Members of Second Team Re-membered—Fourteen Players Awarded Sweaters—Eager Elected.

The Athletic Board held its regular monthly meeting last night and transacted considerable routine business. In the absence of President Lees, Vice President Ringer presided.

There has been some anxiety on the part of members of the second team as to whether they were to be given sweaters. All this was put to rest when the matter came up before the board at last night's meeting. In consideration for their conscientious work the following men were voted sweaters: Captain Newton, Victor Englehart Frazier, Walton, Myers, Scott, Hummel, Marsh, Hutchins, Hickel, Mellick, Morris, Briggs and Simodymus.

Mr. Earl Eager was elected assistant baseball manager. Mr. Eager is a Junior and has always taken an interest in athletics, having played three years with the football squad. He has had considerable business experience, which will aid him in the discharge of his duties.

Many matters pertaining to open dates of the football season were discussed and several questions decided. It was voted to play the Haskell Indians on October 17, providing arrangements with other institutions do not interfere. Minnesota may schedule a game and for this reason the dates for several games can not be arranged at present.

Nebraska has not scheduled a game with Missouri as yet. Correspondence is being carried on with Denver University. The latter is anxious to meet our team and it is probable that our men will play in Denver on October 10. South Dakota desires to play at Lincoln and Manager Buckner was given authority to schedule games for October dates with one or more of the following schools: South Dakota, Ames and Grinnell.

For several years a practice game has been played with Doane College, and although Nebraska has rolled up large scores the games have afforded good opportunities to try the candidates. It seems at present, however, that Doane feels that her reputation can not be benefitted by a game with the University. For this reason it is very probable that Nebraska will play one of the numerous colleges which are very anxious to meet our team, and it is difficult to understand how we are going to lose anything by the action of the Crete institution.

The matter of permitting the second team to join the State League was left to the football committee with power to act. It is believed that such a move would arouse interest which would result in the development of better football material.

An inter-fraternity bowling league has been organized at Minnesota.

Comments on Saturday Game

The crowd that attended the basket ball game Saturday was hardly all that could be expected in point of numbers, but those that were there did their best to make up for the absentees by being unusually demonstrative.

Perhaps the smallness of the crowd was due to the fact that many expected a walk-away for the Indians, and preferred to stay away rather than see their own team defeated. If such was the case, the motive can hardly be considered commendable. On such an occasion a large crowd of supporters is more necessary than at any other time, and if there had been more interest taken in the game perhaps the result would have been different.

Haskell certainly sends forth a strong aggregation and it is much to the credit of the Varsity that they held them down to the score they did. Our men for the most part lacked experience and considering the fact that it was their first big game, they conducted themselves very creditably.

The Redmen made a very favorable showing with their blue regulation suits and were quite a contrast to the Nebraska men, who as yet are not equipped. New suits have been ordered and will arrive soon.

As yet the schedule is not complete, but will be published soon. Three different trips are under discussion, and it is undecided which will be taken.

A new and pleasing feature of the basket ball game Saturday night from the spectator's point of view, was the ease with which the crowd could keep in touch with the progress of the game. The score was kept in large figures on a large blackboard where everyone could see it. Heretofore the score has been kept on a small board at the side of the room where only a few could read it and many would attend the game and not even know the final score.

Palladians

After a short program last Friday evening the Palladians indulged in an old-time spell-down. About fifty Palladians lined up to participate. Miss Gibson and Mr. Lightner "choosed up siders," and Miss Payne acted the part of "teacher." Miss Boose won the prize and Mr. Filley the booby prize. Great merriment was caused at times by the blunders made by some of the members.

The class in American history 7 is just now entering on a discussion of the very interesting and pertinent subject, "The Negro Problem."

The Viceroy of Hankin, acting for the Chinese government, has presented the Columbia University library with a set of the first issue of the great Chinese encyclopedia, numbering 5,200 volumes, in recognition of the fact that Columbia is the first American university to establish a course in Chinese.

