MISSOURI THE NEXT.

Nebraska Debaters Preparing to "Show" the Southerners.

From present indications the Nebraska-Missouri debate to be held May 1st will call forth a larger attendance than any debate ever held at this institution. This will be the only opportunity this year for Nebraskans to turn out and see what their representatives can do. Interest in debate has developed considerably during the past two years, and more enthusiasm has been manifested this year than ever before.

The selection of the third judge has been under consideration during this week and will probably be definitely settled upon this morning.

The pictures of three men who will seek to put an end to Nebraska successive triumphs in intellectual contests have arrived. The members of the team are experienced debaters and will certainly put up a strong fight.

Mr. E. F. Nelson, the leader of the team, has been a leader in the inter-society contests during the past two years. He has repeatedly represented the "New Era Debating Club" and is now president of that club. Mr. Nelson is a junior in the college and in the law school.

Mr. W. C. Nardin, the second speaker, was the leader of the 1901 team that defeated Nebraska. He is editor-in-chief of the Missouri Independent. He is specializing in political economy and is a member of the American Economic association.

Mr. F. C. Donnell, the third speaker, has represented the M. S. U. club in joint debates and is president of that organization. He was a member of the team that met Nebraska last year.

The support accorded Nebraska debaters has not been unnoticed by other states. Last week's Missouri Independent, in urging the students to support their teams and attend the Kansas debate, mention the big reception our victorious team received last year on their return from Missouri. With the interest that is being aroused, we ought to set the Missourians a shining example this year.

The junior-senior joint reception, which was originally set for May 1st, has been postponed in order not to interfere with the Nebraska-Missouri debate. A party of debaters from the Omaha high school are coming down to hear the debate. They are anxious to see "how it is done."

Palladians at Crete.

The Palladian club debated with the Alpha Omega club at Crete Friday night, and report an enjoyable time. They left here at 5 p. m. and were met at the depot at Crete by a committee who treated them royally till they left the next morning at 9.

The teams put up good debates, save for the fact that they had a tendency to discuss whether trusts were an evil, rather than whether a removal of the tariff would remedy the evil.

Palladian debaters were John Clark, John Brady and Ernest F. Monroe. All are warm in their praises of Alpha Omega hospitality. Before leaving, the boys had a chance to see Crete and some of its surroundings.

Saturday night the P. B. D. C. will debate the question, "Resolved, That lawyers are not beneficial to mankind." Affirmative: John Clark, G. Hamilton. Negative: Neilson, Le Groh.

Sombrero Out Soon.

The Sombrero board is at last able to report that the Sombrero will be out about the 4th of May. It is practically all printed, the last forms being now on the press; and as soon as it can be bound, will be put on sale. Although it was expected that the book would be out in April, the slowness of students in getting their pictures taken and in handing in material to the board has postponed the day of publication.

The Sombrero this year will contain a larger number of pages than ever before and the larger part of this is devoted to serious matters. The junior cuts and biographies cover fifty pages, whereas in former annuals they only took up ten pages. The book is dedicated to the football team and the cuts of team and players, which are found in the athletic department, are well worth the price of the whole book. The military department is represented by a larger number of pages and a larger number of cuts than ever before. Each society and fraternity is given from two to four pages. There is no organization or university interest that is neglected.

Although the literary department is necessarily short, it is very interesting, containing as it does the productions of some of the best story writers and poets of the University. The "josh" department covers forty-five pages, thickly illustrated with drawings by Powell, Hansen, Severin and Miss Branson.

On the outside, too, the book is very attractive. It is bound in scarlet with a large cream cowboy stamped in the cloth. The cover measures eleven inches by eight and three-quarters.

The board wish to extend thanks to the many friends who have assisted in the production of the book.

Agricultural Commencement.

The School of Agriculture will close a very successful term next Friday. Graduation exercises, the first in the history of the school, will be held in the old chapel of the University Friday evening. Professor Curtis, director of the Iowa experiment station, will deliver the address, entitled "Modern Training for Agriculture." After this, certificates of graduation will be given members of the class, which numbers ten. Everybody invited.

Sophs in Evidence.

On May 2nd the much talked of sophomore party will take place. The committee has made arrangements with Mr. Fee to get the chapel and armory for the event. For the first time in the history of these parties the chapel will be used for a game room, leaving the whole of the armory for dancing.

