A table green.
A cue and balls—
An absence long
From study halls.
A warning note,
A brace—exams—
An anxious week,
And then some "d—ns."
More cigarettes,
A joyless laugh—
Then home to dad,
No fatted calf.

Cornell University reports the beginnings of recuperation from the long siege of typhoid fever.

The University of Idaho Argonaut re-

"lack of financial support."

Without the education.
—Oberlin Review.

The Cardinal and The Sphinx, rival papers of Wisconsin University, will meet on the diamond for the settlement of their athletic reputations.

There are a few things in the world which cannot be explained. Here are some:—

Youthful Freshie,
Electric Plates,
Flash in the Lab, Golden Gates—but some things can not be explained.

Hockey Trophy,
Freshie Try,
Of course they win,
I wonder why—but
some things can not be explained.

Exams. are coming,
Freshies grind,
Results out, Left behind—but
some things can not be explained.

Anticipation,
Turpitation,
Participation,
Don't care-ation—but
some things can not be explained.
—McGill Outlook.

Iowa has so far raised $3774 toward the $5,000 athletic debt which the board has declared must be paid before intercollegiate contests may be resumed.

A college paper is a great institution. The editor gets the blame, the manager the experience, and the printer the money—if there is any.—Knox

Oh, what a tangled web we weave,
When first we practice to deceive,
But when we've had more practice, my,
How fluently we then do lie.
—O. W. U. Transcript.

Uni. Michigan Daily: Paul Jones, who did such effective work in smashing holes through opposing football teams last fall, may never be able to play another game. Jones was a star player on Michigan's champion team, and the above news is announced with regret. Since his illness, his heart has given him considerable trouble and its condition is such that it would be dangerous for him to do any violent exercise. The doctors have forbidden him to play football and Michigan will lose his excellent services.

"Through in a hurry, weren't you?"
"Yep. Professor helped me."
"How's that?"
"Saw me cribbing."—Ohio Lantern.

Stanford Palo Alto: That any Stanford man will deliberately light his pipe or cigarette on the quad, by many is not to be conceived, for those who have a wholesome respect for the things that mean much to Stanford, will not break one of her traditions, and do not like to believe that there are students on the campus who will break them. The man who smokes on the quad is not a true Stanford man and he deserves the censure of the student body, as much as the man who breaks training rules, and he should expect it.

Laundry Notice: Hereafter an extra charge of five cents will be made for laundering each cuff used as a dance program or worn on an examination.
