Campus Gleanings

The enrollment of students in first year mathematics is exceptionally large this year.

Mechanical drawing sets, approved grade, $9.50. Samuel Hall, The Yellow Front, 1123 O St.

Remember the Delian reception to new students this evening in Delian hall, first floor of the main building.

Sergeant Beers of the cadet battalion has been transferred from Co. B to hold the office of first lieutenant in Co. D.

During the summer the south wall of the west wing of Nebraska Hall was torn down and rebuilt, as it was found to be unsafe.

Miss Pearl Archibald has been elected principal of schools in Tinton, S. D., and will leave at once to take up her new work.

Russel Harris has been laid up for a few days with a troublesome affliction of the foot and has not been able to attend his classes.

James Woodward, of Aurora, has registered in the medical department. There will be a special musical program at Convocation this morning.

Owing to the overcrowded condition of the geology lecture room Chancellor Andrews has given directions that the new chapel be prepared for lecturers who have occasion to use the projecting lantern.

The Palladian Literary Society will be at home tonight in Palladian hall to all new students and friends. Palladian hall is at the east end of the third floor of the main building. All new students are invited to come and bring their friends.

During the past ten days a good many tons of material have been received in the state museum and have been placed in boxes and removed to a fire-proof room in the armory for safe keeping. This work of packing and removing specimens will be continued by E. G. Woodruth.

It is hoped that the Y. W. C. A. Bible study rally, to be held next Sunday in Delian Hall, will arouse a great degree of enthusiasm in the Bible study work. There will be a two minutes talk by each of the leaders of the Bible classes and a short talk by Miss Withers. There will be special music and a good song service. Let every girl in the University come and make it the best rally of the season.

Professor Caldwell requests The Nebraskan to announce that his class in current events, meeting Thursday afternoons from 5 to 6, is open to students who wish to attend, but do not wish to work for credit. Those taking advantage of this privilege may attend the sessions of the class and take part in the discussion if they wish, but will be given no formal work or credit. The announcement is made in response to numerous questions which have reached the department.

Ten boxes of geological material consisting of fossils, rocks, crystals and ores, were received from Nampa, Idaho, this week. They were consigned by Prof. John P. Davis. The collection was prepared by his aunt while she was an assistant under Dr. Alexander Winchell of the University of Michigan, much of the material having been collected by his own hands. Everything is carefully labelled and catalogued, and out of friendship for the University of Nebraska Mr. Davis sends the collection here as a gift.

W. Q. Mouck met with an accident yesterday afternoon while in a football scrimmage, sustaining quite a severe ankle sprain. He was playing with the scrubs and in one of the plays he was buried beneath a heap of players and his ankle violently wrenched. For the time being his injury was very painful and he was borne from the field in a dazed condition. The services of one of the team physicians who happened to be on the grounds were made use of and he was taken to his room at 510 North 14th street. He does not expect to be laid up, as he is able to navigate about, but it will probably be some time before he will show up for practice again.
