

GREAT NAMES

When fast passenger train service across the continent was first adopted by the Union Pacific railroad, the first train was named "The Overland Flyer," a daily train; the second was named "The Golden Gate Special," a weekly train. These trains have given way to the great California train, "The Overland Limited," which runs every day in the year—the fastest and most superb train traversing the Western continent.

Only three nights from Chicago and only two nights from Missouri River points to California and Oregon via Union Pacific. Full information cheerfully furnished on application to

U P I D E E.
A new word has brightened in town,
Up-ides, U-pi-da,
It's a modest talker made good, U-pi-de-lal!
The way it will, and pre-ix, too,
You never saw such a hull-a-loo,
CHUMS! U-pi-dee-lal etc.
Her voice is clear as a soaring lark's,
And her wit is like those trolleys that sparkle
When across a muddy street she flits,
The boys all have a common fit,
The turn of her legs turns all eyes, too,
There's always a state to sit her new;
'Tis enough to make a parson drunk,
To hear her sing old coo-a-sho-lunk!

The above, and three other NEW verses to U P I D E E, and NEW WORDS, only, up-to-date, to many others of the popular OLD FAMILIAR TUNES, be sides OLD FAMILIAR, are also many NEW SONGS, SONGS OF ALL THE COLLEGES.

The Teachers' Meeting

The thirty-seventh session of the Nebraska State Teachers' association that met last week at the university was the most successful session in the history of the association. Registration reached 1,863, over three hundred more than ever before attended. This unusually large attendance was due probably to several causes. The excellent program that had been prepared, the extra efforts of the officers of the association as well as of the different sections, the clemency of the weather contributed to swell the numbers. The halls and recitation rooms in which the various section meetings were held were inadequate to accommodate the crowds that wished to hear the lectures and discussions.

On Wednesday preliminary meetings were held and organizations set in running order. A notable result of the day's proceedings was the set of resolutions adopted by the educational council. The resolutions favor establishing two state normals instead of one. These institutions would be located one east and one west of the sixth principal meridian. They also recommend the institution of a board of examiners in each county who would be under the direction of the state superintendent and whose duties would consist in examining and grading the manuscript of those who apply for first grade certificates. Wednesday evening the teachers were entertained at St. Paul's church by Frank R. Roberson's illustrated lecture on "Imperial India." The appreciative audience completely filled the church.

Thursday was devoted to section meetings, at which such prominent educators as Prof. W. S. Jackman, dean of the School of Education of the Chicago University; J. G. Schurman, president of Cornell, and Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of Pennsylvania, discussed problems that now engage the attention of educators throughout the country. In the business meeting of the general session of the nature study conference that met in Memorial hall, the executive committee was authorized to appropriate $150 to defray expenses of carrying into the supreme court the Cass county case now in the district court of that county. The case involves the constitutionality of the law providing for free attendance at high schools and the legality of the establishment of the adjacent district of Cass county.

President Schurman's lecture on "Our Philippine Policy," given in the evening at the St. Paul's church, was a rare treat for all thinking people and especially for teachers in public schools, who ought to understand thoroughly the relation of the United States to our possessions in the Orient.

Friday officers were elected for each section and for the entire association. In the program of the day three prominent educators, Sarah L. Arnold of Boston, J. G. Schurman of Cornell, and Nathan C. Schaeffer of Philadelphia, lectured to the teachers.

In the election, C. A. Fulmer of Pawnee City, was made president of the association; W. M. Kern, of Columbus, vice-president; A. O. Thomas, of Kearney, secretary; J. E. Delzell, of Lexington, member of the executive committee; W. C. Smith, of Plattsmouth, member of the reading circle board, and Prof. C. E. Bessey, of the university, member of the educational council.

The session closed Friday evening with a lecture on "Does Education Pay?" by N. C. Schaeffer.
