the first squad of the university.

The Girls' Social Hour club of the Academy has its regular meeting next Monday afternoon with Mrs. Hodgman, 700 North Sixteenth street. This is rather a unique organization, and is planned to afford the young women an opportunity to discuss questions important to themselves, such as dress, diet, proper amusement and peculiar temptations.

No pains have been spared by those in charge of the arrangements to make the freshman hop this evening at Fraternity hall one of the leading and most successful class affairs of the season. In the matter of the receipts, a departure will be made from all precedents in that all money over expenses will go to the class fund and not to any certain individuals.
