NO CARDS OR DANCES.

Inter-Society Party Not to Indulge in Them.

A set of resolutions of rather unusual character was considered in the regular meetings of the literary societies last Friday night. The resolutions were drawn up by a joint committee appointed by the different societies to look into the matter of holding an inter-society party and they concern the practice of dancing and card playing that has hitherto been maintained at such functions. In the light of previous experience, the committee proposed to cut out of the contemplated party any forms of enjoyment like cards and dancing because of the trouble that always arises over the matter. Neither the committee nor the societies which they represented were opposed to card playing and dancing through prejudice as to right or wrong of those enjoyments, but because of the wrangling that they cause, since a large number of society members neither dance nor play cards. By planning the programs for inter-society functions so as to include those forms of amusements an extra expense is incurred upon the aggregate of society members, while only a few really care to dance and play cards. The societies were unanimous in their approval of the resolutions, but they did not adopt them permanently because such action would involve a change in the constitutions of the organizations. The action merely concerns the inter-society party which will occur Friday night, and will have no bearing upon future inter-society functions. It was thought best to make the abandonment of those amusements temporary, and not permanent, because a different class of students may next year have control of the societies.

The University of Nebraska has been chosen from the western universities to present a paper on the "Place of Art in College," at the tenth annual meeting of the Western Drawing Teachers association, to be held at Springfield, Ill., April 14 to 17. Miss Hayden, of the art department, will represent the University. This meeting is attended by delegates from all parts of the country, and from the standpoint of art teachers is considered very important.

Professor Nesbitt's five weeks' French course began yesterday. A large number of University students have enrolled, and all intending to enroll should do so at once. The classes meet in the First Christian church, corner Fourteenth and M streets, at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 and 8 p. m. Pupils may attend all three lessons a day without extra charge.

Decide It To-Night.

Lovers of indoor sport will probably have tonight the last opportunity this year of witnessing a basket-ball game. The juniors and freshmen line up tonight for the final class battle. The game will be played in the armory, and will be called at 8 p. m. The juniors have won from the sophomores by a score of 29 to 18, and the freshmen from the seniors to the tune of 22 to 7. The juniors have been practicing daily at chapel time, and the freshmen have also been putting in some good licks in this direction. The upper class men have a strong team, but will be severely handicapped on this occasion by the loss of Ludden, who is ill, and will likely be unable to help defend his class colors. Although thus put at a disadvantage, the juniors are confident of victory, and it seems to be the general impression that they will fulfil their expectations. Nevertheless, the freshmen have a swift aggregation, and if their opponents should have an off night they may be surprised by the work of the first year men. At any rate, it will be a fast and exciting contest well worth witnessing. The game has been well advertised, and a good crowd will likely be in attendance. Quite a number of city people are expected to be present.

Considerable interest has been aroused over this contest among the classes. The freshmen held a meeting this morning to stir up interest and the juniors will be out in a body to cheer their team to victory. Ten cents admission will be charged to defray janitor expenses. If there is any surplus in the treasury it will go to the team which wins tonight, and caps will be purchased with it. However, this is hardly to be expected. Dr. Clapp, R. D. Anderson and I. P. Hewitt will officiate. The line-up:

Four Days Easter.

The pleasing information was obtained Saturday from the executive office that the Easter vacation is to begin Thursday evening at 6 o'clock and continue until 8 o'clock the following Tuesday morning, giving four full days to those who wish to spend the vacation with "the folks at home," or elsewhere out of town.

Interrupted Again.

Last week the baseball men were permitted to practice outside on Monday, Tuesday and Saturday. They were yesterday compelled to return to the cage, where the battery candidates went through the old ordeal in close, dark quarters. Most of the other men took a work-out in the gym. If the weather king could hear some of the remarks made by the men concerning the manner in which he is ruling, he might be tempted to give us a few days of continued sunshine. "If cold weather continues we might organize an indoor baseball team," remarked one of the men in discussing the discouraging situation. If this same condition existed at other colleges whose teams we must meet there would be no great reason for complaint. But when we read of the splendid progress made in baseball at some of these institutions where the teams are already in fair form, while our nine has never yet lined up, it has a tendency to make University baseball enthusiasts feel somewhat sick. However, the weather cannot be altered and whatever comes will be accepted with the best grace possible.

Definite plans have been decided upon in regard to a co-operative experiment to be carried on by the school of agriculture in connection with the United States department of agriculture. It is to be a variety test, consisting principally of vegetables. The experiment station furnishes the land and has direct supervision, the department of agriculture paying the expenses. It will be supervised by the horticultural department, with Mr. B. I. Dill, a student in the University, in charge.

 April 17—Senior Prom.

Hale Rothwell has gone to his home in Creighton on account of illness.

A. J. Ludden is in school again after a week's absence on account of the mumps.

Miss Alleyne McEachron is absent this week owing to an attack of the measles.

Frank Richard, mid-year '03, and now principal of the schools at Roca, spent Sunday in the city.

Dr. J. H. Gain of the experiment station staff conducted a farmers' institute at Clearwater last Saturday.

Burt L. Doane, '02, now attending Northwestern Medical College, was called to Lincoln Saturday by the serious illness of his father.

Harry F. Reed has been confined to his room for several days with a very severely bruised foot, caused by training on the hard gymnasium floor.

Mr. A. Steel, civil engineering, '99, now engaged in mining engineering work in Mexico, is visiting the civil engineering department for a few days.

Roy Pierce, the son of Deputy State Auditor John L. Pierce, is at present very low with purpura. He has been confined to his room for the past month and has been growing constantly worse.

The engineering society will hold its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. Mr. Van Ness, of the Lincoln Gas and Electric Light company, will speak on gas and electric lighting, and Mr. V. H. Yont on automobiles.

Saturday evening the Union boys indulged in a lively discussion upon the question: Resolved, That the civilization of barbarous nations results in putting the more advanced nations at a disadvantage. Every one spoke of it as being the best club debate of the year.

Professor Dinsmore, formerly of Beatrix, sent papers recently to the department of botany describing the country near Berea college, in eastern Kentucky. This is one of the most interesting regions, from the botanist's standpoint, to be found in the United States.

The smoker recently given by the engineering society was a success in getting the students acquainted with each other, and arrangements are now being made to have a banquet before the close of the year. Verne Hedge has charge of the arrangements, and no pains will be spared to make this a success.
