ARE ALL ON EDGE

Team Is in Good Shape for this Afternoon's Game.

The practice last night being the last one before the game, was short and light. After a few preliminaries in punting, the team was lined up for a short and snappy signal practice, which was all the work that was given them.

The men are in excellent condition with the exception of two. Bender is nursing a sprained ankle, but the injury is rapidly improving and he will be in the game today, for a while at least, until the metal of the opponents has been tested.

Cotton is having trouble with a bruised side, but will also be in the game today. He has been giving it all the necessary care during the week and it is hoped he will not be hampered with it tomorrow.

Although, as has been before stated, nothing definite regarding the South Dakota team is known, still a general feeling of hopefulness and assurance pervades the atmosphere. The boys all feel that they are capable of handling the northerners, but expect and hope for a good game.

The South Dakota team stayed over night in Omaha and will arrive in Lincoln about 10 o'clock this morning.

"They say they are big." "They say they are speedy." But as some one very aptly said: "They say too much." But we know that there is an essence of truth in what "they say," and that the visiting team is composed of no pigmies.

We need you out today. This means "YOU." The team needs all the support it can have from the student body. There are to be two rooting squads and be sure and see that your name is on the list of one of them. These squads are to be given the choice of seats on the east bleachers, in the very center of the field, so that there will be no doubt that they will all see the game. No one will be allowed a place in either of these squads who has not a megaphone. What is wanted is noise, concentrated, directed and "all-together" noise. There is nothing which adds more to the enthusiasm of a game or gives more encouragement to the players than a good, systematic rooting squad. Come out and help.

The scrubs were lined up for practice last night after the Varsity had left the field.

Booth, Drain, Crandall and Westover former the opposing force and gave the boys all they wanted. It was excellent practice for the team, as it gave them an idea of what the Varsity will do to them after these coaches have whipped them into the form they had last year.

The second team is the strongest that has ever been produced. This argues well for a next year's team and also for substitutes for the first team this year.

One of the features of the early part of the practice last night was the punting of Benedict and Bell. These men need no introduction to the football lovers of the University. Both have made enviable reputations for themselves in the punting line and it is safe to say the team will not find any opponents who will out-class them in this line.

We regret that we can not publish the line-up for South Dakota but we were unable to secure it. Come out this afternoon and see the men for yourselves and bring Ringer with you.

Y. M. C. A. Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night from 7 to 8 in honor of Mr. Will Lockwood of Omaha, who is on his way to Shanghai, China, where he is to be secretary of the city association. Burdette Lewis opened the meeting, stating there were a few vacancies in the Y. M. C. A. cabinet which might be filled at this meeting. Mr. Borg representing the nominating committee proposed the name of Prof. Stuff for a member of the advisory board; J. C. Moore, recording secretary, and L. C. Zoock, treasurer, all of whom were elected by unanimous vote.

Mr. Lewis then introduced Mr. Lockwood, who gave a very earnest talk, calling attention to the greatness of the work represented by the association and the World's Student Christian federation, and to the far greater field for work in the Orient. To be a worker in this movement should be regarded as a privilege and an honor, and whatever a man's vocation in the future he can always feel he has had a part in a movement which merits the best support a man can give. He would have men consider earnestly the opportunity for work in this field. L. P. Bailey, the state general secretary, Chancellor Andrews and Dean Ringer were called on and each gave a short talk, emphasizing what Mr. Lockwood had said in regard to the Christian movement in foreign lands. The meeting was full of spirit and interest clear through. The matter of the $1,000 budget was taken up and from all indications it appears will be entirely wiped off the books this year. Chancellor Andrews called special attention to the well organized condition of the association this year and its bright future in the new Temple Building. The meeting closed promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mr. H. W. Quaintance is now at the head of the business education department of the Lincoln High School. Since leaving here he has studied at Chicago and Wisconsin Universities, and was for one year connected with the department of statistics at Washington. Mr. Quaintance has completed his doctor's thesis, "The Influence of Farm Machinery," and will soon take his examinations for his Ph. D. at Wisconsin University.

The art department has received some plaster casts of famous statuary from Germany. Among them is a reproduction of "The Discus Hurler."

The class in sugar chemistry, under Professor Nicholson, will start on their semester's work Monday next.

The students in American history 3 report a scarcity of reference books on the library shelves. In some instances where there were two and three books on one subject last year, only one remains now.

Griffie Jay, who attended the University in 1901 and 1902, has received much commendation for his sketching at the Chicago Art Institute, where he has been studying art for the past two years.

Mr. V. A. Harvey, who has been employed in the weather department, is to resign the first of November. Mr. O. D. Stuart will fill the vacancy.