Elaborate decorations have been planned and there will be plenty of amusement for everyone. This party will eclipse all others previously given or any that are to come. If anyone doubts this statement, let him come and see for himself. The sophomores extend a cordial invitation to every one, from the freshmen to the seniors. Tickets are now on sale for the small sum of 75 cents. The committee for the party is as follows: H. K. Lehmer, chairman; Ray Gould, master of ceremonies; Adolph Wellensiek, Misses Loraine Comstock, Agnes Casebeer, Ruth Willson.

Of no less importance to this class is the coming sophomore day at chapel—April 29th. This will need no advertisement, for the following program will speak for itself:

Organ Solo.....Edith Shedd
Reading.....Edith Whittier
Contralto Solo.....Ruth Bryan
Quartette.....Sophomores
Pearl Archibald and Ruth Willson compose the program committee.

An Alumni Call.

To All Alumni and Alumnae of the University.

The committee of arrangement for the memorial for Ellen Smith is asking all alumni and alumnae to send a paragraph in the way of a tribute to the memory of Ellen Smith, for many years one of the most faithful of University officers. It is hoped that from these many selections may be made for publication in a "memorial volume." All manuscripts will be arranged afterward in a volume to be deposited in the historical society.

A full attendance at the memorial service on Friday, April 24, from 10 to 11 a. m., in Memorial hall, is desired.

CHARLES E. BESSEY,
Chairman of Committee.

Wesleyan Tournament.

Wesleyan girls will have basket-ball tournament Friday night in the Wesleyan gymnasium. There will be four teams on the floor: Tecumseh high school, Lincoln Academy, the Lincoln Y. W. C. A., and Wesleyan. Lincoln Academy plays the Y. W. C. A.; Wesleyan plays Tecumseh; then winners will play winners and losers will play losers. Wesleyan has a very strong team for the short time they have been in practice. They won their first victory last Saturday over David City, the score being 13 to 10. A 25c admission fee will be charged.

PHI GAMS JOYFUL.

Lambast the Sigma Chis 18 to 4. Laws Hold the Uni Down.

The first game of the inter-fraternity series for this year was played yesterday on Nebraska field, amid outbursts of enthusiasm sufficient to arouse the whole neighborhood. Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Chi were the opposing fraternities, and nearly as much play was done vocally from the side lines as on the diamond. McGeachin and Parker officiated as battery for the victors, and Gould and Burg for the vanquished. Both teams showed lack of practice, with Sigma Chi excelling in that deficiency. Both will later meet other teams representing the remaining fraternities, and will probably reflect greater credit upon themselves and their grandstand enthusiasts by a specimen of ball more nearly resembling the real article. The Betas and Sigma Chis will play the second of the series this afternoon.

The lawyers upheld their reputation on the diamond yesterday afternoon and held the 'varsity down to thirteen scores, after six innings of fast and spectacular playing. The laws were in their best form and played a winning game from start to finish. Townsend and Hood, the star hitters on the 'varsity side, fell before the mighty arm of Sampson, the twirler for the laws, and retired from the plate after the fatal third strike had been called.

There was nothing doing on either side during the first inning. Willhite and Wright went out on grounders that Hood and Fetz had no trouble in striking over to second, and Everett fanned. The 'varsity repeated the operation and in the second, Wilson went out on a fly to left field. Steen walked to first, and Shelmer made his first base because the man on second fumbled. A passed ball brought in Steen and placed Shelmer on second and Johnson on first. Whitcomb knocked a two-bagger and the three men scored. Townsend scored in the next inning, and in the last, eight more men crossed the home plate. Longanaecker, who occupied the box for the "colts," was easily hit, but had good support and none of the laws could get farther than third. Three men were struck out. Whitcomb played behind the bat until Bender arrived. Gore held down left field in the absence of Bell. Otherwise the men played the same positions as formerly.

Now that the first baseball team is made up, the second nine will have something to do besides continually lining up against the 'varsity. On Friday and Saturday, when the first team meets the Nebraska Indians on the home grounds, the second team will make a trip to Clay Center, where they will meet the team of that place on Friday afternoon. The men will return Saturday. This will certainly encourage those who have failed to make the first team to continue practice. A trip of 162 miles is worth taking. Further, this game is not the only game which will be scheduled for the second team this year. Manager Eager has other contests in view for his "colts." Twelve men will make the trip Friday.
