A recent issue of the "Daily" stated that Mr. Doane Powell of Omaha, was working on the Herald. Mr. Powell formerly worked on the Herald, but is now studying art under Mr. Laurie Wallace in Omaha.

As was announced in the "Daily" last week the Debating Association has placed on sale tickets for the coming debates. Heretofore tickets have been sold separately for each debate, but this year it was decided to sell a season ticket, admitting the holder to the six coming debates for 35 cents.

Debating contests are never a source of profit financially, and the Debating Association is selling the six tickets at such a nominal price in order that more will attend these contests, and give the debaters the support they need.

Large attendance will not only encourage the speakers, it will necessarily arouse more interest in the intellectual contests, and we should all work for such a result. There is apparently more interest being taken in debates this year than ever before. But notwithstanding the high plane upon which debating has been placed in the University of Nebraska, and the brilliant victories of last year, there are a great many who fail to appreciate the value of such mental training. By the new plan it is hoped that appreciation for real debating will become more general.

The members of the faculty, fraternities and literary societies have manifested the proper spirit, and all that is needed now is the co-operation of the student body.

Dr. Harvey Link, of Millard, father-in-law of Cashier Law of the Columbia National bank, was a visitor to the Historical library yesterday. Dr. Link claims to be the oldest practicing physician in the state, having been a doctor for forty-six years.

The ice fete which opened at the University of Wisconsin January 6 is a decided success.

In the United States and Canada there are 616 Y. M. C. A. student associations with a total membership of 38,000.

According to the last census there are 98,923 students enrolled in American college, or one student to every 780 inhabitants.

Among the larger schools Chicago has shown the greatest increase over last year. It has passed Michigan and now ranks third. With this exception the ranking of the universities is the same. Harvard, is first with 5,468; Columbia second, with 5,352; Chicago third, 4,296; and Michigan fourth, 3,746.

Joseph A. Pipal, formerly football coach at Doane, and who was prominent in Beloit athletics, while attending that institution, has been chosen physical culture director at Bellevue. He was received with great enthusiasm by the students. He will have charge of baseball and track work and will coach the football team next season.
