Walter F. Meier went to Omaha yesterday on a business trip.

Charles Tulleys visited over Sunday at his home in Council Bluffs.

Professor A. L. Haecker has gone to Pine Ridge to do institute work.

Mrs. Hall Minor, of Hastings, visited with her sister, Miss Leota Lapp, yesterday.

Clarence M. Beard, ex-'05, who has been on the road during the past year, is calling on University friends.

Miss Margaret Contryman, mid-year '03, orders her Nebraskan changed from Plattsmouth to Weeping Water.

Owing to the pressure of work Professor Emerson will be unable to meet his classes in horticulture today.

Thomas E. Johnston has been appointed instructor in sciences for the coming year in the schools at Winton, Iowa.

A. C. Horn, '02, who has been doing special chemistry work at the state farm, left for his home at Grand Island yesterday.

Dr. A. T. Peters is in attendance upon the meeting of the Live Stock association at Alliance this week. He is to be one of the speakers.

The medical students, accompanied by Dr. Wolcott and Dean Ward, will go to Omaha this evening to attend the commencement exercises there of this year's graduates of the University college of medicine.

Professor Barbour and ex-Regent Morrill returned from Colorado yesterday morning. They report a good trip, and express themselves very favorably on the appearance of Colorado and its possibilities.

C. H. Larsen, '02, who has been doing railroad construction work in Louisiana, visited in the city during the fore part of the week. He expects to locate at Council Bluffs, where he will work in the interests of the Kansas City & Southern railroad.

The Engineering society held its regular meeting last evening, when a very interesting student program was given. L. W. Chase gave an interesting talk on the history and future of the gas engine. Norton Ware followed with the history, aims, and benefits of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

The girls in domestic science have been working with fowls the past week. The preparation for roasting and stewing is studied, as well as the cooking itself, to give best flavors and make the meat most palatable. Owing to the great value of this kind of meat, great stress is laid on economic cooking, not only in the department, but in preparation of fowls for the table in general.

Evening News: Several of the departments at the University have run into a peck of trouble lately, which has led in some cases to a serious crippling of the work in their lines. The appropriation made by the legislature of two years ago has run out and they now have no money with which to pay their readers and assistants. In the chemistry department the professor has to do his own laboratory work for the first time in seventeen years and in the English and history department many of the readers have been discharged. The appropriation made by the last legislature does not become available until next fall.

$3.00 commutation ticket for $2.70 at the Merchants' Cafe, 117 No. 13th St. Students are cordially invited.

the farm according to stakes set, approximately, under the direction of the committee. The building committee submitted general designs for the new dairy barn and judging pavillion which were approved and the committee was authorized to proceed with the perfection of the plan and the procuring of bids for construction.

The special committee on the matter of matriculation fees made a report, which was approved, to the effect that the matriculation of students should be a college affair, and that when a student changes membership from one college to another an additional matriculation fee should be paid.

It was ordered that Regents Forell and Calkins and Dean Burnett constitute a committee to report upon a location for the new experimental substation in the western part of the state.

The report of the special committee upon the general revision of schedules of laboratory and other fees was received and adopted.

The special committee upon military requirements submitted a report which was approved, recommending that the chancellor be authorized to correspond with the secretary of war and, if possible, secure his approval of the plan suggested in the recommendation of the faculties to the board at its April meeting for the reduction in the number of hours of weekly drill and the continuation of drill for four semesters instead of three.

Provision was made for the use of the opera house for the senior class play. It was ordered that it be the policy of the board hereafter to not subsidize student publications, the class play and the University concert.

Mr. H. C. Shedd, having been offered the position of assistant secretary to the Nebraska state commission to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and desiring to accept the same, was granted a leave of absence without salary from May 15, 1903, to September 1, 1904, upon condition that he present and give direction to the work of his office during registration period. The first assistant, Mr. E. H. Clark, will be in charge of the registrar's office during Mr. Shedd's absence.

The request of Dean Ward for a leave of absence was referred to a committee consisting of Regent Ernst, with power to act.

The special committee in the matter of the conservatory of music made report which was approved, recommending, in substance, that the temporary agreement heretofore entered into between the school of music and the University for the quarter ending June 30, 1903, be in part continued for the year ending June 30, 1904, omitting provisions relating to directorship of music for the University and salary. That the School of Music have the use of the University organ for instructional purposes, but not control of the same. That Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond be University organist and choir trainer, and Mr. August Hagenow band leader, for the next year.

The board adjourned to meet this afternoon in Omaha, and to attend the Medical College commencement.
