

College of Medicine

SENIORS

Those of our faculty who are attending the American Medical association meeting at New Orleans are: Drs. Jonas, Moore, McClanahan, and Gifford. Dr. Jonas is to deliver a lecture on "Surgery."

This week the Sombbrero made its appearance. It strikes us that the printing and engraving are below the average. This ought not to be so, especially since the junior class has been strengthened by the addition of the college of medicine. We hope, and have a right to expect, to see the quality of the work put upon the Sombbrero kept up to the standard.

Before another issue of The Nebraskan appears the first session of the college of medicine will have closed. It is with many regrets that we turn away from our alma mater and all the associations of college life that have become dear to us. We must work in other fields, but we shall carry with us always the principles which have been impressed upon us while here. To the lower classmen, the pioneer class of the college of medicine of the University of Nebraska extends best wishes for a prosperous future.

JUNIORS

Dr. Milroy gave the juniors an early morning quiz Thursday so to better prepare them for the final examination on physical diagnosis.

The juniors are thankful that some of their examinations have been given, as they will now have more time to prepare for the exams to follow next week.

The last few quizzes in the junior class have brought out some new and very important synonyms and symptoms, namely: Uteritis, by Campbell, and atonic convulsions in testis, by Nelson.

The general understanding seemed to be that the Sombbrero board members were to include at least one member of the junior class. The board has been chosen or elected and our class was left out entirely. One would naturally think that as our class was the only one represented from the medical department, we should at least be represented on the Sombbrero board by one member of the class. The Sombbrero made its appearance at the college Wednesday morning and all seemed to be well satisfied with their faces. It will go out to the public as an advance agent to notify the people what they are liable to come in contact with a year hence, to administer to their aches and pains. The write-ups were very good and seemed to fit nearly all they were meant for. Evidently the composers have had years of experience in getting items for "Vanity Fair" or some other widely known paper.

SOMBBRERO EXPLAINS

The editor of the Sombbrero wishes to take this means of apologizing to the Omaha juniors for his neglect in omitting the name of J. T. Orr from the list of members of the Sombbrero board. Mr. Orr has certainly edited his department in a creditable manner and it is a matter of regret that his name does not appear with those of the other editors.

The Sombbrero board has certainly every reason to thank the medics for the interest they have shown. Mr. Allen, who was in Omaha Wednesday, reports a large sale of books and is enthusiastic in his praise of the Omaha men. It is such men who make a college annual a success.

SOPHOMORES

A. H. Kerrinston visited the sophs during pathology lab work Tuesday.

Examinations begin in earnest Monday. The gang is plugging night and day, for the day of reckoning cometh apace.

The class picture, by Dempster, appeared Wednesday. Considering the gang, the circumstances under which it was taken, and the stirring events of an hour before, we must say it is good.

The annual class election occurred Wednesday afternoon and resulted in the election of the following officers for the ensuing year: B. A. Adams, president; C. I. Wainwright, vice-president; C. R. Kennedy, secretary; A. C. Rumsey, treasurer; C. W. Mason will represent the class in the Pulse.

The class of '05 will scatter about as follows for the summer: Arbogast will chose the frisky plow on dad's farm near Bartley, Neb.; Anderson will entertain all comers at Schmidt's drug store in the city; Adams will be at home, Hazel, S. D.; Miss Bushnell will do private nursing in the central part of the state; Baker will go to Tilden, Neb.; Dolfear will inhabit a ranch in Wyoming, as will Empey; Garland will pound a W. U. key at Harlan, Ia.; Helne will be in the drug business in Omaha; Holm will go to Wolbach, Neb., and later to Wyoming; Johnson will farm near Talmage, Neb.; Jeffers will lay stone at Valentine, Neb.; Kennedy will work in a drug store at Plattsmouth; Lane will work for Uncle Sam; Lanzer will farm near Hutchinson, Minn.; Morris at Ronges, Wyo., on a ranch; Mason will go to Trinidad, Colo., and do "just like Teddy did;" McDonald will lay brick at Pierce, Neb.; Morrison will stay with the doctor at Bradshaw, Neb.; Miller will hunt and fish mid the wilds of Lake Andes, S. S.; Potter will work in a store at Weeping Water; Peterson will stay in town; Rummery will canvass about Bancroft, Neb.; Smith will sell shoes for the St. Louis Shoe company, South Omaha; Swoboda will be in the drug store at Thirteenth and Williams streets; Thompson will be at Audobon, Ia.; Wigton will be in the city; Wainwright will be "on the island" near Gretna, Neb.; Walsh at Glenwood, Ia.

The soph reporter wishes to say in closing that he has reported things as he saw, heard, or imagined them, with partiality toward none and criticisms for all, but always without malice or intentions to hurt anyone's feelings, and if we have said anything we are sorry for, we are glad of it. With this broad and sweeping apology for being alive, we bid the readers of the soph notes farewell.

The following is a Latin translation of Goethe's "Uber Allen Gipfel ist Ruh":

Omnes silvas, montes Tegit atra nox.
frondes, nec non fontes
tacent; — nula vox —
Aves somno levi
captae sunt diu,
cheu, cheu — brevi
dormites et tu!
