WIN EASY VICTORY

Colorado Unable to Cope With Nebraska's Heavy Team.

Tehe! Tehe!
Tehe! Ha-ha!
Ha! Ha!
Colorado!

With the field in elegant shape, smooth as a board and not too hard before a large and clamorous throng, the husky, mysterious, much-talked-of Colorado team went down to crushing defeat before the mighty attack of the whirl-wind team of Nebraska.

When the final day of reckoning came Colorado faced a blank and Nebraska had 31 points on her slate. Colorado was simply out-played and out-classed at every point of the game. Only once did they make any showing when in possession of the ball and this was along towards the close of the first half when she managed to make her distance for several downs. This rally was short lived and was not repeated during the remainder of the game. Never at any time during the game was Nebraska's goal in danger. During the first ten minutes of play punts were freely exchanged, neither side having much the advantage, although Colorado was kicking with the wind.

The Nebraska team came on the field at 2:58 and took a short signal practice.

At four minutes past three the teams lined up. Colorado defended the south goal.

Bender kicked off for Nebraska at five minutes after three. The ball was down on Colorado's 15-yard line.

Colorado kicked on the first play. The ball for the next ten minutes see-sawed up and down the field from kicks by both teams.

Several fumbles were credited to each team, but were not costly. As a whole the game was remarkably free from this feature especially on Nebraska's side.

Nebraska got the ball on a fumble on Colorado's 35-yard line and then the work began.

Gaining steadily every down, the Nebraska team pushed the stubbornly fighting Colorado boys back towards their own goal.

Close formation was called on the 25-yard line and hammering the line first one side and then on the other and between times in the center, Nebraska sent Benedict over for the first touchdown, after thirteen minutes of play had elapsed. Goal failed.

One more touchdown was made during this half. Eager was the guilty man. Goal failed this time.

Several punts were exchanged and the half closed with the ball on Nebraska's 20-yard line in her possession.

The second half was a runaway for Nebraska.

In the first half the Colorado team had adopted tactics which were calculated to tire out their opponents. With a few exceptions every time Colorado got the ball she gave it to Nebraska by a kick and made Nebraska carry it down the field. However, their calculations went astray, for the Nebraska team came on the field in the second half seeming more fit for the fray than in the beginning.

She simply tore great holes in Colorado's line and made from 3 to 5 to 10 yards on every down.

Bender would add 15 and 18 yards with a quarterback run, and so they went down the field for a touchdown and steadily repeated the performance.

Eager is credited with another touchdown in this half, Marsh was pushed over for two and Glen Mason one.

The one great weakness of the team which was seen, was the lack of some one to kick goals, only one being kicked.

During the second half a great many changes were made in the Nebraska line-up.

Marsh replaced Eager, Fenlon, Wilson, Barto, Briggs, and Perry went into the line and near the end of the half Graves replaced G. Mason at full.

In spite of all these changes the swift pace of Nebraska never slackened, and the work at the very end of the game was just as speedy as at the beginning of the half.

Throughout it was an excellent exhibition of the real ability of the Nebraska team and makes the hearts of the supporters of the Scarlet and Cream throb with joy at the thought of the games with Knox and Illinois.

The officials were:
Umpire—Pixley of Omaha.
Referee—Thomas of Colorado.
Time of halves—30 minutes.

Regarding the excursion to Kansas:

Arrangements have been made for the $3.00 excursion provided 166 tickets can be sold.

Manager Buckner has placed the matter of registering for the excursion in the hands of Assistant Manager Morrison.

All who intend going to Kansas on this excursion will please give their names to Mr. Morrison as soon as possible in order that the necessary 166 names may be secured early and the excursion assured. Please keep this in mind and give the matter your early attention.

University Song Prizes.

Last year a prize of $100 was offered for a high type of University song. But in the judgment of the committee of award no song of efficient merit to gain the prize was submitted. Conditions seem favorable just now to bring out the genius which without doubt exists in our midst if the demand is great enough to call it forth. The Athletic Carnival, given by the faculty, next Saturday, seems to be the auspicious date and event. Again prizes are offered and if the amount is not equal to the sum offered last year, it is felt that the occasion will more than compensate. To the two persons who present the most original, unique and fitting poems or songs, rewards will be given. The only conditions attached are that the poems or songs must appear in The Nebraskan by Saturday and must be held adequate by the former committee, if it can be prevailed upon to act. Professors Sherman and Fossler, it is hoped, will set up all Friday night to give a decision that may be adequate to the time and circumstances. Mr. Bixby can have only one stunt, but all other competitors can have as many "goes" as they desire. Prizes named later.

Capt. Chase Back from Ft. Riley.

Captain Chase returned Saturday from a short visit at the encampment at Ft. Riley Kan., where he spent a short time last week as the guest of Governor Mickey.

The encampment is one of the largest ever held in time of peace in this country, and has furnished exceedingly valuable experience for the men of the University battalion who were in attendance. The men all enjoyed themselves very much. Captain Chase visited with Messrs. Severn, Richards, Kanzler and others who are members of the cadet battalion and also with ex-Captain Hertz of Co. C, and other officers of the Lincoln Light Infantry. The men were all impressed with the importance of the instruction they were receiving and expect to be greatly benefited thereby.

