The University club in New York is said to be the most magnificent club in the world. Its membership, resident 500, and non-resident 1,500, is made up of college men—wholly graduates—of every college in the country. The land upon which the club house stands cost $800,000, and the buildings over $1,200,000. It employs 200 servants at an expense of $50,000 a year, and conducts a restaurant the receipts of which are $70,000 annually. In the club house are a library of 10,000 volumes, swimming tanks and every other convenience.

Among the new books added to the library is one entitled "Battle With the Slums," by Rils. Mr. Rils, who has been a police reported in New York for a great many years, is in a position to speak with authority and what he says is always interesting. He has probably done more to bring about reform in the slum district in New York than any other one man, and has received much credit from Mr. Roosevelt and other reformers. Mr. Rils investigates a problem, discovers the remedy for existing evils, and then proceeds to have influential persons carry out his plans.

There are about 350 colleges and universities scattered throughout the United States. Of this number 140 are universities, 269 of the institutions are co-educational, 17 are for the education of women only, and 11 are for colored students. Harvard is the oldest university, having been founded at Newtown, afterward Cambridge, Mass., in 1636. Of the men presiding over these institutions, 102 are clergymen. The attendance comprises an army of 112,600 men and women. The University of Michigan heads the colleges with the greatest number of living graduates, having over 15,000. Harvard has graduated, in her 266 years of existence, 25,000.—Lafayette.

Junior Laws

The Junior Laws held a spirited meeting in the class room yesterday morning and decided several matters of considerable importance. The class voted to adopt class colors. The matter of class caps was also considered, and a committee on caps and colors was appointed.

Literary Notes

Prof. J. I. Wyer, who was appointed last fall as secretary of the American Library association, has lately accepted that position and is now sending out circulars and announcements of a meeting to be held in Niagara Falls next June.

Some valuable books have just been added to the list in the library. The most noted of these are: "Insect Life," by Samuel J. Hunter; "Literature of American History," by J. N. Larnard; "Tolstoi as Man and Artist," by Mirejkowski; three volumes of "Schiller and Goethe," by Brame; "Longfellow," by Higginson, and "Choreau," by Annie Russell Marble; "Martyrdom in Missouri," by Lifturch. The National Geographic Magazine, which has formerly been the property of the astronomy department, is now shelved in the library.

Request is made by those in charge of the library that new magazines, when used by students, be returned to their proper shelves in order to facilitate the finding of them for others.

At Convocation

President Tucker of Dartmouth College speaks at convocation this morning.

The law library of Michigan lacks only 376 volumes of having twenty thousand books on its shelves. "Memorabilia" books are for sale by Professor Caldwell. These are worth 25 cents and may be used for kodak pictures.

A movement is on foot to give the members of the intercollegiate debating teams the right to wear "W" combined with cross gavels.—Williams Weekly.

The Newbury memorial organ now being installed at Yale will be ready for use by April 1st. The organ, which is said to be one of the finest in the United States, cost $250,000.

Company B will be entertained at the Sigma Alpha house Friday night. The company gathering was to have taken place Saturday night, but the date was changed in order that all may have the opportunity to attend the Haskell Indian basket-ball game.

Physical examination of basket-ball men is being held this week at the office of the physical director.

Seniors at Brown who are delinquent in class assessments are not allowed to vote at class elections.

Several members of Delta Gamma will go to Omaha Wednesday to attend the wedding of Miss Edith Jackson and Mr. Ralph Hoagland. Miss Jackson is an alumnus of the university and a member of Delta Gamma.

The Equipoise
WAIST
For Girls in Gymnasium

The hygienic principle of support from the shoulders in embodied in these waists, and the perfect modeling and careful adjustment of each part with relation to each other, so equally distributes the strain and pull of all garments attached, that their weight is hardly perceptible and the "state of being balanced" is fully accomplished, as the name Equipoise implies.

The front of the waist has always been cut on something of the "straight front" idea, but was susceptible of further change in that direction. Certain alterations have been made in the patterns to accomplish this, also to lower the bust and meet the requirements created by the improved physique of American women. These changes have greatly added to the comfort and style of this already popular waist.

Prices $2.25, $2.50 and $3.00.
