THREE OUT OF FOUR.

Uni Wins One Game From Leaguers, and Two Others.

Nebraska won three out of four baseball games during vacation, two of which were practice games. The Cornhusker nine of '03 crowned itself with glory by tralling the colors of Manager Rourke's league colts in the dust for the first time in the history of the institution. The nearest they ever came to it before was last year, when the fast aggregation of '02 was defeated by Omaha in an eleven-inning game by the small score of 2 to 1.

This victory came as a great surprise to the University, and even to the men themselves. All indications pointed to different results, but 4 to 2 tells the tale. Under such conditions as these, however, teams, realizing that there is an extraordinary hard contest before them with a probable defeat, frequently put up the game of their lives and the other side being over confident—win as a consequence. This was exactly the state of affairs Monday. Every Nebraskan was on his toes and in the game from start to finish, and put up a sample of the real article. The team scarcely made an error, and every man was a star. The way they handled the wagon-tongue was superb. In spite of the wind and dust, Nebraska got eight clean hits and Omaha only six. Beltzer filled the box for Nebraska and proved worthy of his reputation. Hood was not in the game, Captain Townsend playing his position on third.

Nebraska made her scores in the second, third, and eighth innings; Omaha in the fourth and seventh. The score was a tie in the eighth inning, with Nebraska to the bat, and before the side was out Wilson and Steen crossed the home plate. In the first half of the ninth Omaha made a desperate effort to land on Beltzer's curves, but to no avail.

On Tuesday, Omaha, anxious for revenge, turned the tables by a score of 9 to 2. On their first turn at the bat they fell on the sphere in a fashion which netted them two runs before Nebraska fairly realized it. Nevertheless, Nebraska proved equal to the occasion, braced, and held them down until the seventh inning, when Omaha got them going again and ran in four scores in succession. Nebraska made her two points in the sixth inning. Wilson came home on a three-bagger by Bell, who followed suit on a sacrifice hit by Shelmer. Each team made a three-bagger. Omaha got one two-base hit, and Nebraska two.

Longanecker pitched a good game for the University until the seventh inning, when an error on his part let in a score and a balk gave a man his base. Then Rhubesky was put in, and threw his arm out. They batted him right and left, and got in the way of one of his balls when the bases were full and forced a man in. He was forced to withdraw in favor of Morse. There were two outs when Morse went in and one throw ended in a third and the pitching for Nebraska was finished. Bender put up an excellent game behind the bat, Wilson handled grounders and reached first in a speedy fashion, heading off several Omaha runners. Townsend, until Hood arrived in the seventh inning, proved that he could play third as well as second. Steen held down the half-way base in good shape and made several nice catches. "Old Timer" Bell, although not having touched a ball this season, covered left field and wielded the stick in the usual way.

On last Thursday Nebraska defeated the local Farmers and Merchants team by a score of 13 to 5. Of course this was the first time the city nine had lined up. Nevertheless, it was composed of the men who made a reputation last year on this team and put up a good game. It was chiefly a pitchers' game. For Nebraska, Longanecker fanned nine men in seven innings. Townsend fanned three men in two innings and threw one goose egg. Fox and Tobey of the F. and M. team fanned nine men and let four walk. Bender made a home run and was credited with four points, Steen and Wilson with two, Townsend, Longanecker, Beltzer and Fetz one each.

The game with Cotner University Friday resulted in a score of 10 to 2 in favor of the 'varsity. This game was never in doubt at any time and the University led throughout. Nearly every man participated in the scoring and Longman and Shuman made the two points for the visitors. Shuman, who twirled the sphere for Cotner, had great speed, but lacked control and permitted the 'varsity men to walk frequently.

During vacation two additions were made to the 'varsity baseball squad. James Bell, captain of last year's team, reported for practice and played in the game with Omaha Tuesday, where he did some star batting and fielding. Every University enthusiast will rejoice to see him in his old position at left field. The other man is a short-stop in the person of R. Fetz, who, it is understood, has made a reputation on various minor teams. He entered the law school recently, where he will take the fourth term of law in connection with his athletics. While he has not as yet shown up in very fine trim, it is thought that he will make a good man.