INFORMAL BALLOT

Freshmen Meet and Vote Informally and Adopt Constitution.

The Freshman class meeting passed off yesterday without a murmur of discord from elements raging without to disturb the serenity that prevailed. Assistant Superintendent Fee, together with a body of loyal Freshmen stood guard before the door, and by their threatening aspect precluded the desires of ambitious Sophs to enter the meeting and make themselves conspicuous. They succeeded quite easily in convincing those ineligible ones who may have had a desire to enter that the task would be a difficult one to accomplish.

The class assembled in U. 107, at the call of Chairman Scott. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with, and Chairman De Young of the constitution committee, was given a chance to place before the class the document that was to guide them in their future course. He supplemented the reading of the constitution with an address of a forcible and impressive character. He assured the class that the constitution was as far from the hands of the Sophs as the orb of Jupiter is from the earth—which is quite a long distance.

The constitution and by-laws were read amid desultory and emphatic applause, as the Freshmen heard with awe and respectful attention the outlining of the rules and regulations that were to govern their body, the names of the officers and the details of their various duties and many other important things that were incorporated into the substance of the revered and important document. After a few minor changes had been made it was moved and seconded that the constitution be adopted as drafted, and the class proceeded to the election of permanent officers.

First an informal ballot was taken. The names of the following candidates were presented before the meeting: Messrs. Grinnell, Sunderlin, Vorhees, Scott and Jones. As time was limited an informal ballot alone was taken. Following are the results: Grinnell 15, Sunderlin 21, Jones 21, Vorhees 16, and Scott about 75.

The class then adjourned and will meet again Monday to proceed with the election of officers.

New Athletic Rules.

A few rules have been adopted for the faculty baseball game, Oct. 31, that it is hoped may bring the game to an end before sundown. They follow:

1. Over the fence is out.
2. Caldwell can have only two "tries" at the ball.
3. Ward shall run the bases for Dean Sherman.
4. The "girls" shall not smile when Jones goes to the bat.
6. The chancellor shall declare the game ended when Frye hits the ball.

Other needed rules are under consideration.

Second Team Bests Peru.

The second team played the Peru Normal at Peru Saturday, defeating them by the close score of 6 to 0. The single touchdown was made in the last ten seconds of play by Craig, full-back. The two teams were matched about evenly and the scrubs are to be congratulated on the excellent work they showed in the game. Craig especially distinguished himself for quick, heavy work and made repeated gains through De Bray, Peru's big right guard.

Shallenberger sustained a severe wrench of his knee and is hobbling about today on crutches. Aside from this and a sprained ankle for Foster, the team returned in excellent condition.

The scrubs speak highly of the treatment accorded them, and the only objection that they had to make was to the playing of a man on the Peru team who was a graduate and actively engaged in teaching school. A noticeable feature of the game was the fact that the ball was never in Nebraska's territory at any time during the game. Drain tried for two place kicks—one from the 15- and the other from the 25-yard line. The first missed but a few inches. Those who made the trip were Shallenberger, Myers, Newton, Burns, Horseshouer, De Bey, Striker Laird, Foster, Craig and Drain. The team returned Sunday at 8:30 a. m.

IN HONOR OF JUDGE REESE.

Senior Laws Present a Cane as a Mark of Respect.

For some time there has been a general sentiment among the members of the Senior law class in favor of expressing to Hon. M. B. Reese the regard in which he is held by them. This culminated in a smoker given in his honor last Friday evening at the chapter house of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, at which he was presented with a gold headed cane. The cane bore the inscription, "Presented to Hon. M. B. Reese by the Senior law class of 1904, U. of N."

A large part of the class was present and everybody enjoyed the evening.

At an appointed time Mr. E. F. Snively, president of the class, called the meeting to order and stated that they had assembled for the purpose of meeting Judge Reese and recalling their associations with him as dean and instructor. That this had been considered a fitting occasion to present to him some token of the esteem in which he is held by the class. He introduced Mr. A. Z. Prescott, who presented the cane with a neat and pointed speech.

Mr. Prescott spoke of the impossibility of fully expressing on this occasion the depth of love and esteem entertained for Judge Reese by the members of the Senior law class. He said that Judge Reese in his career as an instructor in the law school had shown the instinct of the true teacher in bringing out the individuality of the student, and at the same time gave due weight and attention to scholarly attainments. As dean he had given the fullest care to the work of building up a progressive law school. That his example had been of immense influence in shaping that upright character so necessary to the truly successful lawyer. He concluded by saying that it was impossible for him to fitly express the esteem of the class, but that each member would do so on this occasion in his own way.

Then Judge Reese responded by saying that he could not begin to express the gratitude and appreciation he felt. Though a valuable cane he did not esteem the cane for its value as a staff upon which to lean, but because he could lean upon it with the recollection of those who had presented it. That he could esteem it as a tie, a bond of friendship that should bind him to the class. He declared that the ten years of his association with the law school had been the happiest period of his life and spoke feelingly of his relations to the class of 1904, leading up to the present occasion. He assured them that this cane should be his constant companion and that it should be a constant memento of the friendship of the donors.

A round of applause followed his speech and he then held an informal reception for the boys, as he called them, they crowding around and shaking his hand. About 10 o'clock the company dispersed and each one carried home with him inspiring memories.
