College Settlement.

Wanted: One Hundred Dollars, to remove the last vestige of debt.

Many students of the University have contributed very freely to the support of the work of the College Settlement Association. It is believed that every student in the University would aid the cause with his or her mite were he acquainted with the plans and aims of the association. In the first organization it was mainly a student endeavor, and its workers were all from the University. At present Professor Prevey has charge of the University Settlement house, located at Twentieth and N streets. The board of managers consists of those citizens of Lincoln, then members of the faculty, and four students.

PLANS.
The plans are far reaching, but call for more money and more workers. Classes in manual training, in domestic science, in sewing, in home decoration, etc., are under way or in contemplation. Evening classes in every subject for which a call may be made by girl or boy at work during the day should find some competent instructor among the students ready to give one or two evening per week. A small library is already provided; it should be increased as fast as possible. Game rooms exist in which the boys and girls of the neighborhood may find better attractions than those afforded by the streets. Also a free platform is planned for, where all social, moral, and industrial questions of the day may be discussed, and thus varying interests come to understand each other better.

NEEDS.
This brief outline of the work leads me to say, that to make this work possible the board must appeal to the great mass of the students who have aided little or not at all for their dimes, quarters and half dollars to the extent of 100 dollars. As treasurer I wish to report in general the financial conditions, and appeal to you all personally to help a worthy cause. In the future you will not miss the small donation you now make, while the sum of all your gifts may make it possible to uplift many a boy or girl now struggling under discouragements vastly beyond any you know or feel.

FINANCIAL REPORT.
For some three years the board of managers had been gathering funds to erect a home for the work. By September 6, 1902, there had been collected in cash from citizens of Lincoln, members of the faculty, and students of the University, $1,730.58. Donations in labor and material of an estimated value of $322.23 had also been made, or a total of $2,052.81, which had been used in erecting the home now owned by the association, standing on its own lot. From September 6, 1902, to February 7, 1903, there was received by the treasurer the following amounts:

| CONTRIBUTIONS 1902-3. | |
|--------------------------------------|---------|
| From citizens of Lincoln..... | $34.50 |
| Net from Miss Stone's lecture..... | 94.55 |
| Junior-Sophomore football games..... | 22.10 |
| Net "David Garrick"..... | 95.75 |
| Sales Memorabilia..... | 21.45 |
| Student collections..... | 18.12 |

These sums have all been used in payments on a debt of about three hundred dollars, necessitated in furnishing the house, putting in a furnace, and making the improvements and fittings for the work. Within the last few days, since February 7, about $135.00 has been given by the citizens of Lincoln. There is yet needed to clear everything, furnish the basement, and equip for manual training and domestic science, some $200.00. Will you, my fellow students, rally to the aid of this work once more and give $100.00 of this amount?

Yours for every good cause,
H. W. CALDWELL.
Parts of each day this week there will be located in the various halls of the University numerous tables at which student subscriptions to the College Settlement fund will be received. Names and amounts will be recorded, and a list of the donors published in next Saturday's Nebraskan. Make the record clear the $100 mark and relieve this University enterprise from the debt which handicaps it.

Miss Hazel Herbert, of Omaha, is visiting at the University with her sister Agnes this week.