Juniors meet in new chapel, Monday, Oct. 5, at 10 a. m. Election of officers.

Battalion Notes.

The encampment at Fort Riley, Kas., this month, will be of more than passing interest to the cadet battalion from the fact that some of its members may have to participate. We understand that Ray Dwyer and B. J. Richards of Company D, and several others are members of the 1st Nebraska National Guard, which will be a part of the third brigade under the command of General Barry. 10,000 regulars and 5,000 state troops will take part in the encampment, which will begin October 15 and close the 27th.

Word has been received from former Major Hall, of the battalion, who is now a cadet at West Point attending the national military academy. Major Hall reports a gratifying measure of success in his work and expresses himself delighted with a academy as a whole.

Classes in military tactics met for the first time last night. First and second semester classes are conducted as they were last year. Third semester men are under the direct charge of Captain Chase, who will conduct a series of lectures, instead of using texts.

The permanent rolls of the battalion have been made out. The battalion is at present larger than ever before, numbering 498 men, in addition to the band, which numbers 41 pieces.

Guard mount will commence the middle of next month. One small guard of old men will be formed each evening until the routine has been more firmly established.

The non-commissioned officers of the battalion who have not been appointed already will be announced early next week.

Mathematical Seminar.

The mathematical seminar meets the first Saturday of each month during the school year at 7:30 in room M. 302.

The following is the program for the meeting of October 3:

1. Correlation of mathematics and physics in secondary schools. (Presented at the Chicago meeting of science teachers, March, 1903.) Miss Edith Long.
  2. Notes on the construction of Polyhedra. Miss Laura Puffer.
  3. Pearson's "Organic Correlation of Characteristics not quantitatively measurable." Dr. C. C. Engberg.
- ROBT. E. MORITZ, Secy.

State Historical Society Meeting

A meeting of the State Historical association will take place here January 12 and 13. The meeting is to be almost entirely devoted to the constitutional conventions of this state in 1866, 1871 and 1875, and purports to be of great interest.

The second year gym classes for ladies will commence Monday. The first year classes have not begun, actual work being delayed owing to the lack of suits.

WANTED—A student to work one hour in morning and one hour in afternoon. Apply to business manager between 9 and 11:30 a. m. at Nebraskan

Lincoln Local Express. Tel. 787.

A CLASS HISTORY

Material Being Compiled for a Useful Work.

J. A. Barrett, of the Historical society is now engaged in gathering and classifying a mass of material from which he hopes to evolve a class history dating back to 1876, and perhaps previous to that date. The society has in its possession an immense amount of material in the way of photographs, programs, invitations, relics, and many other articles of interest. In addition to this it has access to a large collection owned by Miss Ellen Smith, late registrar, which is not only complete, but has been taken care of and is in excellent condition.

Mr. Barrett is secretary of the Alumni Association, and has been interested in this matter for some time. During the summer, with the assistance of Miss Bullock he classified Miss Smith's entire collection.

Both sets of material are arranged in pamphlet holders, one being labelled: "Class History," and the other, "The Ellen Smith Collection," and both are dated from '76 to '03.

Mr. Barrett says that only a beginning has been made and that the work is yet in its infancy. The possibilities afforded are great and there are many from which material may be drawn.

It is proposed to contribute something toward this collection in this way the history may be made comprehensive and complete and at the same time be kept up to date. The class history will be kept in the fire-proof vault, and being augmented year by year, will furnish valuable reference material for many years to come.

Conservatory Notes.

Twenty-five young women room at the Conservatory this year.

Mr. Carder is the new secretary of the College of Music.

Mrs. Raymond is now at the head of the vocal department of the conservatory.

Mr. Kimball, of the College of Music, went to Chicago last Monday. He will return Monday.

Miss Perkins, sister-in-law of Mr. Kimball, left last week on account of sickness. She was a teacher in instrumental music at the conservatory.

The following musical program was given in chapel yesterday morning: Chorus, "Departure," Mendelssohn. Recital by Miss Fiske, "Summer Rain," Milleby; "Layonara," Bartlett; "Biesese Song," Foote; "Irish Love Song," Lang; "The Sovereignty of God."

A reception to students will be given at the residence of Governor Mickey, 15th and H streets, Tuesday night, October 6th. It will be given under the auspices of the Epworth league of the St. Paul's church. A cordial invitation is extended.

Tonight Prof. and Mrs. Hodgman will give a reception at the Academy. The faculty and heads of departments of the University and the Lincoln Medical College and the parents of Lincoln students will be entertained from 8 to 9 and the Academy students from 10 to 10:30.

For years we have been telling young men that our store was "a good place to buy good clothes." We have a large patronage among young men who dress well.—The B. L. Paine Clothing Store.
