FRIDAY, 3:30 P. M.

Last chance to see team before trip

Final Preparations.

Nebraska's last debate before the battle with Missouri tomorrow night in Memorial hall was held in the hall yesterday afternoon. Impersonating the Missourians, W. F. Meier and Burdette G. Lewis, of the Colorado team, assailed Cronin, Hunter and Ryner's case. At the end of the combat the two faculty members who watched the wheels go round expressed the opinion that, assuming that the decision is given on the merits of the debating, Missouri will have a desperate job to beat down the Nebraska case and the skill of the team in actual debate. The crowd will be treated to a rapid-fire conflict from the minute Hunter opens until Cronin winds up the final refutation. Students of the science and art of argumentation and debate; students of the trust problem, and all loyal supporters of the scarlet and cream should be out to help on the team keep here the championship of the middle west, won last year.

The Missouri team will reach Lincoln on the Burlington at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. They will be entertained at the Lindell.

Hon. W. J. Bryan returns from St. Louis today, and immediately after the final refutation speeches Friday night he will give an address on "The Value of Discussion." The University cadet band will entertain the crowd, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

Good Weather Hoped For.

The bad weather has interfered with track work to some extent, but it is hoped that the field will be in good condition for field day. Several of the candidates for places on the team did indoor work yesterday. Considerable interest is being manifested in the half mile interclass relay. Each class will be represented in this event by four runners and an exciting race is expected. All entries must be in the hands of the physical director by noon today.

Ministers Are Anxious.

(State Journal.)

The Ministerial association at its last meeting addressed the following communication to the board of regents:

Lincoln, Neb., April 13, 1903.—To the Board of Regents, University of Nebraska, Gentlemen: Inasmuch as the cadet corps of the University in camp at Nebraska City last year were put in uniform on Sunday morning and required to break said camp and prepare equipment for return to the city and were also required to travel to the city reaching it late in the same day, and,

Inasmuch as the students were thus required to work on Sunday and were thereby detained from public worship, and,

Inasmuch as this day is set apart for the worship of the Great Prince of Peace, and,

Inasmuch as such work and travel and the absence from public worship are detrimental to the spiritual welfare of the students, and,

Inasmuch as many students have been trained at home to keep this day holy by such worship, and,

Inasmuch as the calendar for this year announces the annual encampment at Wahoo, Neb., for the same days of the week as last year, therefore,

It is resolved, by the Ministers' association of the city of Lincoln,

First—That we greatly deplore this work and travel and absence from worship on Sunday.

Second—That we request the board of regents so to change the calendar that the students may break the camp and return to the city on some other day than Sunday.

Third—That the secretary of our association be instructed to forward copy of these resolutions to the secretary of the board of regents.

IT SELLS WELL.

Senior Class Book Sale Reached Good Mark Yesterday.

Yesterday's half-day sale of the Senior Annual attained the encouraging number of two hundred and twenty-five, despite the bad weather and the general disinclination to linger on the way to or from classes.

The question of raising the price was a serious one for the Annual committee. Representative members of the class were interviewed, as well as members of the faculty. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that even at 50 cents not to exceed 700 copies could be sold, owing to the fact that previous experience had shown that only a certain number of books would be taken, and a variation of a quarter in the price, either of increase or decrease, would not affect the sale one way or the other to exceed 150 copies. In the face of this opinion, there seemed to be nothing to do but place the price at 75 cents. The "pledges" at 50 cents were of course released when this decision was reached. For the first time a full 1,000 copies have been printed. The promise to the advertisers has been kept. Yesterday afternoon sales amounted to 225 copies. A determined effort will be made to canvass the entire University today, Friday and Saturday. There will be tables in the library, main building, mechanics hall, and science building. The aim is to sell 600 copies by Saturday evening. The book has met with hearty appreciation. That it excels its predecessors is admitted by all and the advance to 75 cents appears to have met with general approval.