The Haskell Indian quartet sang at two of the church services in the city Sunday evening. Their work was good, showing that the Indian can hold his own in other affairs than athletics.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Formal Introduction of the Club to University People at Charter Day Period Next Month.

Arrangements have been almost completed looking to a concert given by the University Glee Club on Saturday evening, February 14, at Memorial Hall. This is at the Charter Day period of the school year and has been selected as the best time to introduce the new Glee Club formally to the University, and the public. As yet no definite announcements will be made concerning the program, but it will be varied and up to as high a standard as can be reached by any like organization.

An effort will be made to make this the most notable college affair of the year conducted by students of the University. All organizations are now requested to remember the date so no conflicts will be experienced.

Company B Entertains

The commissioned officers of Company B entertained their company at the Sigma Alpha house Friday night. There were about sixty in attendance, and all present report a pleasant evening. A general social time was indulged in while the guests were gathering, after which they were called to order and a civil organization was formed. Sergeant Shorey was elected president, Corporal Daughters, vice president and F. R. Beers, secretary-treasurer.

After the organization was perfected Captain Chase addressed the men in well chosen words on military courtesies and deportment. Ex-Captain Wallace, '02, followed with a well received speech. Several of the men were called upon and responded with enthusiastic talks emphasizing the importance of company spirit.

Ping-pong and several fun making contests of a minor nature afforded the amusement for the rest of the evening. In the ping-pong contest W. R. Calvert won first prize, which was a University pin. New members learned the company yell and some enthusiasm and spirit was aroused. Refreshments were served and the entertainment broke up about midnight.

Bowling Among Frats

During the past few weeks considerable interest has been taken in bowling by the fraternity men of the University. A sort of a league has been formed, composed of the Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, Delta Upsilon and Alpha Theta Chi fraternities.

Reed, Scribner, Shimer, and Christie have so far beaten all of the above named fraternities with the exception of the Alpha Theta Chi, with whom they have arranged a match for tonight.

Choice of Pictures

There is some speculation among University people as to the result of the voting at the art gallery Saturday night. Of the six pictures voted on "The Marshes," by Lucy Conant, and "Looking Up The River," by E. H. Barnard, were the choice of the majority. Whether both of these pictures will be bought or not is yet a question. Negotiations are being carried on looking toward the purchase of at least one of them. It has been suggested that the painting by Birge Harrison, "The Howard Bridge," be purchased instead of those named by the crowd Saturday night. The reason for this is that the night scene of the bridge was a favorite last year, but could not be purchased by the association and a large number voted for it again this year.

Several pictures have been sold from the association, and will remain in the city. Besides the "Adoration of the Shepherds," which is to be placed in the pro-cathedral, the following have been disposed of to residents of Lincoln: "Plymouth Pines," by Mrs. A. H. Barrows, "Early Autumn," by C. H. Davis, "Fisher's Cottage," by Louise Wood, "Chrysanthemums," by Sara L. Hayden and two pictures by Miss Cora Parker that were not catalogued.

Library Notes

The number of students in the library Saturday was exceptionally large, the room being filled by students preparing papers for psychology and "cramming" for the examinations.

The University library has been made a depository for the books of the Library of Congress. A large library in each section of the country is chosen for this purpose. The catalogue is made up of private cards the same as that of our own library. A hundred thousand installments have been received and more are coming each day.

Commandant Talks

The final week before examination is being taken up in the military department by lectures given by Captain Chase to the separate companies. Each company has its special meeting.

Last night Company A was instructed in military discipline and etiquette. Every cadet was reminded of the duties of a soldier in preparation. Matters concerning the Sombrero assessment and the company picture were given attention.

The students of the classical courses at Wisconsin have decided to prepare a classical play which they will present at Madison and Milwaukee. To insure against financial loss they are endeavoring to raise $3,000 from the alumni members and others interested, which will be used only in case the play should prove a failure financially. The play has not yet been chosen, but will be from some old Greek or Latin author.

The student play at Indiana will be Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing."
