Considerable complaint is being made of the condition of the interior of the chemistry laboratory. The building is badly in need of repair and the instructors and classes are obliged to work under adverse conditions. The floors are warped and badly worn, and the plastering is loose in places. Not long ago a large piece of plaster fell and ruined a fine set of balance scales valued at $125. The water pipes are also in bad condition, and have required the constant services of a plumber all winter. This condition of affairs should not be allowed to stand; steps should be taken at once to make the necessary repairs. Delay in this matter now will be productive of increased inconvenience later on, and is a decidedly expensive kind of economy.

An hour a day spent profitably on a lesson now will be more productive of good results than many spent just previous to examinations in feverish attempts to recover lost ground.

Bulletin No. 78 of the Nebraska Experiment Station, which has just been published, records the results of a hundred tests of macaroni wheat conducted in various parts of Nebraska in 1902. These reports are tabulated by counties and show the yields of macaroni wheat as compared with winter and spring wheat in the same sections. The bulletin may be obtained free of cost by residents of the state upon writing to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lincoln, Neb.

The classes in domestic science are now making visits to the flour mills and bakeries of the city, as a part of their practical work in connection with bread making.

A Suggestion.

Mr. Editor: The time has evidently come in University life for a stand to be taken for the elimination of the personal element in the administration of social affairs in which large sums of money are concerned. The University has labored long enough under the impression that large social affairs must be placed in the hands of one or two people who reap the benefits of the affair and replenish pockets by these means.

Three things can be done, with perhaps equally good effects. Either reduce the charges to such large affairs as the junior and senior proms, the military dances, the Pan-Hellenic hop, or put the present inflated receipts more into decorations, refreshments, and music, or put the managers of these functions in a position whereby they cannot make large sums off the University public.

This is not meant to throw any compromising light upon past chairmen and others, but to warn the student body what the present practice is apt to lead to. This is meant to awaken interested parties to anything which ought to be attended to.

The band informals are the best affairs planned for many years, for the simple reason that the receipts will be put to some definite purpose in the purchasing of music and equipment. It is suggested that the coming Pan-Hellenic dance be conducted as a general Greek affair, in which no one can make an unwarranted amount of money, by which those in attendance will wholly enjoy themselves, and by which, if there should be any excess, the amount could be put in a Pan-Hellenic treasury, ready for use when the proper time comes for student support of any worthy objects.

This is all suggested as a way out of difficulties which at present confront the students at Nebraska. H.

Convocation Notes

Program for the Week:

Chaplain for the week, Rev. L. P. Ludden.

Friday—Musical program:
Piano Solo—Hymnus, Capriccio, by von Fielitz, Miss Anne Stuart.

Soprano Solo—"Florian Song," by Godard; "What Shall I Do?" by Bischof, Miss Bessie Burruss.

Cornet Solo—"The Shepherds Morning Song," by Suppe, Mr. Will O'Shea.

Yesterday's Exercises:

A large and appreciative audience attended convocation yesterday morning. Miss Howell gave a reading from Richard Harding Davis, entitled "The Prodigal Son," and in response to a hearty encore added a short "Flirtation Poem," which was warmly applauded by the students. The hour was thoroughly enjoyed by the unusually large audience.

The class in German 4, under Professor Grummann, will take up the study of Wilhelm Tell next week.

HOLD ON!

Don't buy shirts until these are seen. Someone will be sorry if you do. Style enough in these for a king. Wear enough for a worker. Perhaps the prices are not high enough to tempt the ultra-swell dresser, but they should act as a magnet to the economically inclined.

Our Men's Shirts at $1.00 are extra good value.

TABLET STATIONERY
None Finer than Blair's

A large number of people now use tablet paper almost exclusively for their correspondence and a little information as to some very superior qualities will not come amiss.

Blair's tablet papers are positively the finest made. There are four varieties in two sizes, in cream and various tints—"Malta Bond," "Erin Linen," "Cream Wedding," and "Balbriggan." The first two are fine linen, the third a satin finish, and the last an attractive ribbed paper.

The first size twice folded fits the envelope; the larger size, called the "New Century," folded once makes a stylish size of note paper; folded once again, it fits the same envelope as the smaller size.

Blair's tablets at the uniform price of 25c.

Envelopes to match, 20c a package.
